One person was taken to Northwest Medical Center following this accident late Wednesday night in Thief River Falls. Police received a report of the accident at Merriam and Mussey, an uncontrolled intersection, at 11:32 p.m. According to the accident report, Dale Redinger, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup south on Merriam and Samantha Joe Langston was driving a car west on Mussey when the vehicles collided. After the collision, the car driven by Langston went through a fence and over shrubbery owned by Gerald Naslund, Thief River Falls. Langston was taken by ambulance to the hospital with a sore neck and head. Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the vehicle driven by Redinger, $4,000 to the vehicle driven by Langston and $500 to property owned by Naslund. Redinger complained of sore knees. Thief River Falls police are still investigating the accident.

Home schools not unique

vestad said.

"It's more individualized to their needs and uniqueness," Kathy Waldorf said.

One question people ask, Waldorf said, is if parents are qualified to teach. "Teaching one on one has lots of advantages," Waldorf said. Tutoring one on one compensates for lack of qualifications, Waldorf said. "As a parent I know a child better than any other person would. Problems are not left unattended months at a time."

Heppner said when teaching her children she sometimes learns things she didn't know. "I'm excited about something and that excitement is passed on to the student," Heppner said.

"It (instructing) gets hairy at times. When it's bad for one or both of us we can get back to this later," Barb Chervestad said.

"It's not 'there's school and here's life,'" Miriam Heppner said. "Learning is all a part of life."

Chervestad, Waldorf and Heppner said misconceptions exist in the area of child socialization — that home-schooled children don't relate well with others.

"They don't live in an eggshell. They're not isolated from other kids their age," Barb Chervestad said. "The family ranks high in learning how to interact socially with other people."

"My children are in the real world," Miriam Heppner said. In settings such as classrooms, Heppner said, children are placed with children the same age and do not interact with other age groups.

Kathy Waldorf said that at home school support groups "older children naturally look after younger children. You don't see the peer dependency. There's a different camaraderie between age groups" Waldorf said.

Support Groups

"A difficult thing is the misunderstanding of family and friends of people who home school. That can cause hard feelings," Waldorf said. "Sometimes it's a genuine concern. Sometimes it's a fear of the unknown. It's the most hurtful problem."

Some people who have a tough time home educating find strength through support groups. The groups also serve as social gatherings and educational tools.

Most groups are divided into regions. Waldorfs are leaders of the Warren-area group with 15 active families. Heppners are leaders of the the Warroad-area group with about 35 families on their support list and the Chervestads are group leaders of the Oklee-area group with five families.

The Warren group hosts a large family meeting every other month. Children meet twice a month and mothers and fathers meet separately once each month.

The Warroad area groups meets at the Warroad community center once each month and hosts programs with different themes for the children, such as science or poetry.

Home school families are not restricted by boundaries to any support group and may attend any group they wish to attend.

Central Marshall committee meets

Central Marshall County Project Future Committee (CMCPFC) has rescheduled its May 11 meeting to Tuesday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the ITV room of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden.

The committee normally meets the second Tuesday of each month but the May meeting had to be moved forward due to scheduling conflicts.

Community engagement process was recently completed by the committee as CMCPFC members Ron Paggen and Susan Skadsem made the final presentation to students in grades nine through 12 at Marshall County Central on April 21.

"The students were very interested in participating and sharing their ideas about their community," stated Susan Skadsem, vice chairman of the committee. "Our young people showed a real concern for the community and indicated a strong desire to be involved with the planning and also willing to work to bring about positive change."

Skadsem also said that the students shared a strong desire for a youth center in Newfolden and shared their ideas on what the center should be like.

CMCPFC members have been talking to community groups in Newfolden, Holt and Viking during the community engagement process. Each group was asked to list the strengths and weaknesses of their community and come up with five things that can be done to improve it. All the ideas were then recorded and brought back to the committee.

Each idea was then assigned to one of the following categories: Youth/Education, Seniors, Economic Development, Public Services, Housing or Recreation. A report on each of the categories will be presented to the committee at the May 4 meeting and at a later town meeting, where action teams will be formed for each category.

The CMCPFC meetings are open to the public.

Governor carries "no-new-tax" message to TRF

Gov. Arne Carlson tells large crowd at Arctco, Inc., Thursday morning that "you can't grow jobs by raising taxes"

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Minnesota Governor Arne Carlson carried his budget message to the people of northwestern Minnesota Thursday, saying the state does not face a lack of revenues and emphasizing that it can live within its means.

And he let it be known that legislative efforts to raise taxes and increase spending will not be well received. He was asked during a morning meeting at Arctco, Inc., in Thief River Falls about his reaction to the agreement reached on taxes by a House and Senate conference committee on Wednesday and expected to be passed by both legislative bodies.

"That bill has four letters attached to it," the Governor said. "V, E, T and O." After a short pause to check the crowd's ability at spelling, he quipped: "Am I being too subtle?"

Gov. Carlson answered other questions as well, including one about a special election to fill the term of Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls, recently appointed state director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

He said he hadn't yet received a resignation (Rep. Sparby has said he would resign following the end of the legislative session) but that a special election would take place "within the normal parameters. There won't be any shenanigans," he said.

But before answering questions from the standing room only crowd in the Arctco conference room, he set forth the budget views he would also present later in the day at Roseau and Warroad. He flew into the Thief River Falls regional airport and traveled from there to Arctco, Roseau and Warroad by Carpenter Charter bus, flying out of the Warroad airport Thursday night.

> "I'm convinced that there is not enough money in this country to pay for the wants of government."
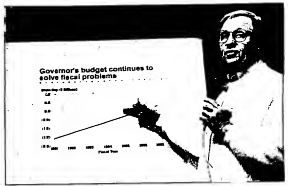
> — Gov. Arne Carlson

"I'm convinced," he said, "that there is not enough money in this country to pay for the wants of government."



Because government has an unlimited desire to spend, some choices have to be made, Gov. Carlson said, and there are two things his budget proposal does not allow—it doesn't allow the state to have a massive deficit and it doesn't allow more taxes.

"Three months ago, when I presented my no-new-tax budget proposal, most legislators praised our approach and they agreed that Minnesota could live within the projected growth in tax revenues of 10.4 per cent over the next two years," Gov. Carlson said. "But today, new tax proposals seen to be oozing out of every pore."

He said that many legislators have forgotten that working Minnesotans don't want a tax increase and have lost sight of the fact that Minnesota government does not need a tax increase.

After prefacing his budget comments by noting that the state has had "some pretty rocky years" in the immediate past, he said that the state's economic climate is gradually improving. It has dropped from sixth to eighth nationally in overall taxes and "Financial World" magazine this month ranks Minnesota third in the nation for responsible financial management.

Plans finalized for child care center

Clearbrook — The Children's Center North advisory board has announced that the Clearwater County Memorial Hospital and the city of Clearbrook Economic development corporation are finalizing their plans for the establishment of a child care center in Clearbrook. Plans are to purchase property downtown and for the hospital to organize operations of the center, which will care for children six weeks to 12 years of age, Monday through Friday, starting in September 1993. Good Samaritan comes to aid of mare giving birth

Bemidji — Cheryl Karns and her mother, Shirley Christensen, were making a rummage sale run last Saturday, traveling on Oak Hills Road SW, when Karns noticed what she thought was a dead horse lying in a field. They stopped and after about 10 minutes they could tell that the mare was in distress, trying to deliver a foal. They tried to contact the owner, who was not at home, so they found a neighbor and asked for help. Karns determined that it was a breech delivery, so she broke the birthing sack, put her hands inside and turned the foal's head around. The mare's owner, Steve Norvold arrived at home to find the little Appaloosa filly and the mare, Penny. The filly has been named Star Dust. Karns, who works at the Bemidji clinic, grew up on a farm, but had never helped deliver a farm animal until now. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Ground breaking held at Mount St. Benedict

Crookston — Ground breaking ceremonies for a new addition to Mount St. Benedict monastery in Crookston were held May 1. The new structure will include a nursing center for the care of sisters, a chapel and administrative offices. The Sisters of St. Benedict hope to continue to use the existing building until the summer of 1994. The original building, which was completed in 1923, has sustained severe damage due to shifting soil beneath its foundations. It was considered too costly to stabilize and repair the structure in view of declining needs. The new building will be entirely on ground level and about half the size of the one being replaced. Over 380 area students earn DARE awards

In separate ceremonies students from Thief River Falls and Goodridge graduated from the 17-week Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program last week.

Speaking to the 20 students graduating from the program in Goodridge Tuesday night, Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe commended the committment made by the students. He asked parents, relatives, the school and the entire community to provide the kind of support structure for these youths that will help lead to a drug and alcohol free society. Sheriff Moe also asked parents to open lines of communication with their sons or daughter. He urged them to talk with them about drug and alcohol and be understanding.

Speaking to the 364 students graduating from the DARE program in Thief River Falls Wednesday night at the Lincoln high school gym, Hubert (Skip) Humphrey III, Minnesota Attorney General, said with drug resistance education programs like DARE and others and the kind of instructors here (Thief River Falls) and support of the community, we will have a Drug Free America.

Pointing the fifth and sixth grade graduating students Humphrey asked rehtorically, how does this all come about? In his answer he stated that it comes from enthusiasm, team effort, teachers, parents, the schools, mentors, city council, school board, county boards, businesses and many others.

Humphrey congratulated all of the students and the community for a job well done.

DARE officers Sheriff's Deputy Ray Kuznia and Craig Mattson were praised by students and visitors for their hard work and dedication. Each student who completed the program received a certificate. A slide show during the graduation at Lincoln high school that brought laughs and reminded the students of the fun times they had during the program concluded the graduation ceremony.

Derosier creations suit clowns just fine

Costume sewn by Red Lake Falls woman featured on postage stamp honoring the circus

by Mark Olsoo
Staff Writer

Red, yellow and blue primary colors scream, shout and holler from the pages of Mary Derosier's photo albums. A chaos of plaid and polka dot patterns shock the eyes, making even the most loudly dressed tourist a whisper in comparison.

Derosier makes clown costumes. A resident of Red Lake Falls, she has created clown suits for eight years and now one of her creations — a red, blue and black plaid pattern suit with absurdly wide lapels, bright yellow buttons, bunched up sleeves and a polka dot bow tie — is displayed on every Post Office wall in America.

The Post Office recently issued four stamps commemorating 200 years of circus performances in the United States. Posters advertising the stamps contain four circus performers — one is Greg DeSanto, a clown at Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus and a Derosier customer.

The poster took Mary by surprise. Coincidentally, Derosier was shipping out another clown costume to DeSanto when she spotted the stamp advertisement. Now several relatives have orders to contact their local post office and collect the posters.

Derosier is a freelance clown seamstress now, but made most of her contacts at Clown College where she worked from 1985 to 1989. Clown College, in Venice FL, is run by Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

People from all walks of life go to the college for 12 weeks to learn the art of clowning, whether it's juggling, the infamous hot dog gag, or cramming into a Volkswagen beetle with 24 other clowns. "It's like stepping onto a different planet," Derosier said. Clown participants have ranged from an MIT graduate who studied metallurgy to a hospital administrator.

The college has five designers on staff. Derosier designed a few costumes, but usually patterned and cut the outfits.

"You can't just go in and get Simplicity Clown Pattern 8302," Derosier said and many times she needs to make her own fabric, sewing on spots and irregular stripes. Each clown at the college has a different, custom-built outfit and "Nobody wants to look the same as anyone else." The outfits vary and range from baggy pants to Scottish kilts.

The personalized clown costumes are known as "agent suits" and are used for publicity or personal appearances ("It's like their Sunday dress-up") If the clown signs with the circus, he or she also signs his or her costume and make-up. To change costume or makeup permission is needed from the Barnum and Bailey bigwigs.

Clowns also wear "gag costumes" and production number costumes. Production costumes can weigh as much as 40 pounds.

Derosier makes the suits to last. Clowns perform in up to 13 shows a week. Derosier estimated that a costume gets the amount of wear in one week that regular street wear clothes get in six months to a year. Derosier makes five suits a year for one clown. All of the costumes house an inner lining for durability and sweat absorption.

The costumes involve a lot of

One person was taken to Northwest Medical Center following this accident late Wednesday night in Thief River Falls. Police received a report of the accident at Merriam and Mussey, an uncontrolled intersection, at 11:32 p.m. According to the accident report, Dale Redinger, Thief River Falls, was driving a pickup south on Merriam and Samantha Joe Langston was driving a car west on Mussey when the vehicles collided. After the collision, the car driven by Langston went through a fence and over shrubbery owned by Gerald Naslund, Thief River Falls. Langston was taken by ambulance to the hospital with a sore neck and head. Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the vehicle driven by Redinger, $4,000 to the vehicle driven by Langston and $500 to property owned by Neslund. Redinger complained of sore knees. Thief River Falls police are still investigating the accident.

Home schools not unique

vestad said.

"It's more individualized to their needs and uniqueness," Kathy Waldorf said.

One question people ask, Waldorf said, is if parents are qualified to teach. "Teaching one on one has lots of advantages," Waldorf said. Tutoring one on one compensates for lack of qualifications, Waldorf said. "As a parent I know a child better than any other person would. Problems are not left unattended months at a time."

Heppner said when teaching her children she sometimes learns things she didn't know. "I'm excited about something and that excitement is passed on to the student," Heppner said.

"It (instructing) gets hairy at times. When it's bad for one or both of us we can get back to this later," Barb Chervestad said.

"It's not 'there's school and here's life,'" Miriam Heppner said. "Learning is all a part of life."

Chervestad, Waldorf and Heppner said misconceptions exist in the area of child socialization — that home-schooled children don't relate well with others.

"They don't live in an eggshell. They're not isolated from other kids their age," Barb Chervestad said. "The family ranks high in learning how to interact socially with other people."

"My children are in the real world," Miriam Heppner said. In settings such as classrooms, Heppner said, children are placed with children the same age and do not interact with other age groups.

Kathy Waldorf said that at home school support groups "older children naturally look after younger children. You don't see the peer dependency. There's a different camaraderie between age groups" Waldorf said.

Support Groups

"A difficult thing is the misunderstanding of family and friends of people who home school. That can cause hard feelings," Waldorf said. "Sometimes it's a genuine concern. Sometimes it's a fear of the unknown. It's the most hurtful problem."

Some people who have a tough time home educating find strength through support groups. The groups also serve as social gatherings and educational tools.

Most groups are divided into regions. Waldorfs are leaders of the Warren-area group with 15 active families, Heppners are leaders of the the Warroad-area group with about 35 families on their support list and the Chervestads are group leaders of the Oklee-area group with five families.

The Warren group hosts a large family meeting every other month. Children meet twice a month and mothers and fathers meet separately once each month.

The Warroad area groups meets at the Warroad community center once each month and hosts programs with different themes for the children, such as science or poetry.

Home school families are not restricted by boundaries to any support group and may attend any group they wish to attend.

Minnesota Governor Arne Carlson carried his budget message to the people of northwestern Minnesota Thursday, saying the state does not face a lack of revenues and emphasizing that it can live within its means.

And he let it be known that legislative efforts to raise taxes and increase spending will not be well received. He was asked during a morning meeting at Arctco, Inc., in Thief River Falls about his reaction to the agreement reached on taxes by a House and Senate conference committee on Wednesday and expected to be passed by both legislative bodies.

"That bill has four letters attached to it," the Governor said. "V, E, T and O." After a short pause to check the crowd's ability at spelling, he quipped: "Am I being too subtle?"

Gov. Carlson answered other questions as well, including one about a special election to fill the term of Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls, recently appointed state director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

He said he hadn't yet received a resignation (Rep. Sparby has said he would resign following the end of the legislative session) but that a special election would take place "within the normal parameters. There won't be any shenanigans," he said.

But before answering questions from the standing room only crowd in the Arctco conference room, he set forth the budget views he would also present later in the day at Roseau and Warroad. He flew into the Thief River Falls regional airport and traveled from there to Arctco, Roseau and Warroad by Carpenter Charter bus, flying out of the Warroad airport Thursday night.

> "I'm convinced that there is not enough money in this country to pay for the wants of government."
> — Gov. Arne Carlson

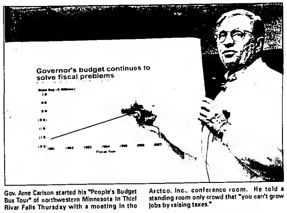
"I'm convinced," he said, "that there is not enough money in this country to pay for the wants of government."



Because government has an unlimited desire to spend, some choices have to be made, Gov. Carlson said, and there are two things his budget proposal does not allow—it doesn't allow the state to have a massive deficit and it doesn't allow more taxes.

"Three months ago, when I presented my no-new-tax budget proposal, most legislators praised our approach and they agreed that Minnesota could live within the projected growth in tax revenues of 10.4 per cent over the next two years," Gov. Carlson said. "But today, new tax proposals seem to be oozing out of every pore."

He said that many legislators have forgotten that working Minnesotans don't want a tax increase and have lost sight of the fact that Minnesota government does not need a tax increase.

After prefacing his budget comments by noting that the state has had "some pretty rocky years" in the immediate past, he said that the state's economic climate is gradually improving. It has dropped from sixth to eighth nationally in overall taxes and "Financial World" magazine this month ranks Minnesota third in the nation for responsible financial management.

Gov. Arne Carlson started his "People's Budget Bus Tour" of northwestern Minnesota in Thief River Falls Thursday with a meeting in the Arctco, Inc., conference room. He told a standing room only crowd that "you can't grow jobs by raising taxes."

Plans finalized for child care center

Clearbrook — The Children's Center North advisory board has announced that the Clearwater County Memorial hospital and the city of Clearbrook's economic development corporation are finalizing their plans for the establishment of a child care center in Clearbrook. Plans are to purchase property downtown and for the hospital to organize operations of the center, which will care for children six weeks to 12 years of age, Monday through Friday, starting in September 1993. Good Samaritan comes to aid of mare giving birth

Bemidji — Cheryl Karns and her mother, Shirley Christiansen, were making a rummage sale run last Saturday, traveling on Oak Hills Road SW, when Karns noticed what she thought was a dead horse lying in a field. They stopped and after about 10 minutes they could tell that the mare was in distress, trying to deliver a foal. They tried to contact the owner, who was not at home, so they found a neighbor and asked for help. Karns determined that it was a breech delivery, so she broke the birthing sack, put her hands inside and turned the foal's head around. The mare's owner, Steve Norvold arrived at home to find the little Appaloosa filly and the mare, Penny. The filly has been named Star Dust. Karns, who works at the Bemidji clinic, grew up on a farm, but had never helped deliver a farm animal until now. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Ground breaking held at Mount St. Benedict

Crookston — Ground breaking ceremonies for a new addition to Mount St. Benedict monastery in Crookston were held May 1. The new structure will include a nursing center for the care of sisters, a chapel and administrative offices. The Sisters of St. Benedict hope to continue to use the existing building until the summer of 1994. The original building, which was completed in 1923, has sustained severe damage due to shifting soil beneath its foundations. It was considered too costly to stabilize and repair the structure in view of declining needs. The new building will be entirely on ground level and about half the size of the one being replaced. Over 380 area students earn DARE awards

In separate ceremonies students from Thief River Falls and Goodridge graduated from the 17-week Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program last week.

Speaking to the 20 students graduating from the program in Goodridge Tuesday night, Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe commended the committment made by the students. He asked parents, relatives, the school and the entire community to provide the kind of support structure for these youths that will help lead to a drug and alcohol free society. Sheriff Moe also asked parents to open lines of communication with their sons or daughter. He urged them to talk with them about drug and alcohol and be understanding.

Speaking to the 364 students graduating from the DARE program in Thief River Falls Wednesday night at the Lincoln high school gym, Hubert (Skip) Humphrey III, Minnesota Attorney General, said with drug resistance education programs like DARE and others and the kind of instructors here (Thief River Falls) and support of the community, we will have a Drug Free America.

Pointing the fifth and sixth grade graduating students Humphrey asked rhetorically, how does this all come about? In his answer he stated that it comes from enthusiasm, team effort, teachers, parents, the schools, mentors, city council, school board, county boards, businesses and many others.

Humphrey congratulated all of the students and the community for a job well done.

DARE officers Sheriff's Deputy Ray Kuznia and Craig Mattson were praised by students and visitors for their hard work and dedication. Each student who completed the program received a certificate. A slide show during the graduation at Lincoln high school that brought laughs and reminded the students of the fun times they had during the program concluded the graduation ceremony.

The following Thief River Falls fifth and sixth grade students graduated from the DARE program:

St. Bernards — Jessica Allendorf, Jennifer Bjerken, Joanna Bruggeman, Lance Butler, Julie Chrzanowski, Jenni Gonsorowski, Jeannette Hasby, JoDanna Kalinowski, Rebecca Leach, Mathew Lutovsky, Jessica Schmaltz, Kate Stalbmerger, Orian Walseth, Cody Wichterman, Kelly Cota, Theresa Gaffeny, Tiasha Phelps, and Grego-

Derosier creations suit clowns just fine

Costume sewn by Red Lake Falls woman featured on postage stamp honoring the circus

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

Red, yellow and blue primary colors scream, shout and holler from the pages of Mary Derosier's photo albums. A chaos of plaid and polka dot patterns shock the eyes, making even the most loudly dressed tourist a whisper in comparison.

Derosier makes clown costumes. A resident of Red Lake Falls, she has created clown suits for eight years and now one of her creations — a red, blue and black plaid pattern suit with absurdly wide lapels, bright yellow buttons, hunched up sleeves and a polka dot bow tie — is displayed on every Post Office wall in America.

The Post Office recently issued four stamps commemorating 200 years of circus performances in the United States. Posters advertising the stamps contain four circus performers — one is Greg DeSanto, a clown at Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus and a Derosier customer.

The poster took Mary by surprise. Coincidentally, Derosier was shipping out another clown costume to DeSanto when she spotted the stamp advertisement. Now several relatives have orders to contact their local post office and collect the posters.

Derosier is a freelance clown seamstress now, but made most of her contacts at Clown College where she worked from 1985 to 1989. Clown College, in Venice FL, is run by Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus.

People from all walks of life go to the college for 12 weeks to learn the art of clowning, whether it's juggling, the infamous hot dog gag, or cramming into a Volkswagen beetle with 24 other clowns. "It's like stepping onto a different planet," Derosier said. Clown participants have ranged from an MIT graduate who studied metallurgy to a hospital administrator.

The college has five designers on staff. Derosier designed a few costumes, but usually patterned and cut the outfits.

"You can't just go in and get Simplicity Clown Pattern 8302," Derosier said and many times she needs to make her own fabric, sewing on spots and irregular stripes. Each clown at the college has a different, custom-built outfit and "Nobody wants to look the same as anyone else." The outfits vary and range from baggy pants to Scottish kilts.

The personalized clown costumes are known as "agent suits" and are used for publicity or personal appearances ("It's like their Sunday dress-up"). If the clown signs with the circus, he or she also signs his or her costume and make-up. To change costume or makeup permission is needed from the Barnum and Bailey bigwigs.

Clowns also wear "gag costumes" and production number costumes. Production costumes can weigh as much as 40 pounds.

Derosier makes the suits to last. Clowns perform in up to 13 shows a week. Derosier estimated that a costume gets the amount of wear in one week that regular street wear clothes get in six months to a year. Derosier makes five suits a year for one clown. All of the costumes house an inner lining for durability and sweat absorption.

The costumes involve a lot of

Total savings for the school district from this plan and several others will be $210,000. (Norman County Index)

Photos needed for Hallock postcard

Hallock — A postcard for Hallock is the next project for the Tourism task committee of the Hallock Star City commission. A collage was suggested and solved the problem of what the picture should be as Hallock doesn't have a specific, unique photo. If someone has a print they would like to submit to the committee for consideration, send it to Shirley Rydberg, Box 622, Hallock by May 10. Include your name and address and the photo will be returned. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Shelly school to close at the end of this school year

Shelly — The Shelly school will close following the 1992-93 school year, due to declining enrollment. Grades K-3, with a total enrollment this year of 49, have been assigned to Climax next year. The school board stated that additional problems with fire codes and handicapped accessibility were also considered in making this decision. Total savings for the school district from this plan and several others will be $210,000. (Norman County Index)

Photos needed for Hallock postcard

Hallock — A postcard for Hallock is the next project for the Tourism task committee of the Hallock Star City commission. A collage was suggested and solved the problem of what the picture should be as Hallock doesn't have a specific, unique photo. If someone has a print they would like to submit to the committee for consideration, send it to Shirley Rydberg, Box 622, Hallock by May 10. Include your name and address and the photo will be returned. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Bemidji Airlines sold to Great Lakes

Bemidji — Bemidji Aviation Services Inc. has sold its passenger subsidiary, Bemidji Airlines, to Great Lakes Airlines of Iowa, which serves as an airlink to United Airlines. Bemidji Airlines will discontinue passenger service May 21 from the Bemidji-Beltrami County Airport and Great Lakes will begin service May 24 using Bemidji Airline's ticket counter. Great Lakes will operate with larger 19-seat Beech 1900 aircraft, while Bemidji Airlines has been using 11-seat planes. The new Great Lakes service plans to provide summer service of three flights a day on weekdays, one on Saturday and two on Sunday. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Shooting Star casino holds first anniversary party

Mahnomen — It's been a year since the Shooting Star casino opened in its permanent location and the White Earth band of Chippewa, owners of the casino, has planned a week-long celebration to mark the anniversary. The dates of the event will be May 24-31 and will feature a Canada Day, ribbon-cutting and a giant anniversary cake. May 1 also saw the opening of the 146-room addition to the Shooting Star's lodging facility, which has been under construction for several months. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Crookston student served as page in state capitol

Crookston — Amy Bang, a junior at Central high school in Crookston, served as a page in the Minnesota House of Representatives from May 3 to May 7. Students like Amy participate in a non-partisan capacity and learn how state laws are made as they observe the representatives in committee meetings and in the House Chamber. They also are involved in seminars and roundtable discussions on issues such as taxes, education, welfare, city and rural concerns and health care. Amy is the daughter of Dave and Karen Bang of Crookston. (Crookston Daily Times)

Clinic staff settling into Ada Medical center

Ada — The Ada Medical clinic staff are now settling into their new home, following the recent move to the east side of the Ada medical complex. An open house is planned at the new clinic offices on May 10. The clinic is now located in the offices which previously housed Dr. Foderick's and Dr. Kinkade's practicies. The two offices have been joined, creating more space for the growing Ada clinic practice. Total cost of remodeling will be between $30,000 to $35,000. (Norman County Index)

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

This party loaf is best when made ahead and refrigerated and sliced just before serving. It is great for showers, graduation parties, or other special events. Use the sandwich filling ideas in buns or on tiny cocktail bread slices, too.

PARTY SANDWICH LOAF

Remove crusts from one 1 1/2 pound unsliced sandwich loaf of bread. Slice into four lengthwise slices.

Butter and spread each of three of the quarters with 1 cup of fillings of your choice.

Reassemble loaf, cover with plastic wrap and chill thoroughly. About 1 hour (longer time is ok) before serving, frost with Cheese Frosting and garnish with radishes, olives, green pepper, carrots, pimento, sliced or sieved eggs, parsley.

CHEESE FROSTING:

2 (8 ounces each) packages cream cheese, softened, AND
1 (3 ounce) softened package cream cheese
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons grated onion

Beat ingredients together until smooth and frost top and sides of chilled sandwich loaf.

RIPE OLIVE SPREAD

1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 pound bacon, cooked and crumbled
1 cup chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon chopped chives or onion
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish

Beat cream cheese and blend in sour cream. Gently mix in bacon, olives, chives and horseradish. (Also makes a good dip.)

DEVILED HAM SPREAD

2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) deviled ham
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
4 teaspoons grated onion
4 teaspoons sweet pickle relish
2 drops Tabasco sauce

Beat all ingredients together until well blended.

LIVER SPREAD

1/2 pound liver sausage
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons sweet pickle relish
2 drops Tabasco sauce

Beat all ingredients together.

CHEDDAR CHEESE SPREAD

2 cups (8 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese, room temperature
1/4 cup half and half
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/8 teaspoon garlic salt

Beat all ingredients until smooth. Cover and chill to blend flavors.

EGG SALAD SPREAD

6 hard cooked eggs, chopped
6 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Mix ingredients lightly until well blended.

SHRIMP PARTY SPREAD

1 cup finely chopped cooked shrimp
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
6 ripe olives, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
1 tablespoon crumbled Blue cheese
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup dairy sour cream

Toss together all ingredients except sour cream. Gently blend in sour cream.

LOBSTER PARTY SPREAD

1 can (5 ounce) lobster, drained and chopped
1 cup chopped celery
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup dairy sour cream

Toss lobster, celery, lemon rind and juice, onion salt and pepper. Gently blend in sour cream.

Cutting the ribbon to ceremonially open the Tigershark manufacturing line at Arctco, Inc., in Thief River Falls Thursday morning was Gov. Arne Carlson. Looking on are Chris Twomey, chief executive officer and Ole Tweet (right), general manager of the marine division.

Governor takes budget message to N.W. Minn.

"These indicators send a new signal to Minnesota employers that says Minnesota is open for business and we want Minnesotans to succeed," he said. And he added that he has had to spend his time trying to convince businesses to stay in Minnesota rather than going out to encourage business to come to Minnesota.

The governor answered questions on veterans affairs, state funding of local government (he doesn't like it), banking, government mandates (he wants agreement on which ones to remove) and others.

Following his presentation he was given a tour of the Arctco plant where he cut a ribbon to ceremonially open the Tigershark personal watercraft assembly line and placed a seal on a container of Tigersharks destined for foreign export.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

For 15 years my family and I spent part of every summer in your beautiful city with my grandparents, the Carl Holbrooks.

Two years ago our son Jeremy, then a seventh grader, participated in your parks and recreation tennis program. I'm not sure of his instructor's name (maybe she remembers the boy from Connecticut) but she instilled in him a love for the sport, great basic instructions and a positive on-court attitude.

Jeremy is now a freshman at Montville High School. He is the number four seed on the varsity tennis team and his coach says he'll be number two next year. I attribute much of his success to the lessons he had in Thief River Falls.

I don't know if the people of your community realize what an excellent program you offer. I, for one, would like to thank you very much.

Over the years I have lived in nine different states and Germany. Your city has always been the place I dreamed of finally settling down. Enjoy what you have; believe me, there aren't many places like yours left.

Sincerely,
Sharon Riley (Stephenson)

Fire dept. conducts fire drill

Many residents of Thief River Falls may have seen thick black smoke rising about the homes in a residential section of the community Wednesday evening.

Those curious enough to discover the source of the thick black smoke may have been alarmed to see fire officials standing around watching the blaze. There's no cause for alarm. The house was slated for demolition and the fire department purposely set the house on fire as a drill for fire department personnel. After conducting a number of exercises in the house, in which no one was injured, the house was allowed to burn to the ground.

Today's Moms Are Different.....Really!

Children who remember their mothers as keepers of the household first and foremost are probably at least parents and more probably grandparents themselves now. Mom was the one who spent the day at home and made a career of family nurture, drawing her pride from the whitest wash, the finest home-cooked meals, the cleanest floors and the best behaved children.

That vision today is mostly just that—a vision. It doesn't mean that mothers today love their children less than they did a generation or two or three ago. There were good and poor mothers years ago just as there are today. Love just takes a different form of expression in today's United States than it did in the past.

Today's mothers are not only different individually, they are different statistically as well. And the statistics relate to the individual changes in motherhood from previous generations.

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census—In a report entitled "Who Are America's Mothers?"—in 1990 there were 70 million women in the United States 15 years of age and older who were mothers. They represented 69 per cent of women in that age group. There were 4.2 million babies born in 1990, a rate of 71 births for every 1,000 women ages 15-44.

More babies were born in August (372,516) than any other month and more were born on Tuesday (an average of 12,382) than any other day. Four out of 10 births in 1990 were the first child in the family.

Women today are becoming mothers later in life. In 1990, the average age of women having their first-born was 24 years—two years older than 30 years previous in 1960. In 1990, women 30-34 years old had 80 births per 1,000, compared with only 60 births per 1,000 a decade earlier in 1980.

Generations ago Mom was almost always home when the kids left for somewhere and when they came back. She was the anchor of the ship. Today's mothers frequently must be more of a sail. That isn't always by choice—it's frequently more of an economic reality.

In 1990 there were 22,196,000 mothers of children under 18 years old in the labor force. In 1990 there were 53 per cent of mothers age 18-44 who were in the labor force compared to only 38 per cent as recently at 1980. The rates were higher for women with college degrees than for those with less than a high school education.

In 1988 about 30 million children in the United States had mothers who were employed, including nine million children who were under five years old. In most cases, these children were being "mothered" by someone else while Mom was at work.

While change is necessary and individuality is fine and investments in education should be made to pay off in employment, there is something to be said for the old system of Moms being Moms first and foremost. And what is said best is that society had far fewer problems to deal with in delinquency and crime when a woman bore one man's children (her husband's), was home full-time to make a home for them and him, and took pride in what must be one of life's greatest callings—being a mother.

What do you remember most fondly about your own mother, when she was at home with you or away at work?

Happy Mother's Day.

Don't Throw Away Your Wood Cutting Boards—They're Safer Than Plastic!

It came as a bit of a surprise but great satisfaction as well to this lover of wood to find that another maligned wood product is actually better than its counterfeit plastic counterpart. The item in question is what has been one of the most common kitchen items in the country—a wooden cutting board.

For many years now cooks in homes and restaurants have been urged to use plastic cutting boards on the supposition that they are somehow better from the standpoint of food safety.

The fear had been that disease-causing bacteria—such as salmonella from raw chicken—would soak into a wood cutting board and later contaminate other foods cut on the same surface and served uncooked—such as salad items.

"It's become an article of faith among experts' that plastic cutting boards are safer than wood for food preparation because, as the thinking goes, plastic is less hospitable to bacteria," writes George Gallepp of the University of Wisconsin—Madison Ag Press Service. "It seems reasonable, but it just ain't so."

It seems that two food microbiologists at UW—Madison, Dean O. Cliver and Nese O. Ak—were trying to learn about bacterial contamination of wood cutting boards to find a way to decontaminate the wood so it would be almost as safe as plastic. They were in for a surprise.

Cliver and Ak began by purposely contaminating wood and plastic boards with bacteria and then trying to recover those bacteria alive from the boards. They tested boards made from seven different species of trees and four types of plastic, and they incubated contaminated boards overnight at refrigerator and room temperatures and at high and typical humidity levels. They tested several bacteria—Salmonella, Listeria and Escherichia coli—known to produce food poisoning.

To their amazement, the scientists found that three minutes after contaminating a board that 99.9 per cent of the bacteria on wooden boards had died, while none of the bacteria died on plastic. Bacterial numbers actually increased on plastic cutting boards held overnight at room temperature, but the scientists could not recover any bacteria from wooden boards treated the same way.

The two scientists conducted a literary search and could not find any studies that evaluated the food safety attributes of wood and plastic cutting boards. No one seems to know where the idea that plastic was safer than wood started in the first place.

Cliver and Ak are quick to point out that cooks should continue to be careful when they handle foods and wash off cutting surfaces after they cut meat or chicken.

"Wood may be preferable in that small lapses in sanitary practices are not as dangerous on wood as on plastic," Cliver said. "This doesn't mean you can be sloppy about safety. It means you can use a wood cutting board if that is the kind you prefer. It certainly isn't less safe than plastic and appears to be more safe."

The findings of their study are being submitted to a refereed scientific journal. In the meantime, a lot of high school shop teachers and their students are being vindicated. All those cutting boards made for mothers over the years are the best ones to use after all.

Love That Land!

Following is from "Minnesota Agriculture" magazine, used in Minnesota classrooms:

"For the thousands of years Native Americans lived in the Americas, most of the land was left in its natural forms. Towering forests covered much of the northland. Rolling grasslands covered the plains for miles and miles. There were no landfills and garbage dumps, no chemicals and poisonous wastes. Sometimes the land was damaged from natural causes such as forest fires, floods and erosion. But over hundreds of years, the land usually healed itself again, and ecosystems survived.

Today, there are three thousand more people and all of them have needs. Those needs are changing the land. Everything we put on or in the land makes a difference. Everything we do to the land makes a difference.....Who do you think is responsible for caring for our rich treasure, the land?

Refractive Surgery Can Dramatically Enhance Your Eyesight, So You're Much Less Dependent on Glasses or Contacts.

Glasses and Contacts Can Be a Hassle. Nearsightedness, farsightedness, and astigmatism affect more than 100 million people in North America ... and the quality of their lives. So, if you're tired of wearing glasses or contacts for cosmetic reasons or because of lifestyle or job limitations, Refractive Surgery may be worth looking into.

Richard L. Lindstrom, M.D.
Consultant Ophthalmology, Refractive & Laser Surgery

Refractive Surgery Works to Correct the Cause of Vision Problems. Refractive Surgery has been designed to correct nearsightedness. The precise micro-surgery works by changing the shape of the cornea, thus correcting the way the eye focuses light. The 20 minute outpatient procedure can correct vision to 20/40 or better in 90% of the cases, and it's virtually painless. In fact, most patients return to work in two to three days. Even more reassuring is the fact that nearly 1,000,000 surgeries have been performed nationwide.

"I chose to have Refractive Surgery because I couldn't wear contacts ... and I like the way I look without glasses"

A World-Renowned Refractive Eye Surgeon in the North Country. Dr. Richard L. Lindstrom is widely regarded as a leader in corneal, cataract, refractive, and laser eye surgery. And now, select Eye Specialists in northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota are able to offer Dr. Lindstrom's world-class Refractive Surgery services to their patients.

Is Refractive Surgery Right for You? To find out more about Refractive Surgery, you or a family member may want to attend a free information seminar. This eye-opening presentation lasts about one hour. Of course, there's no obligation, and free literature will be available. Refractive Surgery Can Dramatically Enhance Your Eyesight, So You're Much Less Dependent on Glasses or Contacts.

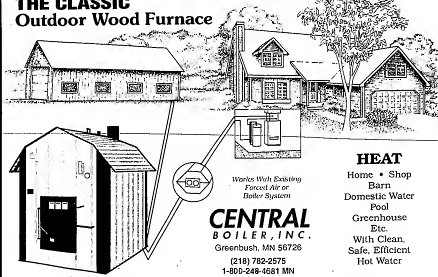
Glasses and Contacts Can Be a Hassle. Nearsightedness, farsightedness, and astigmatism affect more than 100 million people in North America ... and the quality of their lives. So, if you're tired of wearing glasses or contacts for cosmetic reasons or because of lifestyle or job limitations, Refractive Surgery may be worth looking into.

Richard L. Lindstrom, M.D.
Consultant
Ophthalmology
Refractive & Laser Surgery

Refractive Surgery Works to Correct the Cause of Vision Problems. Refractive Surgery has been designed to correct nearsightedness. The precise microsurgery works by changing the shape of the cornea, thus correcting the way the eye focuses light. The 20 minute outpatient procedure can correct vision to 20/40 or better in 90% of the cases, and it's virtually painless. In fact, most patients return to work in two to three days. Even more reassuring is the fact that nearly 1,000,000 surgeries have been performed nationwide.

"I chose to have Refractive Surgery because I couldn't wear contacts ... and I like the way I look without glasses." ▶

A World-Renowned Refractive Eye Surgeon in the North Country. Dr. Richard L. Lindstrom is widely regarded as a leader in corneal, cataract, refractive, and laser eye surgery. And now, select Eye Specialists in northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota are able to offer Dr. Lindstrom's world-class Refractive Surgery services to their patients.



Is Refractive Surgery Right for You? To find out more about Refractive Surgery, you or a family member may want to attend a free information seminar. This eye-opening presentation lasts about one hour. Of course, there's no obligation, and free literature will be available. Space is limited, so call the phone number listed here today and let us know you'll be attending.

TRF tennis team picks up first win

Wins in all three doubles matches carried Thief River Falls past Mahnomen 4-2 in high school tennis Monday – the Prowlers' first victory in six dual meet outings.

"It was nice for the team to get into the win column," said Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney.

Derek Dahlstrom-Kyle Jordet, Jeff Twomey-Keith Anderson and David Johnson-Jared Goldesberry combinations supplied the Prowlers with wins in 1-through-3 doubles, respectively, along with a match-clinching decision by Jason Breiland at No. 3 singles.

TRF 4, Mahnomen 2

Singles - 1. Cory Hendrickson (Mahnomen) def. Tony Miramontes 6-2, 7-6 (7-1); 2. Matt Kraker (Mahnomen) def. Marc Seeverson 7-6, 6-0; 3. Jason Breiland (TRF) def. Jeremy Gunderson 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles - 1. Derek Dahlstrom-Kyle Jordet (TRF) def. Shawn Peterson-Greg Bjerk 6-0, 6-0; 2. Jeff Twomey-Keith Anderson (TRF) def. Ken Domogalla-Tim Nelsen 6-0, 6-0; 3. David Johnson-Jared Goldesberry (TRF) def. Jeff Erickson-Keith Clark 2-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Jeff Twomey was part of a winning combination at No. 2 doubles for the Prowlers Tuesday in a 4-2 high school tennis win over Mahnomen. Twomey and Keith Anderson beat Ken Domogalla and Tim Nelsen 6-0, 6-0.

Registration dates set for Park & Rec summer programs

Registration for the 1993 Thief River Falls city youth baseball, tennis and softball programs will be held from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 10-14 at the Park & Recreation Department office, located at 803 South Barzen Avenue.

All fees will be collected at the time of the registration. A $5 late fee per activity will be added after May 20.

Baseball program for ages 7-12 and tennis instructional program for ages 7-over will be offered June 7-July 30. Girls softball program for ages 7-17 will run June 8-July 28.

Tennis and softball fees are $10 for residents and $15 for non-residents. Baseball fee schedule was to be announced during a parent meeting Thursday.

Jeff Mumm will be the baseball program director; Kim Maidment will head the tennis program; and Brenda Russell will supervise the softball program.

For additional information call the Park & Recreation Department at 681-2519.

Pioneers' offense sweeps Vermilion

Offense was a Northland shortcoming earlier this spring, but the hits and runs were plentiful Tuesday when the Pioneers banged out 29 hits and scored 27 runs in a Northern Division baseball doubleheader sweep over Vermilion at Ely.

Northland kept its slim Minnesota Community College Conference state playoff hopes alive with an 11-9 and 16-7 wins. The opener went 13 innings.

"The hits are coming," acknowledged Northland coach Terry Wiseth. "We had a good day offensively. We struggled in a couple of innings and gave up some runs, but we got the hits when we needed them. You can make up for a lot of deficiencies when you score some runs."

Northland 11
Vermilion 9

Northland scored seven times in the top of the first inning, but needed a two-run, two-out home run by Mike Swanson in the 13th to put Vermilion away 11-9 in Game 1.

Mitch Bernstein pitched seven innings of one-run relief for the win. Todd Martin was the Northland starter, with John Pearson coming on in the third after Vermilion sliced an early eight-run deficit to 9-7.

Brian King had a two-run single to highlight the first inning Northland outburst that included six hits and two walks.

A 9-9 tie was broken in the 13th when Parrish Tatum was hit by a pitch and Swanson sent a first-pitch delivery over the fence for the game-winning home run.

Troy Storeby went 4-for-4, while Mitch Bernstein and Mike Swanson had two hits apiece as Northland completed the sweep with a 16-7 second-game victory.

Parrish Tatum was the winning pitcher in a route-going effort. He gave up only three hits, but had early trouble – a two-run first inning home run, then four consecutive walks to open a five-run Vermilion second – before finishing with five hitless shutout innings.

Kittson Central pitcher

Steen records a no-hitter against Tri-County / MCC

Mike Steen threw a five-inning no-hitter at Tri-County/Marshall County Central Tuesday in a 13-0 Kittson Central high school baseball win at Karlstad.

Steen struck out 11, walked one and hit one batter.

He had an easy shot at a win after the Wolfpack scored 10 times in the top of the first on a home run, triple, double, two singles, a pair of errors, and two walks.

Losing pitcher Jeremy Tallum, did not survive that first inning assault. Shane Borg pitched in relief.

Golfers at Bagley-Fosston

There are birdies and pars among the scores being turned in by the members of the Thief River Falls boys high school golf team, but still too many bogies and double-bogies, according to head coach Dick Tyler.

"We just can't stay away from the big holes," explained Tyler. "We've got to learn to keep the ball in bounds."

The Prowlers' latest venture was the Bagley-Fosston Invitational Tuesday, where they were 12th in a 24-team field. Fosston had a 311-320 edge over Bemidji and East Grand Forks for the title. Thief River Falls turned in a 350 for the tournament, which included nine holes at both courses.

Bryan Dunrud of Fosston was meet medalist with a 72 – 10 strokes better than Barry Rhineberger, the Prowlers' top scorer for the day.

Softball team beats Tri-County/Marshall County Central...

TRF wins extra-inning game

Toni Chiodo came through with a bases-loaded two-run double to highlight a five-run eighth inning Tuesday as Thief River Falls outlasted Tri-County/Marshall County Central 13-11 in high school softball at Newfolden.

The host team forced the extra inning by scoring twice in the bottom of the seventh, and made it close again at the end with three runs in their final at-bat.

"It was a good ball game," reported Thief River Falls coach John Anderson. "We did all right, and they really hit the ball well for being a first-year program."

Winning pitcher LuAnne Maslowski handled all eight innings for the Prowlers.

Rhoda Hruby was 2-for-3 and put down two sacrifice bunts for the Prowlers. Jamie Martell also had two hits for the winners.

Lincoln softball JV wins 19-16 contest

Lisa Rendulich and winning pitcher Jaime Femrite hit home runs Tuesday as Thief River Falls outscored Tri-County/Marshall County Central 19-16 in junior varsity high school softball at Newfolden.

Prowlers beat Pirates 12-4

Both teams had an abundance of base runners Tuesday, but most of the scoring was done by Thief River Falls in a 12-4 high school baseball win at Crookston.

The game featured 17 hits, 22 walks, four hit-batsmen, and three errors.

Thief River Falls pitchers Jeremy Olson and Marc Haugen gave up only seven hits, but they walked 12 and hit three batters. The Prowlers were able to work their way out of most jams, however, with an error-free defense.

"With 15 free passes, we could have been in a lot of trouble," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "But we didn't have the errors, so we really didn't give them many runs off the walks and hit batters."

Meanwhile, the Prowlers combined 10 hits with 10 walks and three Crookston errors for their fifth double-digit scoring effort in eight starts this spring. Senior Wade Evenson was 3-for-4 and sophomore Steve Burslie went 2-for-3 while driving in five runs.

"Offensively and defensively, I was very happy with the way we played," said Wensloff.

Thief River Falls struck early with a four-run first inning. Three of the first four Prowlers stepping to the plate drew walks and Burslie followed with a bases-loaded three-run double.

Crookston came right back with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first, but the early-game Thief River Falls assault continued with a three-run second.

Haugen was the winning pitcher with 5 2/3 innings of game-ending relief work.

Pioneers' first softball win is through forfeit

Rain wiped out a portion of a recent Northland Community College softball trip, but not before the Pioneers picked up their first win of the 1993 season – a forfeit over shorthanded Mesabi at the May 1 Itasca Invitational.

A scheduled April 30 doubleheader at Fergus Falls was erased by rain, and most of the Itasca invitational was washed out the following day. However, Northland did get in a first round 11-0 loss to Vermilion and picked up the forfeit against Mesabi before the rest of the event was called off.

Vermilion won with a three-inning 10-run rule decision.

Trish Prickett and Lisa Verbout had the only Northland hits. Verbout was the losing pitcher.

Trojans sweep softball games from Northland

Northland Community College lost a pair of 15-7 decisions to the University of Minnesota-Crookston Monday in a softball doubleheader that completed the Pioneers' 1993 home schedule.

Rick Nikunen-coached Northland took a 1-11 record on a season-ending road trip that included games at Itasca and Mesabi Friday, followed by an appearance at the Hibbing Invitational today (Saturday).

"We've seen a lot of improvement since we started," said Nikunen, "but we're still making too many mistakes."

Lisa Verbout did the Northland pitching in both games, and did a creditable job, according to Nikunen. "Pitching is probably the one area where we've improved the most this year," he said.

Derosier sews suits for clowns time. Derosier spent about 45 hours making DeSanto's last costume.

Clown costumes are built on a big scale to be seen in big places. "Little details are not going to show so you have to always keep in mind the bigger the better, the more contrast the better," Derosier said, "especially for clowns where you don't have that verbal communication that maybe the people in the first two rows will get.

"How you act and how you look is how you get your character across to the audience, especially at a circus where there's always so much going on and you want to draw people's eye to you so they will notice you."

Red, yellow and blue are popular colors in clowning but there are exceptions, Derosier said. Clown College was planning to open a branch in Japan, Derosier said, but primary colors such as yellow, red and blue have religious significance for Japanese. So Derosier fashioned clown outfits out of pastel colors instead of the brighter hues.

Costuming has its hazards. One evening Derosier laid down one of her biggest and most expensive ($800) projects — an elaborate velvet clown suit for a customer in Japan. She spent one and one-half weeks sewing on hundreds of sequins. She was almost ready to ship out the costume.

That night the apartment shower above her workshop leaked through the ceiling, missing everything in her workshop except the velvet pants, which the water drenched. Derosier panicked, but local dry cleaners salvaged the pants and the only damage was a few missing sequins.

Aside from clown costuming Derosier learned a few tricks of the clown trade. Eventually she decided to make her own costume — a dress with clashing frills, stripes, polka dots and floral patterns.

"I have always enjoyed being behind the scenes much more than out on stage. So it's hard for me to go out and do some of this stuff," Derosier said.

But she has dressed up and clowned around a bit at the local elementary school and daycare center. "I like it because you really feel kind of anonymous. You have that certain amount of freedom that you wouldn't in regular clothes and you can get away with a lot of stuff you"d never be able to get away with otherwise," Derosier said.

Derosier started her costuming career as a student at the University of Minnesota-Duluth. She needed a theatre class to fulfill liberal arts requirements. The theatre teacher recommended another one credit class in props and costuming as a grade-boost. The class in costuming turned into a work study job which she held for three and one-half years.

After graduating and between work at Clown College, Derosier was a costumer at a number of theatre companies, including two years with the Santa Fe Opera, two and one-half seasons with the Oregon Shakespearean Festival, a year with the Indiana Repertory Theatre, one show in Rochester, NY for over-hire help and three years in Houston at the Alley Theatre.

"Four years of Clown College was about enough for me," Derosier said. "Actually most people are only there a year or two. I decided after Clown College I would just do some freelance work and that was fine. I had enough contacts with the show and I was always busy working on something and the longer I've been away the less people I know on the show."

Derosier works part time as a sheriff's office dispatcher in Red Lake Falls. She spends the rest of the time working on clown outfits and other projects, including costumes for the community theatre.

She works with APRAN, a French trader and trapper historical reenactment group. Derosier said she is also the sheriff department's official seamstress, currently sewing emblems on short-sleeve spring sheriff uniforms.

"I get a lot of personal fulfillment out of making something," Derosier said. "At the end of the day, I have something to show for what I've done and that's really important to me."

New superintendent hired at Win-E-Mac

Erskine — At a special school board meeting May 6, the Win-E-Mac school board hired James Roberts as the new superintendent of schools. Roberts is presently the superintendent at International Falls, where he has worked for the past 19 years. He will start at Win-E-Mac July 1. Dr. Ken Roetzel, who is resigned the position to become director of finances and personnel at the Westonka schools in Mound, will be leaving the school system May 31. (Erskine Echo)

Unwelcome visitor invades Lake of the Woods

Lake of the Woods — There's a new fish species on Lake of the Woods. And it's not one that brings joy to the hearts of area fisheries and tourism personnel. Test nets set by DNR fisheries personnel have been turning up smelt - a lot of it. The smelt is a "weed" fish, one that each year brings anglers to the North Shore of Lake Superior, but that can hurt the overall game fish population in a lake. They eat other young fish without adding anything to the game fishing chances of a lake. The smelt have been in the Rainy River for several years and have slowly been working their way to the Lake of the Woods, where they first showed up in 1991 trawling samples. There is however a very healthy fish population in the lake now and a warm summer could wipe out a good share of the smelt population, which prefers lower water temperatures. (Baudette Region)

They will be joined by USDA personnel and other county officials along with landowners, realtors and businessmen from the area. The Final Acre ceremony will take place on the Don Trefz farm, on the west side of Highway 92 two miles south of Bagley from the stoplights. (Farmers Independent)

Up to 60 children are needed to play the roles of Robin Hood, Maid Marian, the Faeries, Robin's mother, Grunt the king of the Gnomes, and many others. These "Big Birds" aren't television stars

Ostriches raised by Don, Gary and David Johnson of Gully exhibit unique traits and problems

Ostrich necks are about two to two and one half feet in length and ostriches possess sharp two-inch diameter eyes.

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

An eight-foot-tall bird that can run 40 miles per hour in two strides, has drumsticks the diameter of beachballs and whose kick can bend metal pipes — it's enough to give the average cat migraines.

Don, Gary and David Johnson raise ostriches — birds which themselves have more curiosity than a dozen cats. The Johnsons keep the flightless birds behind five-foot fences on their father's Gully farm.

Visitors driving onto the homestead's gravel roadway see nine birds — primarily their two foot necks and human-size eyes — looming in the distance, pacing back and forth, always looking for something shiny.

"They'll fetch anything you got," said Don, who has lost his share of buttons to the anything-that-glitters-loving bird. The brothers' sister, Phyllis Gemar, who operates an ostrich ranch near Brady, Montana, found four pounds of nails in one autopsied bird's stomach.

In preparation for the birds' arrival a year ago, the brothers scoured the ground looking for nails and pins. In one pen they replaced five inches of topsoil with sand to ensure a nail-less environment.

Other steps, such as tall fencing and a partially heated barn, were necessary to transform the dairy barn and stock pen into an ostrich-friendly environment.

The birds, native to an arid African climate, are also adaptable to Minnesota winters. The ostriches lack body heat until they are three months old, so the barn is heated to 50 degrees for young birds. The older birds withstand year-round outside temperatures.

The Gully ostriches are docile, but the Johnsons understand the potential for danger. One of Gemar's ostriches kicked at her

Final site plan approved for Engelstad park in TRF

Thief River Falls city council once again discussed Engelstad park during its regular council meeting Tuesday evening at the city auditorium.

Residents around Engelstad park and officials from the city finally seem to have hit upon a design everyone can live with. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Fleegel, however, thought they had reached an agreement with the city and park board more than two weeks ago. On Monday and again on Tuesday they learned that the plans were being changed again. Tuesday night they appeared before the council to express their disappointment.

Ron Lindberg, city engineering and technical services superintendent, explained that he had been given the project while Park and Recreation department Superintendent Mike Mongoven was on leave. In taking over, he was able to develop a map to scale and learned that changes had to be made to the overall plan to accommodate everything that was being planned for the park.

Willard Fleegel said a number of things were brought up that he thought to had been settled. Fleegel said he learned of additional space needed for sidewalk, future plans for the expansion of First street, moving the basketball court and the fence. All things were very upsetting to Fleegel.

Mrs. Fleegel held up the map of park, which showed all of the courts and items drawn to scale, and asked whether it didn't look like the park was full. She said that they knew that the park was full but earlier maps didn't show that. (The map showed both winter and summer activity sites.

Alderman Dale Wennberg noted that the park board was making plans for activity sites in other

Unwelcome visitor invades Lake of the Woods

Lake of the Woods — There's a new fish species on Lake of the Woods. And it's not one that brings joy to the hearts of area fisheries and tourism personnel. Test nets set by DNR fisheries personnel have been turning up smelt - a lot of it. The smelt is a "weed" fish, one that each year brings anglers to the North Shore of Lake Superior, but that can hurt the overall game fish population in a lake. They eat other young fish without adding anything to the game fishing chances of a lake. The smelt have been in the Rainy River for several years and have slowly been working their way to the Lake of the Woods, where they first showed up in 1991 trawling samples. There is however a very healthy fish population in the lake now and a warm summer could wipe out a good share of the smelt population, which prefers lower water temperatures. (Baudette Region)

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

Ostrich necks are about two to two and one half feet in length and ostriches possess sharp two-inch diameter eyes

An eight-foot-tall bird that can run 40 miles per hour in two strides, has drumsticks the diameter of beachballs and whose kick can bend metal pipes — it's enough to give the average cat migraines.

Don, Gary and David Johnson raise ostriches — birds which themselves have more curiosity than a dozen cats. The Johnsons keep the flightless birds behind five-foot fences on their father's Gully farm.

Visitors driving onto the homestead's gravel roadway see nine birds — primarily their two foot necks and human-size eyes — looming in the distance, pacing back and forth, always looking for something shiny.

"They'll fetch anything you got," said Don, who has lost his share of buttons to the anything-that-glitters-loving bird. The brothers' sister, Phyllis Gemar, who operates an ostrich ranch near Brady, Montana, found four pounds of nails in one autopsied bird's stomach.

In preparation for the birds' arrival a year ago, the brothers scoured the ground looking for nails and pins. In one pen they replaced five inches of topsoil with sand to ensure a nail-less environment.

Other steps, such as tall fencing and a partially heated barn, were necessary to transform the dairy barn and stock pen into an ostrich-friendly environment.

The birds, native to an arid African climate, are also adaptable to Minnesota winters. The ostriches lack body heat until they are three months old, so the barn is heated to 50 degrees for young birds. The older birds withstand year-round outside temperatures.

The Gully ostriches are docile, but the Johnsons understand the potential for danger. One of Gemar's ostriches kicked at her parks, including Centennial park.

Park plan approved

Lindberg also noted that any design of an outdoor basketball court or tennis court should take into consideration the sun. That's why most tennis courts and outdoor basketball courts are positioned north and south.

That comment drew a sharp remark from Alderman Milt Burstad who lives next to Centennial park. Burstad asked to be informed of any proposed changes to the park and that a public meeting be held, which touched on a sore spot with Wennberg and park department employees.

The Park department has argued that the proposed changes to Engelstad park did not require a public hearing and that they were notified of the grant proposal deadline too late to hold any public hearings.

Aldermen Don Barron and Milt Burstad both suggested that the park department should have worked with the engineering and technical services department in the first place.

After reviewing the plans and proposed alternatives, Alderman Wennberg proposed that the city go with the plan which included a scaled down non-regulation basketball court which faced east and west. This seemed acceptable to the Fleegels. The s, however, wanted assurances that site plans would not change again.

Alderman John T. Anderson, argued against reducing the size of the basketball court and positioning it so that it went east and west. He said a lot of thought and work had gone into the plans and that for the money, the city should go with a first class project, which included a regulation-size basketball court. Anderson noted that there were a whole lot of people out there who use the basketball court who haven't had an opportunity to express their feelings.

The final vote on the issue resulted in four votes for the proposal made by Wennberg and two against. Aldermen Anderson and Barron voted against the proposal. Anderson wanted a first class facility. Barron did not state the reason for his objection, but has opposed the proposal because it is not consistent with the original intent of neighborhood park.

Lindberg said the revised cost estimate placed the cost of the project at $49,930, much of which will come from a grant.

■ The city council received $23,337 from John Faulkner of the Minnesota department of natural resources, department of forestry office in Grygla, for the downtown parking lot "re-leaf" project.

John Faulkner of the DNR office in Grygla presented state grant funds to the city which will be used for an innovative shade tree planting project slated for downtown parking lots this summer. The project is expected to be completed by the end of June.

Faulkner also presented the city with a Tree City USA award. This is the fifth year the city has won the award.

■ The council learned that EMS of Thief River Falls has applied for the ambulance service license in Thief River Falls.

EMS of Thief River Falls has applied with the Commissioner of Health for Advanced Ambulance Services in Thief River Falls. A public hearing on the matter will be held 1 p.m. June 10 at the county courthouse. At the hearing, EMS of Thief River Falls will present evidence showing that a license should be granted.

EMS became the temporary ambulance service license holder last March when the health department took away the license held by Midwest Ambulance Systems.

■ The council has approved the master plan for the airport.

The city council approved the airport master plan after reviewing the summary, conclusions and recommendations prepared by Short Elliot Hendrickson Inc. The plan will be used as a tool or guideline for the airport through the planning year 2012. Although it lists plans for construction, including a crosswind runway, it does not represent a commitment to construction.

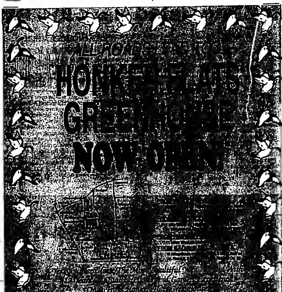
Forecasts developed for the general aviation aircraft fleet at the Thief River Falls regional airport show an increase in based aircraft from 19 in 1992 to 29 in 2012, with total annual operations increasing from 11,761 to 18,140 over the same period.

Increases in scheduled airline service enplanements are anticipated to be moderate through the planning year 2012. Annual enplanements are forecast to increase from 5,700 in 1992, to 8,961 by 2012, with annual operations remaining steady at 2,256.

This plan projects the construction of a crosswind runway, which would provide an alternative landing surface when climatic conditions prevent or inhibit landings on the existing primary runway. Construction of the new runway is projected for 1996.

■ The council approved a resolution to call for quotes on services related to the removal of fuel contaminated soil at the airport.

This is the third time contaminated soil has had to be removed from the airport. Ron Lindberg explained that Jet A fuel was found in the soil near the FBO. He said it was probably caused by a leaky coupling near the fence. The area to be excavated is 110 by 25 feet.



■ The council acknowledged a report on the property tax board of review conducted by the city and then accepted the recommendations of Adeline Olson, Pennington County Assessor.

Following the acknowledgement of receipt of the board of review report, the council opened discussion to include statements of those in the audience wishing to make a statement regarding property taxes. The only property owner in attendance, who had also requested an adjustment in property valuation was Jack Haymond, 405 Riverside Ave. S. Haymond requested a reduction in the assessed valuation of his property, primarily because of the odd shape of his lot and because he does not have on-street parking while other residences of similar size and value do have on-street parking and larger lots.

In other business, the council: approved an agreement with operators of a flea market; approved a resolution pertaining to permanent financing through FmHA for the water treatment plant project; authorized the mayor and city clerk to execute an easement for Thief River Falls Co-op oil station test wells in the vicinity of Sixth and Main; approved the police federation contract and MAS contracts which are for two years and make all health insurance offerings uniform within the city; approved a progression raise for Wayne Johnson, water distribution foreman; approved the purchase of a geographical information system, which will cost $17,090 for two computers; approved dance permit requests; noted that the Minnesota State Demographer has estimated the population of Thief River Falls, as of April 1, 1992, at 8,006; and noted that a public hearing on the proposed Riverwalk bridge will be held May 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Be inventive with that beef and make it into something special. Nearly all of these beef-y meals can be made ahead of time.

Juicy and delicious, you'll love this dish:

SPICED POT ROAST

1 (4 pound) boneless beef bottom round roast
3 cups water

1/2 cup red wine vinegar
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
3 cloves garlic, minced
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon pepper
15 whole cloves
1 bay leaf

Place roast into hot Dutch oven, fat side down, and brown well on all sides over medium high heat.

Stir together water and all other ingredients. Pour over roast and reduce heat to low. Cover and simmer at least 2 hours on top of stove, or place in 350 degree oven and roast 3 hours or until done.

Any type of beef roast will be tender and delicious cooked this way:

BARBECUED BEEF

1 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/3 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon garlic juice or garlic salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 cup water
1 small bottle ketchup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Place all ingredients in Dutch oven or other covered baking pan. Bake at 250 degrees for 6 hours.

Pull meat apart, mix with sauce, and serve on buns.

Put this main dish meal together and go shopping—dinner will be ready when you get home:

2 pounds stew meat
8 carrots, cut into 3 inch long chunks
1 cup celery, cut into 1 inch chunks

pepper
Other spices as desired: rosemary, thyme, marjoram

Brown stew meat. Mix all ingredients and place in Dutch oven. Bake 6 hours at 350 degrees. Add 1 package frozen peas the last 20 minutes of baking.

1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup chopped onions
1 small can mushrooms
1/2 to 1 pound cubed steak or minute steak
1 package egg noodles

parks, including Centennial park.

Lindberg also noted that any design of an outdoor basketball court or tennis court should take into consideration the sun. That's why most tennis courts and outdoor basketball courts are positioned north and south.

That comment drew a sharp remark from Alderman Milt Burstad who lives next to Centennial park. Burstad asked to be informed of any proposed changes to the park and that a public meeting be held, which touched on a sore spot with Wennberg and park department employees.

The Park department has argued that the proposed changes in Engelstad park did not require a public hearing and that they were notified of the grant proposal deadline too late to hold any public hearings.

Aldermen Don Barron and Milt Burstad both suggested that the park department should have worked with the engineering and technical services department in the first place.

After reviewing the plans and proposed alternatives, Alderman Wennberg proposed that the city go with the plan which included a scaled down non-regulation basketball court which faced east and west. This seemed acceptable to the Fleegels. The s, however, wanted assurances that site plans would not change again.

Alderman John T. Anderson, argued against reducing the size of the basketball court and positioning it so that it went east and west. He said a lot of thought and work had gone into the plans and that for the money, the city should go with a first class project, which included a regulation-size basketball court. Anderson noted that there were a whole lot of people out there who use the basketball court who haven't had an opportunity to express their feelings.

The final vote on the issue resulted in four votes for the proposal made by Wennberg and two against. Aldermen Anderson and Barron voted against the proposal. Anderson wanted a first class facility. Barron did not state the reason for his objection, but has opposed the proposal because it is not consistent with the original intent of a neighborhood park.

Lindberg said the revised cost estimate placed the cost of the project at $49,930, much of which will come from a grant.

■ The city council received $23,337 from John Faulkner of the Minnesota department of natural resources, department of forestry office in Grygla, for the downtown parking lot "re-leaf" project.

John Faulkner of the DNR office in Grgyla presented state grant funds to the city which will be used for an innovative shade tree planting project slated for downtown parking lots this summer. The project is expected to be completed by the end of June.

Faulkner also presented the city with a Tree City USA award. This is the fifth year the city has won the award.

■ The council learned that EMS of Thief River Falls has applied for the ambulance service license in Thief River Falls.

EMS of Thief River Falls has applied with the Commissioner of Health for Advanced Ambulance Services in Thief River Falls. A public hearing on the matter will be held 1 p.m. June 10 at the county courthouse. At the hearing, EMS of Thief River Falls will present evidence showing that a license should be granted.

EMS became the temporary ambulance service license holder last March when the health department took away the license held by Midwest Ambulance Systems.

■ The council has approved the master plan for the airport.

The city council approved the airport master plan after reviewing the summary, conclusions and recommendations prepared by Short Elliot Hendrickson Inc. The plan will be used as a tool or guideline for the airport through the planning year 2012. Although it lists plans for construction, including a crosswind runway, it does not represent a commitment to construction.

Forecasts developed for the general aviation aircraft fleet at the Thief River Falls regional airport show an increase in based aircraft from 19 in 1992 to 29 in 2012, with total annual operations increasing from 11,761 to 18,140 over the same period.

Increases in scheduled airline service enplanements are anticipated to be moderate through the planning year 2012. Annual enplanements are forecast to increase from 5,700 in 1992, to 8,961 by 2012, with annual operations remaining steady at 2,256.

This plan projects the construction of a crosswind runway, which would provide an alternative landing surface when climatic conditions prevent or inhibit landings on the existing primary runway. Construction of the new runway is projected for 1996.

■ The council approved a resolution to call for quotes on services related to the removal of fuel contaminated soil at the airport.

This is the third time contaminated soil has had to be removed from the airport. Ron Lindberg explained that Jet A fuel was found in the soil near the FBO. He said it was probably caused by a leaky coupling near the fence. The area to be excavated is 110 by 25-feet.

■ The council acknowledged a report on the property tax board of review conducted by the city and then accepted the recommendations of Adeline Olson, Pennington County Assessor.

Following the acknowledgement of receipt of the board of review report, the council opened discussion to include statements of those in the audience wishing to make a statement regarding property taxes. The only property owner in attendance, who had also requested an adjustment in property valuation was Jack Haymond, 405 Riverside Ave. S. Haymond requested a reduction in the assessed valuation of his property, primarily because of the odd shape of his lot and because he does not have on-street parking while other residences of similar size and value do have on-street parking and larger lots.

In other business, the council: approved an agreement with operators of a flea market; approved a resolution pertaining to permanent financing through FmHA for the water treatment plant project; authorized the mayor and city clerk to execute an easement for Thief River Falls Co-op oil station test wells in the vicinity of Sixth and Main; approved the police federation contract and MAS contracts which are for two years and make all health insurance offerings uniform within the city; approved a progression raise for Wayne Johnson, water distribution foreman; approved the purchase of a geographical information system, which will cost $17,090 for two computers; approved dance permit requests; noted that the Minnesota State Demographer has estimated the population of Thief River Falls, as of April 1, 1992, at 8,006; and noted that a public hearing on the proposed Riverwalk bridge will be held May 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Be inventive with that beef and make it into something special. Nearly all of these beef-y meals can be made ahead of time.

Juicy and delicious, you'll love this dish:

SPICED POT ROAST

1 (4 pound) boneless beef bottom round roast
3 cups water
1 (6 ounce) can tomato paste
1/2 cup red wine vinegar
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
3 cloves garlic, minced
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon pepper
15 whole cloves
1 bay leaf

Place roast into hot Dutch oven, fat side down, and brown well on all sides over medium high heat.

Stir together water and all other ingredients. Pour over roast and reduce heat to low. Cover and simmer at least 2 hours on top of stove, or place in 350 degree oven and roast 3 hours or until done.

Any type of beef roast will be tender and delicious cooked this way:

BARBECUED BEEF

1 beef roast
1 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/3 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon garlic juice or garlic salt
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 cup water
1 small bottle ketchup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Place all ingredients in Dutch oven or other covered baking pan. Bake at 250 degrees for 6 hours.

Pull meat apart, mix with sauce, and serve on buns.

Put this main dish meal together and go shopping—dinner will be ready when you get home:

SIX HOUR STEW

2 pounds stew meat
8 carrots, cut into 3 inch long chunks
1 cup celery, cut into 1 inch chunks
1 can tomatoes
1/2 package onion soup mix
3 tablespoons tapioca
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon salt
pepper
Other spices as desired: rosemary, thyme, marjoram

Brown stew meat. Mix all ingredients and place in Dutch oven. Bake 6 hours at 350 degrees. Add 1 package frozen peas the last 20 minutes of baking.

Simple, but elegant:

BEEF STROGANOFF

16 ounces commercial sour cream
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup chopped onions
1 small can mushrooms
1/2 to 1 pound cubed steak or minute steak
1 package egg noodles
salt and pepper to taste

Brown steak and onions.

Combine steak, sour cream, soup and mushrooms in casserole. Cover and bake 1 hour at 350 degrees. Serve over cooked noodles.

Crookston nixes air casino hangar deal

Crookston — The city of Crookston will not build a hangar at the Crookston municipal airport for Air Casino, according to Crookston Development Authority Executive Director Don Holbrook. Developer and lenders could not come to an agreement, so the city has withdrawn the contract to build the hangar. The city will now reevaluate the airport facility and come up with some alternate ideas for new development. (Crookston Daily Times)

Crookston chamber office to be relocated

Crookston — The Crookston area chamber of commerce office will soon move from its present location at 114 So. Main, to the Red River Valley Shows building. Target date for the move is June 1, as some remodeling will be done to accommodate the chamber office. The new quarters will be on the south side of the main entrance. (Crookston Daily Times)

Bridge wins award

Crookston — Wisdeth Smith Nolting has received the Minnesota Prestressed association annual design award for the Robert Street bridge in Crookston. The criteria for the award includes innovative used of prestressed concrete and a pleasing sense of scale and proporation in the design. Tim Moe, structural engineer, was responsible for the bridge design. (Crookston Daily Times)

Sharon Martens is first female mayor of Grafton

Grafton, ND — Sharon Martens, previously fifth ward councilor, became Grafton's first female mayor Monday. She will serve the remaining year of former mayor Jeff Pederson's term. Pederson resigned April 16 to become business manager of the Grand Forks school district. (Walsh County Record)

Grygla agrees to sell lots for miniature golf

Grygla — Two lots in the city of Grygla on Highway 89 may become the site of a miniature golf course. Wayne and Denise Thomas, who own a home near the spot, have approached the city council with a proposal to create a miniature golf course. The lots, once privately owned, have been listed as city property for a number of years. (Grygla Eagle)

Lt. Governor Dyrstad speaks at breakfast

In speaking at the Small Business Week Breakfast in Thief River Falls Tuesday, Lt. Governor Joanell Dyrstad was reminded of when she and her husband owned a drug store in Red Wing.

Dyrstad told the crowd gathered to honor merchants in Thief River Falls, that small business really is the key to job growth in Minnesota. Much of the job growth that has occurred in Minnesota occurred because of small business — those businesses with less than 100 employees.

This year's business awards went to Jackie Filipy and Lois Steiger. In recognizing their success, Dyrstad pointed out that woman will continue to make important contributions. In fact, women-owned businesses is one of the largest growing areas right now in the business economy.

Dyrstad also took the opportunity while speaking before a large group of merchants, to promote some of the proposals being promoted by the Governor.

The administration's plan calls for:

- The elimination of a 6 and one-half sales tax on replacement equipment for business;
- To continue to push for reform in workman's compensation laws and costs;
- Putting additional funding into regional Minnesota initiative Funds;
- And, putting a hold on tax increases.

If anyone didn't think the governor was serious, Dyrstad said the governor had just vetoed the tax bill which included tax increases.

Each year, for the past 29 years, the President of the United States designates a week in May as Small Business week. This year's theme was "Small Business: Helping Build America's Future."

In Thief River Falls Small Business Week is celebrated by offering workshops, luncheons, a recognition and awards breakfast and other activities. This year, Annette's Fabrics was singled out as Business of the Year. Jackie Filipy of Jacalyn Gallery & Gifts, was named Entrepreneur of the Year.

Included will be performances by the jazz band, freshman band, concert band and wind ensemble. The band's most valuable senior performer will also be named at this concert, according to Bruce Felt, director.

The Band Boosters organization will host a reception in the school cafeteria following the concert.

"This concert will be the last formal performance for 36 members of the Class of 1993," Felt said. "These young musicians have done a fantastic job over the past four years. They have been a joy to work with and have had a lot to do with the resurgence of the band program."

Lt. Governor Dyrstad speaks at breakfast

In speaking at the Small Business Week Breakfast in Thief River Falls Tuesday, Lt. Governor Joanell Dyrstad was reminded of when she and her husband owned a drug store in Red Wing.

Dyrstad told the crowd gathered to honor merchants in Thief River Falls, that small business really is the key to job growth in Minnesota. Much of the job growth that has occurred in Minnesota occurred because of small business — those businesses with less than 100 employees.

This year's business awards went to Jackie Filipy and Lois Steiger. In recognizing their success, Dyrstad pointed out that women will continue to make important contributions. In fact, women-owned businesses is one of the largest growing areas right now in the business economy.

Dyrstad also took the opportunity while speaking before a large group of merchants, to promote some of the proposals being promoted by the Governor.

The administration's plan calls for:

• The elimination of a 6 and one-half sales tax on replacement equipment for business;

• To continue to push for reform in workman's compensation laws and costs;

• Putting additional funding into regional Minnesota Initiative Funds;

• And, putting a hold on tax increases.

If anyone didn't think the governor was serious, Dyrstad said the governor had just vetoed the tax bill which included tax increases.

Each year, for the past 29 years, the President of the United States designates a week in May as Small Business week. This year's theme was "Small Business: Helping Build America's Future."

In Thief River Falls Small Business Week is celebrated by offering workshops, luncheons, a recognition and awards breakfast and other activities. This year, Annette's Fabrics was singled out as Business of the Year. Jackie Filipy of Jacalyn Gallery & Gifts, was named Entrepreneur of the Year.

Net sales of Arctco up

earnings for the fiscal year were $18,011,000 or 93 cents per share, an increase of 36 per cent from net earnings of $13,245,000 or 69 cents per share for fiscal 1992.

Weighted average shares outstanding and earnings per share figures have been adjusted to reflect a three-for-two common stock split completed in April of 1993, Delmore said.

Fiscal 1993 marked the 10th consecutive year of increased retail sales of Arctic Cat snowmobiles and the initial production and sales of the Tigershark personal watercraft.

Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer of Arctco, said the officers were pleased with the fiscal 1993 performance.

"Looking ahead as we enter fiscal 1994," he said, "snowmobile industry inventories are at historically low levels. Based on the snowmobile orders received to date and expected personal watercraft orders, we anticipate a substantial increase in fiscal 1994 revenues."

One of the featured overseas groups to perform August 20, 21 and 22 during the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire will be the German orchestra "Steinbach-Musikanten." The seven members come from areas of the Black Forest to the Swiss border to Scheffheusen to Basil in the foothills of the Alps and range in age from 23 to 30. The festival will also feature groups from Norway and Sweden as well as Native Americans and frontiersmen. Major sponsors of the event are St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator, KTRF-KSNR radio and Northwest Beverage. Arts and crafts applications are available through L.G. Promotions at 724 Arnold Avenue North in Thief River Falls, phone 681-1973.

Rethinking Pollution Clean-up Policy

Elmer L. Andersen, publisher of the Anoka County Union and former Governor of Minnesota, is right on the money with his comments on pollution clean-up responsibility. He writes as follows:

When it began to be evident that pollution from waste dumps was finding its way into groundwater supplies and that air pollution was threatening the ozone layer which makes life on earth possible, the people became strongly environmentally mended. People demanded that pollution stop, that recycling of solid waste begin, that hazardous waste have special handling, that there be better waste management everywhere, and that harmful sites, from many years of waste accumulation, be closed and cleaned up.

It was felt, naturally enough, that those who did the polluting should pay for the clean-up. This became the rule even though the polluting may have been within the law at the time it was done and the entire population was at fault in not taking the warnings of the few seriously.

The law went further, in Minnesota, providing that if many firms used a dump and some of the polluters were out of business and beyond reach, those remaining, even if only one, should foot the entire bill for the clean-up. Obviously larger, more permanent and responsible firms thought this was unfair and, like 3M, looked elsewhere for expansion.

A superfund was set up in Washington to work on pollution clean-up. Most of the funds disbursed have gone for legal fees as firms disputed their responsibility and sought to narrow their responsibility. Very little has been accomplished in actual clean-up. A major offender, incidentally, is the U.S. military and it is under no legal constraint to do anything, but has acted voluntarily in some extreme cases.

It has also developed that if a person or corporation purchases property it inherits whatever pollution problems exist on the property and is responsible for its correction. This makes the purchase of property hazardous.

It would seem reasonable that current activity anti-pollution laws be enforced rigidly and violators of those laws be held to account. However, pollution that occurred in years past, without violating laws that then existed, should now be a public responsibility. The present "goal syndrome" is unfair, wasteful, unconstitutional and unworkable. We need to get on with the job of actual clean-up, holding governmental subdivisions and agencies to the same standard of accountability as private entities.

Similarly, before property is sold there should be a requirement of pollution checking and a determination, if any is found, if it is the public's or the selling owner's responsibility. It should not be passed on to an innocent purchaser.

We need to rethink how pollution and waste management is to be handled, with a goal of clean-up and prevention, recognizing that generations of neglect must be a shared public responsibility.

Education Commissioner Pleased By Math Scores

According to the latest national mathematics assessment, Minnesota again ranks among the top states in the nation and scores among the state's eighth graders show a significant improvement over the previous assessment two years ago.

"These results are especially gratifying because they reflect the important work the state and many local districts have been doing to incorporate national mathematics standards into classroom instruction," states Gene Mammenga, state commissioner of education.

"We've still got a long way to go before we can say that all or most of our students are performing at the higher levels of proficiency required by a changing, more demanding world, but this assessment suggests we are moving in the right direction," he added.

It is always heartening to see our students do well in comparison with others, but despite the improvement we are a long way from perfection. In actuality, only 37 per cent of the state's eighth graders and 27 per cent of the fourth graders had reached the level of "proficient," the federally designated standard of solid academic performance. At the same time, 21 per cent of eighth graders and 28 per cent of fourth graders scored below the lowest level of competency—"basic." National percentages were 39 and 41, respectively.

There is optimism in the assessment results because they show that attention and emphasis can indeed bring about results. It shows that teachers of mathematics, given the opportunity and the incentive to stress achievement have the interest and the ability to bring about accomplishment.

The conclusion can also be drawn that similar emphasis in other areas of study can also bring about positive results. It is possible to emphasize some subjects to the detriment of others? Perhaps. But some success is better than no success, and the direction seems to be right.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I would like to commend all the busy people who can stop and take time to clean ditches! It sure is enjoyable to drive along the highway and have the ditches clean.

It's too bad there have to be "pigs" who also drive along these highways. Is it too much to ask to keep garbage in your vehicle until you get home or to a wayside rest where garbage cans are available?

Also, to all you "party animals" who party west of town, PLEASE stop throwing garbage, especially glass, as this breaks and shatters all over the place. There are quite a few people who use this area for recreational purposes and it's not as enjoyable when trash and broken glass are scattered everywhere.

Didn't your parents teach you to respect our earth? Clean up your act; you're not the only ones using the land.

Have people forgotten that it is against the law to litter our highways? Hopefully you trash throwers get caught and have to pay a large fine. Better yet, you should "Adopt a Highway" and clean your own mess.

To all who have adopted a highway, keep up the good work; I know we will.

Sincerely,
Maria Smsky

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter for the sake of all parents and children who are unaware of a current "fad" which many of our children are either involved with or are being subjected to, and it is extremely dangerous.

On Saturday afternoon, we discovered a 13-year-old who was causing our children to pass out by putting pressure on the two main arteries to their brain. Our eight-year-old had just come to when we approached, and was very pale and disoriented. He didn't know where he was or what had happened.

Shortly afterward he began to vomit. It took a full half hour before any color returned to his face, and even then, he continued to feel "sick" and suffer from a headache.

The boy who was doing this to the children did not realize the dangers involved. He stated that all the kids at school are doing it, and simply thought it was harmless fun. This is not harmless fun! These actions can result in serious consequences.

The other form of this is to inflict the passing out on oneself. Apparently it causes a very short "high." This has currently become popular in our schools and neighborhoods and needs to be stopped. If kids insist on making themselves pass out, then there is nothing I can do to stop that, but please do not involve smaller children. I have heard of cases where the child will go into seizures, or in a worst case scenario, never regain consciousness. This is especially dangerous to children who may have an existing health condition.

There is nothing funny about watching a small child lose consciousness and lie helplessly on the ground. All kids who are involved with this need to think seriously of the dangers before considering inflicting this on others. It's not a game!

Sincerely,
Kevin and Karla Gerardy

Tim Finseth to seek Dist. 1B position

Tim Finseth of Warren has officially announced his candidacy for State Representative to fill the vacancy to be created by the resignation of Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls. Finseth will seek endorsement of the Independent-Republican party.

Rep. Sparby of Thief River Falls has announced he will resign following the 1993 legislative session. He has been appointed director of the Minnesota office of the federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Finseth has worked for the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District since 1989 and been manager of the office since 1990. He and his wife Ruth purchased a farmstead six miles south of Warren and have resided there since 1989.

Raised on a small grain and beef farm south of Oklee, he farmed with his brother while attending college. He graduated from Northland Community College in 1984 and from Moorhead State University in 1987.

During his college years he worked one quarter as an aide to Sen. LeRoy Stumpf in St. Paul. In 1986 he also took one quarter off from school and ran as a candidate for State Representative in District 2B.

Tim Finseth

Tim was also a candidate for State Representative in District 1B last fall, losing to Rep. Sparby.

A member and deacon of the Evangelical Covenant church in Warren, he is also a member of the Warren Jaycees, the Warren Snowcat Club and the Thief River Falls chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters association.

He was recently appointed to the Governor's Committee of the Minnesota Sustainable Development Initiative for Agriculture.

"I have received so many requests to run for the legislature again," he said. "When asked I didn't even have to think about it. I would enjoy having the opportunity to serve the people of District 1B as their State Representative."

Police will no longer open car doors free

Effective June 1, 1993, police in Thief River Falls will no longer open car doors.

Thief River Falls City Councilman Dale Wennberg noted that it was a tough decision to reach. The decision occurred because of prior abuses of the policy to open car doors for free in non-emergency situations, the willingness of a private contractor to open car doors, and liability risk factors in opening car doors.

This will end a practice by the police that has been viewed as a public relations tool for years. Last year, however, police opened over 1,100 car doors.

Wennberg said he hopes this will lead people to take precautions not to lock keys in the car. He suggested that automobile owners have spare keys made and to keep one in a wallet.

Kip and Chuck's Lock & Key Shop (681-2453), has agreed to take over the service. The service, however, will no longer be free. The cost of opening a car door is expected to range from $20 to $35.

NW Medical Center to install phone system; delays are expected

Northwest Medical Center will be switching over to a new telephone system beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 18. Medical Center administrators are asking residents not to make non-emergency telephone calls to the facility between the hours of 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

In the event of an emergency situation, area residents are asked to contact the Law Enforcement Center by dialing 911.

Chief Executive Officer Dick Spyhalski said they expect the new telephone system to be partially installed in 20 minutes or less. He said he hopes the entire system will be fully operational by 8:30 p.m. Telephone numbers and extension numbers will remain the same with the new system.

During the period that the old system is being switched to the new system, callers may experience a ring with no answer or a busy signal. If there is an emergency situation, callers are asked to dial 911 and contact the law enforcement center.

"Your cooperation and understanding is very much appreciated," said Spyhalski.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew... saving an labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

"I'm not real good at holding back," laughs Neal McCoy. McCoy is an on stage dynamo, a showman in the classic sense - one who sings cutting-edge country and never forgets for an instant that he is, first and foremost, an entertainer. "AT THIS MOMENT," McCoy's 1992 debut album, yielded the country single, "This Time I Hurt Her More (Than She Loves Me)," whose companion video clip grabbed the #1 spot on both Country Music Television and The Nashville Network.

Education Foundation boosts educational experience in TRF

Three years ago it was an alumni association. Today, the Thief River Falls Education Foundation has a nine-member board of directors that oversees an endowment fund of over $65,000, and contributes to special programs and scholarships. It also has 485 members and sends out thousands of newsletters three times a year.

Thief River Falls Education Foundation was founded with a mission to help improve the quality of education by raising and allocating money for projects and equipment in the Thief River Falls public schools. The objectives of the Foundation include improving student achievement, motivating students to learn and improving instructional techniques.

Hank Hallstrom, executive director, summed up the purpose of the endowment fund as to "potentially help educators do those things they would like to do but don't have the money for."

Last year, the endowment fund accrued about $1,800 in interest. That money was used for innovative programs such as the Jr. Great Books program and Climb.

Since its inception on March 15, 1990, the Foundation has raised $65,000 for its endowment fund, and has 485 members. Hallstrom said 31 people joined the Foundation in the last month.

Hallstrom also noted that they receive dedicated funds, and memorials. When they receive a memorial they send cards to the people involved which states that they have received a donation to the Foundation in memory of the person indicated.

The Education Foundation is totally separate from the school district and is operated by an elected board of directors. It is governed by bylaws and articles of incorporation and is an approved tax exempt organization eligible to receive charitable contributions.

Membership in the Foundation is open to everyone. Contributions can be made annually at one of many levels. Members are also entitled to one vote on matters submitted to a vote of the members.

Roger Tunberg, president, noted that an annual meeting will be held beginning 7 a.m. July 13 at the District Service Center. Three-year terms of Jim Winjum, John Sezverson and Jane Mattson are up for election.

Thief River Falls Education Foundation works closely with the Academic boosters. It also helps with class reunions where it can, such as by providing class lists and arranging for tours at local schools.

Area school board elections planned

Many area school districts will hold school board elections on May 18. Most of the candidates running for office are running unopposed. Only one school district is faced with an issue on the ballot other than school board elections. Consolidation of the school districts in Warren and Alvarado will be on the ballot for those two school districts.

According to the Warren Sheaf, the new district would be the Warren/Alvarado District and the name of the teams and organizations would be named the Ponies.

In the Warren school district, Linda Tum and Dwight Anderson have filed for re-election and will have no opposition. In the Alvarado school district, incumbents Larry Gross and Rahn Farder have filed for re-election but they face opposition from Mrs. Robin (LuAnn) Johnson. The two positions on the ballot are for three-year terms.

Polling places and times for Warren are from 4 to 8 p.m. May 18 at the Warren high school.

In Goodridge, School District 561, two incumbents, John Gallagher and Norma Hanson, face a challenge from Alan Swanson and Tony Rubischko for the two three-year terms. There are no other issues on the ballot. The polling places and times are from 5 to 8 p.m. May 18 at the Goodridge school lobby.

In Grygla, School District 447, the two incumbents, Gary Anderson and Susan Schuler, have filed for re-election. The term of office for the two positions on the ballot is three years. Polling places and times are from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Grygla school, Gatzke school, and Skeim township hall.

In Middle River, School District 440, two incumbents, Donna Nelson and Arlette Pearson, have filed for re-election to the two three-year terms on the ballot. Polling places and times are from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Middle River school on May 18.

In Newfolden, School District 441, there are three positions on the ballot. Two incumbents have decided not to file for re-election. David Bakke and Doyle Harstad did not file for re-election. Candidates who have filed for the positions include: Donna Fosholm, an incumbent, Scott Peters and Keith Ranum. Polling places and times are from 3 to 8 p.m. at the Holt community center, Viking elementary school and Newfolden elementary school on May 18.

In Oklee, School District 627, both incumbents have filed for re-election. David Bochond and James Dulka have filed for the two three-year terms on the ballot. Polling places and times are from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Oklee school cafeteria on May 18.

In Plummer, School District 628, Betty Halvorson and Ron Freyholtz have filed for the two three-year terms on the ballot. After many years of dedicated service, Jerry Gerardy chose not to file for re-election. The school board election is scheduled from 5 to 8 p.m. May 18 in the school multi-purpose room.

School districts in Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls conduct their school board elections in the fall.

Wheat growers ask zero reduction from ag dep't.

National Association of Wheat Growers has asked that the U.S. Department of Agriculture maintain a zero per cent acreage reduction program for 1994 as the best way for wheat growers to maximize their productive capacities and incomes.

In a letter to USDA, NAWG President Jeff Lundberg noted that annual supply management programs actually take money away from farmers, largely because unilateral cutbacks won't alter the global wheat situation. "Wheat production outside the United States has increased in nearly every year we have diverted acres," he said. Since 1970, the combined production of our competitors — Argentina, Australia, Canada and the European Community — has grown 115 per cent, thus negating U.S. efforts to curtail production, he said.

Lundberg, a Cheyenne, WY, former and rancher said wheat growers currently have more than 18 per cent of their wheat acres out of production under other government initiatives such as the conservation reserve program, 0/92 program and the triple base program. "Taking another five per cent (or more) of our productive capacity off-line would not be in the best interest of U.S. wheat growers because the resulting higher prices would not cover lower levels of government income protection and the inefficient use of resources."

USDA is required to announce the 1994 wheat ARP by May 31. The Clinton Administration has proposed three options for the 1994 ARP: 5, 10 and 15 per cent.

The 1993 ARP is zero per cent; the 1992 ARP was five per cent.

Area school board elections planned

Many area school districts will hold school board elections on May 18. Most of the candidates running for office are running unopposed. Only one school district is faced with an issue on the ballot other than school board elections. Consolidation of the school districts in Warren and Alvarado will be on the ballot for those two school districts.

According to the Warren Sheaf, the new district would be the Warren/Alvarado District and the name of the teams and organizations would be named the Ponies.

In the Warren school district, Linda Tum and Dwight Anderson have filed for re-election and will have no opposition. In the Alvarado school district, incumbents Larry Gross and Rahn Farder have filed for re-election but they face opposition from Mrs. Robin (LuAnn) Johnson. The two positions on the ballot are for three-year terms.

Polling places and times for Warren are from 4 to 8 p.m. May 18 at the Warren high school.

In Goodridge, School District 561, two incumbents, John Gallagher and Norma Hanson, face a challenge from Alan Swanson and Tony Rubischko for the two three-year terms. There are no other issues on the ballot. The polling places and times are from 5 to 8 p.m. May 18 at the Goodridge school lobby.

In Grygla, School District 447, the two incumbents, Gary Anderson and Susan Schuler, have filed for re-election. The term of office for the two positions on the ballot is three years. Polling places and times are from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Grygla school, Gatzke school, and Skeim township hall.

In Middle River, School District 440, two incumbents, Donna Nelson and Arlette Pearson, have filed for re-election to the two three-year terms on the ballot. Polling places and times are from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Middle River school on May 18.

In Newfolden, School District 441, there are three positions on the ballot. Two incumbents have decided not to file for re-election. David Bakke and Doyle Harstad did not file for re-election. Candidates who have filed for the positions include: Donna Fosholm, an incumbent, Scott Peters and Keith Ranum. Polling places and times are from 3 to 8 p.m. at the Holt community center, Viking elementary school and Newfolden elementary school on May 18.

In Oklee, School District 627, both incumbents have filed for re-election. David Bachand and James Dulka have filed for the two three-year terms on the ballot. Polling places and times are from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Oklee school cafeteria on May 18.

In Plummer, School District 628, Betty Halvorson and Ron Freyholtz have filed for the two three-year terms on the ballot. After many years of dedicated service, Jerry Gerardy chose not to file for re-election. The school board election is scheduled from 5 to 8 p.m. May 18 in the school multi-purpose room.

School districts in Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls conduct their school board elections in the fall.

Wheat growers ask zero reduction from ag dep't.

National Association of Wheat Growers has asked that the U.S. Department of Agriculture maintain a zero per cent acreage reduction program for 1994 as the best way for wheat growers to maximize their productive capacities and incomes.

In a letter to USDA, NAWG President Jeff Lundberg noted that annual supply management programs actually take money away from farmers, largely because unilateral cutbacks won't alter the global wheat situation. "Wheat production outside the United States has increased in nearly every year we have diverted acres," he said. Since 1970, the combined production of our competitors — Argentina, Australia, Canada and the European Community — has grown 115 per cent, thus negating U.S. efforts to curtail production, he said.

Lundberg, a Chyenne, WY. farmer and rancher said wheat growers currently have more than 18 per cent of their wheat acres out of production under other government initiatives such as the conservation reserve program, 0/92 program and the triple base program. "Taking another five per cent (or more) of our productive capacity off-line would not be in the best interest of U.S. wheat growers because the resulting higher prices would not cover lower levels of government income protection and the inefficient use of resources."

USDA is required to announce the 1994 wheat ARP by May 31. The Clinton Administration has proposed three options for the 1994 ARP: 5, 10 and 15 per cent.

The 1993 ARP is zero per cent; the 1992 ARP was five per cent.

Thief River Falls girls...

Golf scores improving

Eleven of the 13 Section 8AA teams were on hand for the Park Rapids Invitational girls high school golf tournament Wednesday – getting a feel for the course where the state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA meet will be held June 2.

However, Class A schools were the top two finishers in the 22-team field – Staples Area with a 352 and Fosston at 355. Alexandria was the top finishing Class AA school with a third place 363. Thief River Falls turned in a 12th place 411 – the Prowlers' best score ever at Park Rapids.

"We had a good day," reported Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell. "The girls played well."

The Prowlers' best score of the season was a 389 in their previous outing at Roseau earlier in the week, but the 411 at Park Rapids was just as solid, according to Cornell. "The Park Rapids course is 20 shots tougher," he said. "It's longer and it has more hills."

Marc Haugen is No. 1 pick in USHL draft

by Sports Editor Mike Lundgreo

Marc Haugen has always been a man for all seasons. He played football each fall, hockey every winter and baseball in the spring and summer. And he played them well – well enough to attract college interest in all three sports.

But hockey is his first love, and that is the path the Lincoln High School senior will follow upon graduation. The No. 1 pick in the recent United States Hockey League draft by Madison, Wisconsin, Haugen said he will play a year or two of Juniors in hopes of eventually realizing his long-time dream of landing a scholarship from an NCAA Division I program.

Bemidji State and Moorhead State recruited Haugen for football, the University of North Dakoto had talked to him about baseball, and UND, St. Cloud and Wisconsin all invited him to try his luck as a hockey walk-on.

The most serious recruiting efforts came in football, where the high school runningback/defensive back was projected as a wide receiver.

"I told them (recruiters) I wanted to wait and see what might happen in hockey," said Haugen. "I was thinking hockey all along."

Madison officials contacted Haugen two days before the April 28 USHL draft to inform him of their intentions, then called him the day after the re-stocking process by each of the 10 teams to confirm the selection. The news became public earlier this week.

"I'm excited about the opportunity," said Haugen. "I'm looking forward to it. It's a preliminary step. The ultimate goal is still D-One."

Haugen will report to training/try-out camp in Madison June 24-26, then return for the start of preseason workouts the first part of September.

The USHL, which began operation in 1979, also has Minnesota franchises in St. Paul and Rochester; Iowa entries Dubuque, Des Moines, Sioux City, Waterloo, and North Iowa; along with Omaha, Nebraska and Thunder Bay, Ontario. The USHL is open to players who are 19 or under on Aug. 31 of the year they begin play in the league.

Backers of Junior hockey sell the program by stressing the opportunity to earn college hockey scholarships by players who use the program to add maturity, strength and experience through a 48-game regular season schedule.

A defenseman in the Thief River Falls youth and high school hockey programs, Haugen was drafted by Wisconsin as a forward. He doesn't see the position change as a problem as he tries to secure a spot on the 25-man roster.

Haugen will join classmate Aaron Broten in Juniors next winter. Broten elected to give up his senior year of high school hockey in 1992-93 to play at Waterloo. Broten wanted two years of Junior hockey under his belt, and because of his birthdate, had to leave the Prowlers after his junior year to attain that goal.

"It was tough leaving home as a high school senior, but it's something I wanted to do," said Broten. "I want to get a college scholarship. I think the opportunity is still there."

Broten went to classes at 1,700-student Waterloo West High School from 8:30-11:30 a.m., then attended daily hockey practice from 1-3 p.m. that were followed by weight room work. Games were played every Friday and Saturday, with an occasional Sunday contest. He returned to Thief River Falls March 18 after Waterloo had been eliminated in the playoffs to finish school and graduate with his Thief River Falls classmates.

Waterloo finished seventh in the 10-team USHL, losing three straight in a post-season series against Des Moines that began with a triple-overtime affair. They did beat national champion Dubuque three times in five regular season matchups.

Broten, who finished with 10 goals and 10 assists, played regularly as a second line forward. He was on the top Waterloo penalty killing unit and on the second power play group.

"I felt I fit in," offered Broten. "It takes a while to adjust. It's much more physical than high school. The players are much bigger, faster and stronger. You fit in if you're not afraid to mix it up. You can't show fear. Rookies get tested early. You have to earn a position. You've got to go into the corners. There are fights, and they let it go until you hit the ground, but the league was actually cleaner than I had anticipated."

Broten's second year of Juniors will not be played at Waterloo. He asked the team to release his rights so he could try out for Rochester. His rights also belong to Colorado of the newly-formed Frontier League, with teams based primarily in the western United States. The Colorado try-outs will be later this month; the Rochester try-outs are scheduled for July.

For those with sights set on college hockey, Juniors affords a chance to chase those dreams. Two years ago Thief River Falls' John Seaverson was a top USHL draft pick by Sioux City. He played the 1991-92 season, but then gave up the sport and is currently a student at St. Cloud State.

That same fall Marc Haugen's brother, Ryan, tried out and earned a spot on the Rochester roster. But prospects of playing time was limited as the Mustangs' No. 3 goalie, so Haugen left and is now attending Northland Community College.

"It's hard to get the sport out of your system when you've been involved in it since age 5 (or even younger for some). Juniors allows players who obviously have some talent and potential to explore those opportunities.

Spuds rock Prowlers

Moorhead scored nine times in the first inning Monday and rolled to a 16-0 North Sub-Section 8AA boys high school baseball win over Thief River Falls at Matson Field.

Josh Arnold stopped the Prowlers with a one-hit pitching performance – a game-opening single by Jason Svir.

"We didn't have many strike-outs, but we didn't hit the ball very hard, either," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff.

Rob Orsmer was 3-for-3, Scott Kohler drove in four runs, while Jon Brunsberg had two doubles and three RBI for the 8-2 Spuds, who combined 14 hits with six Thief River Falls errors.

Losing pitcher Rick Ostby gave way to Joby Looker in the fourth inning.

"They hit the ball, and we didn't give him (Ostby) much help on defense," said Wensloff.

Prowlers beat Jacks 6-3

You couldn't blame Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff for being a little apprehensive heading into Thursday's high school baseball match-up against Bemidji at Irv Wilson Field. Although the Prowlers took a 9-4 record into the game, they were just 2-3 against North Sub-Section 8AA teams, and had given up 47 runs in those five Class AA starts.

But the puzzle pieces all fell in place this time as the Prowlers combined solid pitching, defense and offense into a 6-3 win over a Bemidji team that had beaten them 11-10 earlier this spring.

Sophomore Eric Bjorgaard gave up six hits, walked four and hit two batters in five innings of work, but got the outs when he needed them to get the win. Marc Haugen then filled the role of stopper with two innings of one-hit relief for the save.

"You've got to like the effort of the pitching staff today," said Wensloff. "Eric went out there and did a nice job. He mixed speeds, threw strikes and kept them off balance. He got in trouble a couple of times, but he got through it. Then More came in and slammed the door. That's what you need, someone who can come in and get the job done at the end."

Thief River Falls has had trouble at times coming up with hits this spring, but the Prowlers got nine of them off Bemidji righthander Paul Oelrich, including four in a three-run first inning. Jason Svir, Nathan Knutson and Rick Ostby were all 2-for-3. Ostby had a pair of doubles; Svir came up with three stolen bases.

"We hit the ball hard today," noted Wensloff. "We hit some real shots. If the wind hadn't been blowing I think a couple of those would have been over the fence."

An RBI single by Matt Stevens gave Bemidji a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but the Prowlers' first three batters in the bottom of the inning – Svir, Wade Evenson, Carter Rogalla – all reached base and scored. Rogalla had an RBI single, Steve Burshe plated a run with a sacrifice fly and Rogalla came home on a wild pitch for a 3-1 lead.

An RBI single by University of Minnesota-bound football standout Luke Glimo pulled Bemidji within 3-2 in the second inning, but a two-out single by Knutson and a double by Ostby made it 4-2 in the third.

Another RBI single by Glime in the fourth once again made it a one-run game and the Lumberjacks had a chance to tie it in the sixth before a defensive play by Knutson at second base preserved the Thief River Falls lead.

Knutson reached a two-out infield single behind the bag by Oelrich, but elected not to make what would have been a late throw to first. However, when a Bemidji pinch runner rounded third and tried to score from second on the play, Knutson threw a strike to the plate and Svir made the tag for a lead-preserving third out.

"Knutson made the key play in the game," pointed out Wensloff. "That was a good heads-up play on his part."

Thief River Falls tacked on a pair of insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth on a run-producing dropped fly ball in the outfield and an RBI single by Haugen.

Oelrich walked two and struck out two in taking the loss. He also joined Olime and Stevens in the two-hit department on offense.

"This was a good high school baseball game," said Wensloff. "It was a real good win for us."

Bemidji fell to 8-6.

Lincoln boys turn in mixed results in golf

Thief River Falls boys high school golf team followed a good outing Saturday at the Roseau Invitational with a not-so-good performance Tuesday at the Detroit Lakes Invitational.

The Prowlers were sixth in an 11-team field at Roseau with a four-man 334 – their best score of the year, but wound up 21st in a 24-team event at Detroit Lakes with a five-man 462. The Thief River Falls score at Roseau averaged out to 83.5 per man; the Prowlers' average at Detroit Lakes rose to 92.4.

"I was pleased with the scores on Saturday," said Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "Tuesday was a bad day. They couldn't keep the ball in the fairway. We had a lot of big numbers. They were not happy and I was not happy."

Northland settles for split

■ Northwest Division twinbill at Hibbing

They were two good, close baseball games, and both sides got a win out of the deal, but a Minnesota Community College Conference split at Hibbing Tuesday did Northland little good in its fading Northern Division playoff hopes.

The Pioneers won the first game 3-1. The Cardinals won an extra-inning 3-2 second-game decision. Northland went to 8-13-1 overall with the split; 7-7 in the Northern Division where they are trying to secure a top-two state tournament-qualifying position.

"We're playing at the level we have to play to be competitive," noted Northland coach Terry Wiscth. "But we needed a sweep. A split didn't help us at all."

Northland completes its 1993 regular season schedule with Northern Division doubleheaders Monday at Itasca, Wednesday vs. University of Minnesota-Crookston and Saturday vs. Fergus Falls.

Northland	3
Hibbing	1

A first-inning triple play and a sixth inning double play got Northland out of trouble and the Pioneers went on to beat Hibbing 3-1 in the doubleheader opener.

The win went to Parrish Tatum. A save went to Mitch Bernstein, who came on in relief in the sixth to get the Pioneers out of a bases-loaded one-out jam.

Northland scored twice in the first inning without the benefit of a base hit, then iced it with an RBI single by Kelly Gray in the sixth.

Noland Desjarlait was 2-for-2 and Kelly Gray went 2-for-4 as the Pioneers out-hit the Cardinals 8-5.

John Pearson was the Northland starting pitcher. Mitch Bernstein took the loss in relief over the final two innings.

Northland softball team finishes season at 1-15

Losses to Normandale 16-0 and Willmar 12-1 at the May 8 Hibbing Invitational wrapped up a 1-15 season for the Northland Community College softball team.

The Pioneers, who were 0-17 a year ago under Sue Barnd, went 1-15 this spring under Rick Nikunen. The lone victory was a late-season forfeit against shorthanded Mesabi.

"In almost every game there was always a glimmer of positive things," explained Nikunen. "But we also always found a way to lose every game."

Noticeable improvement was made in the Pioneers' offense and defense throughout the spring, but the pitching just wasn't there.

"I was real happy with the development of our positional players from the beginning to the end of the season," noted Nikunen. "We just didn't have the experienced pitcher you need be successful in fast pitch softball. Our pitchers certainly tried their best, but they just didn't have the experience."

Normandale	16

It was already 9-0 when Normandale came up with seven runs in the top of the seventh inning to finish off Northland 16-0 in first round play.

Doubles by Kim Peterson and Trish Prickett represented the Pioneers' hit total.

Lana Pittman was the losing pitcher.

Freshman ties TRF high jump mark

A school record-tying effort in the girls high jump by freshman Kamie Twomey highlighted the Thief River Falls performances at the Gerrells Invitational high school track meet Monday in Grand Forks.

Twomey finished third in the event by clearing the five-foot mark.

"We're really happy for her, and for our track program," said Thief River Falls girls coach Olenn Chiodo. "It's quite an accomplishment for someone to come out for a sport for the first time and come up with a record performance like that."

The large meet produced a 15th place tie for the Thief River Falls girls in a 23-team field, and a tie for 12th by the Thief River Falls boys among 22 entries.

"We saw some high-powered teams," noted Chiodo. "We're happy with our progress. We had some good times."

Thief River Falls boys were led by senior Shane Skeim with a second in the discus and a third in the shot.

"It was a good meet," said Thief River Falls boys coach Tim Olson. "We had some good times; some personal-bests. We're satisfied."

Marc Haugen was 2-for-3 and drove in three runs to lead the Prowlers to their ninth win in 13 starts.

Joby Looker was the starting and winning pitcher. Jason Olson came on in relief in the sixth, with Haugen finishing off the win with 1 1/3 innings of relief work.

"Marc had a nice day," said Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "We didn't do a whole lot on offense, but they gave us some opportunities to score some runs."

Northland, BSU JV split baseball doubleheader...

Big innings produced winners Tuesday as the Northland Community College and Bemidji State University junior varsity baseball teams split a doubleheader in Bemidji.

An eight-run sixth carried the Beavers to a 10-0 first-game victory, while a seven-run tenth gave the Pioneers a 14-7 extra-inning second-game decision.

"It was nice to come back and get a split," noted Northland coach Terry Wiseth.

Anglers must carry license with them

When an estimated 1.5 million Minnesota anglers head to the lakes for the 1993 fishing opener May 15, some of them will leave their licenses at home. Failing to carry fishing licenses is one of the most common violations found by Department of Natural Resources conservation officers each year.

Conservation officers, who will be busy checking fishing licenses and watercraft registrations statewide during opening weekend, remind anglers to purchase their licenses and make sure to have them in possession when fishing.

Last year, more than 1,200 people in Minnesota were found to be in violation of license requirements, according to the DNR.

The 1993 fishing licenses are readily available statewide at all county auditors offices and bait/sport shops.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

husband George through a fence, bending the steel fence post 45 degrees.

The ostriches use their legs as weapons. Their reptilesque feet reach a foot in length, with a sharp talon on the larger of their two toes.

They can also throw their weight around. Gemar stood about 20 feet, or two ostrich strides, away from one bird. In split seconds she was lying on her injured back, the victim of a 400 pound ostrich hit-and-run.

Ostriches will also attack other unfamiliar ostriches, and for this reason the two 2-year-old ostriches are separated from the younger seven and eight-month-old ostriches.

Ostriches assert their dominance by stretching their necks. They will become intimidated by a leaf rake if the fan is held higher than the bird.

"One day David was inside the fence and one started getting feisty and so he just held his hand up above him," Don said. "The thing just raised his neck that much higher and Gary said 'You'd better get out of there.'"

Don develops good rapport with his birds. The ostriches appear playful, continually snatching the hat off Don's head. Don grabs his hat back, and the ostrich pulls it off his head again, like a rehearsed slapstick gag.

The ostriches take turns chasing each other and occasionally spin around in a circle for no apparent reason.

"The fun part of it is getting them to follow you," Don said. "It's kind of a novelty — seven of these stretched out ostriches following wherever I walk."

Ostriches have become a hot property in recent years. The ostrich business is a breeders' market — ostriches are bought and sold almost solely for breeding.

A three-month-old ostrich sells for around $4,000, up from $2,500 a year ago. When they reach mating age, a fertile hen may cost as much as $60,000.

The business is gaining in popularity. Three ostrich breeders reside near Clearbrook and one near Fosston.

The American Ostrich Association reports 2,500 members. Their last convention in Las Vegas drew 2,300 people — up from 600 people at their convention two years ago.

When the market is saturated, breeders will sell the ostriches for a variety of uses. The feathers are used as dusters. Painters value their eye lashes as brush bristles. The red meat is low in cholesterol and tastes more like beef than poultry. Gary estimated the current price per pound of ostrich meat at $40.

Gemar, who began raising ostriches in 1986, initiated her brothers' interest in ostriches. They began purchasing ostriches from her last year. She hauled them from Montana to Gully via horse trailer.

Gary, who preaches with the Gloryland Gospel Team, looks to them as a retirement investment. "You lay awake once in a while and if there's a noise outside you wonder 'Is my little birdie still alive?,'" Gary said.

"The cost of the birds is enough to scare you," Don said, "because you hate to lose them and you can't insure them until they're six months old."

The birds are protected from ostrich thieves by an identification computer chip injected via hypodermic needle into their necks. A special scanner is used to detect the chip.

The Johnsons work hard to keep the birds healthy. They feed the nine ostriches about one 50-pound bag of alfalfa-based pellets each day. A healthy ostrich can live for 70 years.

To escape predators in the wild, ostriches act healthy and pretend to eat food even if near death. "When a bird goes down, it's so far gone it's almost too late to call a vet," Gary said.

They lost one ostrich to an unknown illness and almost lost another. They spent a few weeks taking turns sleeping in the barn, keeping an eye on the sick bird.

When the bird is sick they need to feed it by pushing a tube down it's throat and pouring in a liquid mixture of alfalfa-based feed, vegetable oil and Gatorade (it's high in electrolytes).

The throat won't open unless something is going down, so someone blows in the tube while it is inserted. "What's really miserable about the whole thing is you shove that tube until it enters into the stomach and you have to have it timed just right otherwise the stomach gases come right back at you," Gary said. "That's what you call commitment."

Once the birds are breeding age, (three years old for males and two years old for females) the brothers are debating whether they should sell the birds and raise chicks again, or if they should hatch them. Four of the birds are female, four are male and one is unknown. Ostrich gender is difficult to determine at a young age.

David, a pastor at the Gateway Fellowship in Ebro, might also take full responsibility for hatching the eggs.

Incubating eggs is a painstaking process. Their development must be constantly monitored in a sterile environment. Chicks also require constant supervision.

The hens must be fertilized for every egg and during breeding season lay eggs every other day. They lay about 60 eggs during one breeding season. About 60 per cent of the eggs successfully hatch.

The ostriches, named African black ostriches — a mixture of redneck and blueneck ostrich varieties — are not endangered.

In the area of myth-dispelling, ostriches do not stick their heads in the sand. They lower their long neck to the ground to camouflage themselves from predators. "A lot of people ask us about that," Don said.

Don owned a dairy operation in the eighties and now grows wheat and barley on the family farm. Does he enjoy ostriches more than cows? "Once you've been a dairy farmer you never get over it," Don reminisced.

A two-year-old ostrich snatches Don Johnson's hat while Gary Johnson (right) looks on. The ostriches also have an appetite for shiny objects such as wristwatches, buttons and earrings.

Red Lake Falls to host International Festival May 19

An all-school parade leaving Hughes elementary school at 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, will open an International Festival planned for Red Lake Falls. The parade will follow highway 32 through town to Lafayette high school.

A program called "Tour the World" will begin at 1:45 p.m. in the high school gym, comprised of performances by several student groups with a group of wacky "tourists" traveling between acts.

The "Tour the World" program will be repeated at 7 p.m., followed by booth tours and a Feast of Nations. Tour guides will lead groups from the audience through the booths, where participants may have their "passports" stamped by each country represented.

Ethnic food samples will be available in the home economics room. Grand finale will be a bonfire at the arena.

Admission is free and the festival is sponsored by the American Legion, Lion's club, American Legion Auxiliary, Sons of the American Legion, Global Studies Institute, Merchants Committee, AFRAN, Red Lake County Historical Society and School District 630, all of Red Lake Falls.

To say "thank-you" to the Thief River Falls area public for its support, the Lincoln high school choirs will perform a free concert Tuesday, May 25, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Director Darcy Reese prepared the following to explain what the concert will contain.

by Darcy Reese

The Lincoln high school choirs will end their busy year Tuesday night at their spring concert. The choirs have put in many hours during school and before and after school to make this concert special for their audience. This is the choir's way of saying thank-you to their parents and the community for making this year such a success for them.

The concert begins with the concert choir and LHS orchestra performing Vivaldi's "Gloria." The choir performed this piece in New York City during their Carnegie Hall performance tour in April. Bonnie Knapp, the orchestra director at Lincoln and for School District 564, has been working with her fine orchestra members at Lincoln to prepare them for this concert. The two groups will be performing together that evening, and I will direct both of them.

Soloists in the "Gloria" include Vanessa Anderson, Kristi Lindberg, Lori Golightly and Kathy Bergquist.

Varsity Singers will be performing two selections with a favorite one being "Danny Boy," a well-known folk song. The Freshman

Area school elections hold surprises

Several area school districts held school board elections on Tuesday. In Alvarado and Warren consolidation was approved. In Goodridge an incumbent was defeated, and in Plummer a write-in candidate was elected.

Voters in Alvarado School District 463 approved a proposal to consolidate the Alvarado and Warren school districts. The consolidation was overwhelmingly approved 165 to 47. The victory for supporters of the consolidation in Warren School District 446 was even more lopsided. Voters approved of the measure 207 to 18.

In the school board election in Alvarado, Rahn Farder, an incumbent, received 147 votes. LuAnn Johnson received 135 votes, and Larry Oross, an incumbent received 101 votes. There were only two three-year terms open on the board, which means Farder and Johnson have been elected to the board.

In the school board election in Warren, the incumbents, Linda Turn and Dwight Anderson were re-elected. Turn received 219 and Anderson 195.

In Goodridge, long time board member Norma Hanson was defeated. In the election for School District 561 a total of 153 votes were cast. John Dallagher, an incumbent, and Alan Swanson were elected to serve on the board for the two three-year terms. Dallagher received 97 votes and Swanson 74, narrowly defeating Incumbent Norman Hanson who received 72 votes. Tony Rubischko, who also ran for the school board, received 53 votes. There were several other write-in candidates, but they received less than five votes.

In School District 447 in Drygla, the two incumbents, Gary Anderson and Susan Schuler, were re-elected. There were a total of 52 votes cast. Schuler received 45 votes, and Anderson received 48.

In School District 440 in Middle River, a total of 44 votes were cast, and the two incumbents, Donna Nelson and Arlette Pearson, were re-elected. Nelson received 44 votes. Pearson received 42 votes.

In School District 441 in Newfolden, there were three positions on the ballot. Although there were six write-in candidates who received votes, the three official candidates, Donna Fosholm, Scott Peters, and Keith Ranum were elected. Fosholm received 65 votes. Peters received 66 votes, and Ranum 72. A total of 84 votes were cast.

In School District 627 in Oklee, two write-in candidates received a substantial number of votes, but not enough to upset the two incumbents who had filed for re-election. A total of 128 votes were cast. David Bachand received 78 votes and James Dulka received 76 votes. The two write-in candidates receiving the most votes were Carolyn Rystad and Phyllis Melby. Both individuals received 43 votes. There were several other write-in candidates but they didn't receive more than 10 votes each.

In School District 628 in Plummer, Roger Walter, who was a write-in candidate, upset intentions of Ron Freyholtz to serve on the school board. Betty Halvorson received 72 votes. Roger Walter narrowly defeated the other official candidate, Ron Freyholtz, by two votes. Walter received 29 votes and Freyholtz received 27 votes. Jerry Gerardy, an incumbent who chose not to file for re-election, received 11 votes as a write-in candidate. There were several other write-in candidates.

Catholic church plans spring fling on June 6

St. Bernard's Parish in Thief River Falls has been planning for their annual spring fling at Oakland Park. The fun, food and entertainment will begin 12:30 on Sunday, June 6.

Opening of ticket sales for the Tanya Tucker concert Saturday, July 24, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls has been delayed from May 17 to Monday, May 24, due to a ticket problem, according to Floyd Erickson, who is handling arrangements for county fair entertainment. The tickets will be available at Kazar Music and Hugo's Supermarket and Erickson said with an anticipated strong demand he would suggest people purchase their tickets early.

Flood control study in RR Basin begins

To begin the scoping process for an environmental assessment study, representatives of the Red River Watershed Management Board (RRWMB) met with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in St. Paul May 5 and 6.

The RRWMB is comprised of representatives from eight watershed districts in northwestern Minnesota. Gerhard Ross represents the Red Lake Watershed District, Ron Osowski represents the Middle River-Snake River Watershed District and Robert Severson represents the Roseau River Watershed District in this area.

The study in question was recently ordered by Col. Richard Craig, district engineer of the St. Paul district office of the Corps of Engineers, to assess the cumulative effects of flood control projects in the Red River Basin. Permits for three flood control projects on the Minnesota side of the Red River are being held in abeyance until the assessment is completed, or a decision is made to allow individual projects to proceed.

The permit abeyance also includes projects planned by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The impact on flood control projects on the North Dakota side of the Red River has not yet been clarified.

The RRWMB was represented at the meeting by Don Ogaard, Ada, representative of the Wild Rice Watershed District and president of the RRWMB; Dan Wilkens, Fertile, representative of the Sand Hill River Watershed District and RRWMB treasurer; and Gerald Van Amburg, Moorhead, president of the Buffalo-Red River Watershed District.

Ken Murphy of Thief River Falls, Pennington county commissioner and member of the 15-county Northwest Minnesota Joint Powers Board, also participated in the meeting.

The meeting was the first of several that will be required to define the scope or focus of the study. At the end of this initial process, a scoping document will be produced, setting the parameters of the project. The final document—the environmental assessment—will be prepared to meet the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), and it will be prepared jointly by the Corps and the DNR, with the participation of the RRWMB and other state and federal agencies.

The Corps and the DNR will act as co-chairs throughout the study process. A steering committee, representing participating state and federal agencies, will oversee a myriad of work groups and will resolve questions and problems that may develop.

Florian church—grandeur on the prairie

Assumption Catholic Church is an impressive structure, built and maintained with great pride

by Mark Dison
Staff Writer

Two crosses on the Florian Assumption Catholic Church soar into the sky, visible for miles — a strong reminder of Minnesota's Polish Catholic community.

The church towers majestically to greet visitors driving County Road 6 between Highway 59 and Highway 75. It's a surprising site for anyone expecting the traditional wood-frame, white rural church.

The impressive building is 48 by 149 feet and sided with ornate brickwork. Crosses top its twin towers, perched on top of two multi-sided domes, and rise 72 feet into the prairie air.

A few houses are scattered around the church with names such as Rominski and Adamski adorning the mailboxes. Exempting church activities and dances at the Polish National Alliance dance hall, Florian's population remains around a dozen.

Older residents occasionally speak Polish to one another. John Rominski, a life-long member of the church, recalls his elementary school teacher keeping him and the rest of the class after school for speaking Polish. "I didn't know a word of English. I knew Latin before I knew English," Rominski said. (Rominski also remembers Norwegians and Poles alternating dance halls and beating the tar out of each other.)

Latin-language services ended in 1967 after Polish sermons were replaced by English in 1962.

Florian lost its full-time priest two years ago. At that time, Sister Janice Miller was appointed pastoral administrator. The Rev. Larry Wieseler, also a priest at Stephen, gives services on Saturdays and Sundays.

When Miller came to the church, its cleanliness was one of the first things she noticed. "I have never seen scraps of paper dragging around, muddy stuff in the aisles or under the pews. They have such pride in their church that it is promptly cleaned and you see people after the liturgical gatherings just checking — even to see the books are lined up correctly," Miller said.

Keeping the large building clean can be a large task. The church has a barrel vaulted ceiling with twelve stained-glass windows lining the north and south walls and a rose window above the choir loft. The windows represent the life of the Virgin Mary. The floor is terrazzo and forms a variety of patterns in husband George through a fence, bending the steel fence post 45 degrees.

The ostriches use their legs as weapons. Their reptilesque feet reach a foot in length, with a sharp talon on the larger of their two toes.

They can also throw their weight around. Gemar stood about 20 feet, or two ostrich strides, away from one bird. In split seconds she was lying on her injured back, the victim of a 400 pound ostrich hit-and-run.

Ostriches will also attack other unfamiliar ostriches, and for this reason the two 2-year-old ostriches are separated from the younger seven and eight-month-old ostriches.

Ostriches assert their dominance by stretching their necks. They will become intimidated by a leaf rake if the fan is held higher than the bird.

"One day David was inside the fence and one started getting feisty and so he just held his hand up above him," Don said. "The thing just raised his neck that much higher and Gary said 'You'd better get out of there.'"

Don develops good rapport with his birds. The ostriches appear playful, continually snatching the hat off Don's head. Don grabs his hat back, and the ostrich pulls it off his head again, like a rehearsed slapstick gag.

The ostriches take turns chasing each other and occasionally spin around in a circle for no apparent reason.

"The fun part of it is getting them to follow you," Don said. "It's kind of a novelty — seven of these stretched out ostriches following wherever I walk."

Ostriches have become a hot property in recent years. The ostrich business is a breeders' market — ostriches are bought and sold almost solely for breeding.

A three-month-old ostrich sells for around $4,000, up from $2,500 a year ago. When they reach mating age, a fertile hen may cost as much as $60,000.

The business is gaining in popularity. Three ostrich breeders reside near Clearbrook and one near Fosston.

The American Ostrich Association reports 2,500 members. Their last convention in Las Vegas drew 2,300 people — up from 600 people at their convention two years ago.

When the market is saturated, breeders will sell the ostriches for a variety of uses. The feathers are used as dusters. Painters value their eye lashes as brush bristles. The red meat is low in cholesterol and tastes more like beef than poultry. Gary estimated the current price per pound of ostrich meat at $40.

Gemar, who began raising ostriches in 1986, initiated her brothers' interest in ostriches. They began purchasing ostriches from her last year. She hauled them from Montana to Gully via horse trailer.

Gary, who preaches with the Gloryland Gospel Team, looks to them as a retirement investment. "You lay awake once in a while and if there's a noise outside you wonder 'Is my little birdie still alive?,'" Gary said.

"The cost of the birds is enough to scare you," Don said, "because you hate to lose them and you can't insure them until they're six months old."

The birds are protected from ostrich thieves by an identification computer chip injected via hypodermic needle into their necks. A special scanner is used to detect the chip.

The Johnsons work hard to keep the birds healthy. They feed the nine ostriches about one 50-pound bag of alfalfa-based pellets each day. A healthy ostrich can live for 70 years.

To escape predators in the wild, ostriches act healthy and pretend to eat food even if near death. "When a bird goes down, it's so far gone it's almost too late to call a vet," Gary said.

They lost one ostrich to an unknown illness and almost lost another. They spent a few weeks taking turns sleeping in the barn, keeping an eye on the sick bird.

When the bird is sick they need to feed it by pushing a tube down it's throat and pouring in a liquid mixture of alfalfa-based feed, vegetable oil and Gatorade (it's high in electrolytes).

The throat won't open unless something is going down, so someone blows in the tube while it is inserted. "What's really miserable about the whole thing is you shove that tube until it enters into the stomach and you have to have it timed just right otherwise the stomach gases come right back at you," Gary said. "That's what you call commitment."

Once the birds are breeding age, (three years old for males and two years old for females) the brothers are debating whether they should sell the birds and raise chicks again, or if they should hatch them. Four of the birds are female, four are male and one is unknown. Ostrich gender is difficult to determine at a young age.

David, a pastor at the Gateway Fellowship in Ebro, might also take full responsibility for hatching the eggs.

Incubating eggs is a painstaking process. Their development must be constantly monitored in a sterile environment. Chicks also require constant supervision.

The hens must be fertilized for every egg and during breeding season lay eggs every other day. They lay about 60 eggs during one breeding season. About 60 per cent of the eggs successfully hatch.

The ostriches, named African black ostriches — a mixture of redneck and blueneck ostrich varieties — are not endangered.

In the area of myth-dispelling, ostriches do not stick their heads in the sand. They lower their long neck to the ground to camouflage themselves from predators. "A lot of people ask us about that," Don said.

Don owned a dairy operation in the eighties and now grows wheat and barley on the family farm. Does he enjoy ostriches more than cows? "Once you've been a dairy farmer you never get over it," Don reminisced.

A two-year-old ostrich snatches Don Johnson's hat while Gary Johnson (right) looks on. The ostriches also have an appetite for shiny objects such as wristwatches, buttons and earrings.

Red Lake Falls to host International Festival May 19

An all-school parade leaving Hughes elementary school at 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, will open an International Festival planned for Red Lake Falls. The parade will follow highway 32 through town to Lafayette high school.

The "Tour the World" program will be repeated at 7 p.m., followed by booth tours and a Feast of Nations. Tour guides will lead groups from the audience through the booths, where participants may have their "passports" stamped by each country represented.

Ethnic food samples will be available in the home economics room. Grand finale will be a bonfire at the arena.

Admission is free and the festival is sponsored by the American Legion, Lion's club, American Legion Auxiliary, Sons of the American Legion, Global Studies Institute, Merchants Committee, AFRAN, Red Lake County Historical Society and School District 630, all of Red Lake Falls.

New York City trip numbers among those to be performed at spring concert Tuesday

Kathy Bergquist "Gloria" Soloist

To say "thank-you" to the Thief River Falls area public for its support, the Lincoln high school choirs will perform a free concert Tuesday, May 25, at 8 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Director Darcy Reese prepared the following to explain what the concert will contain.

by Darcy Reese

The Lincoln high school choirs will end their busy year Tuesday night at their spring concert. The choirs have put in many hours during school and before and after school to make this concert special for their audience. This is the choir's way of saying thank-you to their parents and the community for making this year such a success for them.

The concert begins with the concert choir and LHS orchestra performing Vivaldi's "Gloria." The choir performed this piece in New York City during their Carnegie Hall performance tour in April. Bonnie Knapp, the orchestra director at Lincoln and for School District 564, has been working with her fine orchestra members at Lincoln to prepare them for this concert. The two groups will be performing together that evening, and I will direct both of them.

Soloists in the "Gloria" include Vanessa Anderson, Kristi Lindberg, Lori Golightly and Kathy Bergquist.

Varsity Singers will be performing two selections with a favorite one being "Danny Boy," a well-known folk song. The Freshman

Area school elections hold surprises

Several area school districts held school board elections on Tuesday. In Alvarado and Warren consolidation was approved. In Goodridge an incumbent was defeated, and in Plummer a write-in candidate was elected.

Voters in Alvarado School District 463 approved a proposal to consolidate the Alvarado and Warren school districts. The consolidation was overwhelmingly approved 165 to 47. The victory for supporters of the consolidation in Warren School District 446 was even more lopsided. Voters approved of the measure 207 to 18.

In the school board election in Alvarado, Rahn Farder, an incumbent, received 147 votes. LuAnn Johnson received 135 votes, and Larry Gross, an incumbent received 101 votes. There were only two three-year terms open on the board, which means Farder and Johnson have been elected to the board.

In the school board election in Warren, the incumbents, Linda Turn and Dwight Anderson were re-elected. Turn received 219 and Anderson 195.

In Goodridge, long time board member Norma Hanson was defeated. In the election for School District 561 a total of 153 votes were cast. John Gallagher, an incumbent, and Alan Swanson were elected to serve on the board for the two three-year terms. Gallagher received 97 votes and Swanson 74, narrowly defeating Incumbent Norman Hanson who received 72 votes. Tony Rubischko, who also ran for the school board, received 53 votes. There were several other write-in candidates, but they received less than five votes.

In School District 447 in Grygla, the two incumbents, Gary Anderson and Susan Schuler, were re-elected. There were a total of 52 votes cast. Schuler received 45 votes, and Anderson received 48.

In School District 440 in Middle River, a total of 44 votes were cast, and the two incumbents, Donna Nelson and Arlette Pearson, were re-elected. Nelson received 44 votes. Pearson received 42 votes.

In School District 441 in Newfolden, there were three positions on the ballot. Although there were six write-in candidates who received votes, the three official candidates, Donna Fosholm, Scott Peters, and Keith Ranum were elected. Fosholm received 65 votes, Peters received 66 votes, and Ranum 72. A total of 84 votes were cast.

In School District 627 in Oklee, two write-in candidates received a substantial number of votes, but not enough to upset the two incumbents who had filed for re-election. A total of 128 votes were cast. David Bachand received 78 votes and James Dulka received 76 votes. The two write-in candidates receiving the most votes were Carolyn Rystad and Phyllis Melby. Both individuals received 43 votes. There were several other write-in candidates but they didn't receive more than 10 votes each.

In School District 628 in Plummer, Roger Walter, who was a write-in candidate, upset intentions of Ron Freyholtz to serve on the school board. Betty Halvorson received 72 votes. Roger Walter narrowly defeated the other official candidate, Ron Freyholtz, by two votes. Walter received 29 votes and Freyholtz received 27 votes. Jerry Gerardy, an incumbent who chose not to file for re-election, received 11 votes as a write-in candidate. There were several other write-in candidates.

Calendar for 1993-94 school year gets OK

School District 564 board approves calendar with changes to provide extended breaks

Several changes have been made from prior years in the 1993-1994 school calendar for School District 564 recently approved by the board of education, according to Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools.

"Instead of a number of short breaks throughout the year," Dr. Duncan said, "the board has approved a calendar which has three extended breaks."

This November there will be parent-teacher conferences on Monday, November 22, through Wednesday, November 24, followed by the Thanksgiving break Thursday and Friday, November 25 and 26. As a result, there will be no classes for students the entire week, although the three parent-teacher conference days will be counted as student days on the schedule.

In December the Christmas break will extend from Thursday, December 23 through Sunday, January 2, with classes resuming on Monday, January 3.

The next extended break will be the Easter break from Friday, April 1 through Sunday, April 10. There will be no classes on Friday, April 1, nor during the entire week of April 4-8. Classes will resume on Monday, April 11.

The President's Day holiday has been added to the spring break, as well as two days from the normal Christmas holiday break.

"The only other breaks during the year will be on October 21 and 22 for teacher convention days, on February 18 for a teacher workshop day and on May 30, which is Memorial Day," Supt. Duncan said. "The calendar calls for 185 teacher contract days and 175 student days."

He said that there has been considerable support for consolidation of breaks from members of staff and that the school board and administration are interested in public reception to the changes.

Since state law requires that school districts can not begin classes prior to Labor Day, the first day of classes for the 1993-1994 term will be Tuesday, September 7. Teachers will begin workshop and preparation days during the week of August 30. Graduation is scheduled for Friday, June 3.

A summary of the school calendar by month includes the following:

September—Classes start on the 7th and will be held 18 days through the 30th;

October—Classes will be held 19 days with no classes the 21st and 22nd due to teacher conventions;

November—Classes will be held 17 days with the first quarter ending Friday, the 12th, and no classes the week of the 22nd through the 26th;

December—Classes will be held 16 days, the 1st through the 22nd, with no classes the remainder of the month;

January—Classes will be held all 21 school days of the month with the second quarter ending on Friday, January 21;

February—Classes will be held 19 days with no classes on the 18th, a district-wide staff development workshop day;

March—Classes will be held all 23 school days of the month with the third quarter ending Friday, March 25;

April—Classes will be held the last 15 school days of the month, beginning on the 11th, with no classes from the 1st through the 10th;

May—Classes will be held 21 days with no school on the 30th, which is Memorial Day;

June—Classes will be held the first three days of the month with the fourth quarter ending Friday, June 3, and graduation exercises to be held that same evening.

Fishing season descends upon us so here are some fish-y recipes.

Soupçon by Sherry LaCoursiere

This is a little different type of beer batter for your fish:

FISH DIP

2 eggs
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1/3 cup beer
1/2 teaspoon salt
Bisquick

Mix eggs, evaporated milk, beer and salt. Dip fish in egg mixture and coat evenly with Bisquick.

Fry in oil or butter. Serve with lemon and salt.

Make your own fish sticks or patties with this recipe:

FISH PATTIES

Grind fish fillets while partially frozen. Use 1 egg for each 1 1/2 cups of ground fish

1/2 cups ground fish

Add potato buds to egg/fish mixture, using enough for mixture to stick together and form patties. Freeze patties.

FRESH TASTING FISH

Keep your freshly caught fish fresh with no fishy taste. Place cleaned fish in bowl with enough cold water to cover. Sprinkle with a rounded teaspoonful of soda and refrigerate overnight. Rinse meat and cook as desired.

OVEN FRIED FISH

Place fish (or shellfish) in shallow baking dish. Pour melted butter over the fish and season as desired. Bake in preheated 425 degree oven for 20-30 minutes, until tender (11-19 minutes per pound). Test for doneness by inserting fork tine into flesh. If flakes can be easily separated and are firm, the fish is ready to serve

BROILED FISH

Place small fish or shellfish on buttered broiler pan or on buttered foil in pan. Brush with melted butter and season with salt and pepper. Place 3 to 5 inches from heat and broil 5-10 minutes, until fish flakes easily. (For thick fillets, place skin side up and broil 3-8 minutes on each side, turning only once.)

Try this fish dish for company:

FISH FILLETS IN SOUR CREAM

1 pound fresh or frozen (thawed) fish fillets salt
pepper
melted butter
2 tablespoons finely chopped dill pickle
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon basil leaves
1 cup dairy sour cream
paprika

Dry fish thoroughly with paper towels. Salt and pepper to taste.

Place in shallow (1 quart) baking dish and brush with melted butter. Broil 8-10 minutes, or until fish flakes easily.

Blend pickle, onion, green pepper, parsley, lemon juice, mustard and basil with sour cream. Spoon sauce over fish and sprinkle with paprika. Broil 2-3 minutes to glaze sauce.

This saucy fish dish is easy to make and low in calories:

FILLET OF FISH CASSEROLE

2 to 3 cups slightly undercooked brown rice
1 pound fish fillets
2 tablespoons dry white wine, chicken bouillon or water
2 medium tomatoes, cored and sliced thin (or 1 1/2 cups canned whole tomatoes, drained and chopped) pepper to taste
3 tablespoons minced onion
2 teaspoons garlic, minced, or 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 teaspoon thyme
3/4 cup wheat germ

Spread rice in lightly oiled 2 quart baking dish.

Sprinkle fish with pepper to taste. Fold fillets in half lengthwise and arrange in single layer over rice. Sprinkle fish with wine, bouillon or water, tomatoes, onion, garlic and thyme. Sprinkle wheat germ over top.

Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for about 25 minutes. Broil 5-8 inches from heat about 3 minutes, until topping is golden and fish is opaque in center.

(Recipe serves 4 with each serving containing 4 g fat and approximately 275 calories.)

Flom couple mark 70th anniversary

Flom — Emil and Mildred Meyer of Flom will celebrate their 70th wedding anniversary May 23. They were married in a country church in Redwood county in 1923. They then moved to the farm where they still live, two miles east of Flom. Emil retired from farming 15 years ago, but continues to care for a large lawn. The couple has been active in Trinity Lutheran church in Waubun for 45 years and Emil served on the Flom township board for 30 years. The couple has two sons who live in Gary and Bagley, and two daughters who live in Ortonville and in Seattle, WA. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Grocery break-in foiled

Mahnomen — The Mahnomen county sheriff's dispatch was notified May 14 at 2:40 a.m. of a burglary attempt at the Flowing Well, a restaurant and bar six miles east of Mahnomen on Highway 200. Because sheriff's deputies were on another call, Police Officer Doug Krier left the police station to go to the restaurant, when he saw two people walking past Worden's grocery, which is across the street from the police station. He watched them throw some cement blocks into the glass door and go in. He then caught one as they came out the front door. The two juveniles, who are not Mahnomen residents, were apparently planning to steal cigarettes. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Tri-Valley to build $500,000 Head Start center in EGF

East Grand Forks — Ground will be broken later this month for a new half-million dollar Head Start and community center in East Grand Forks. The ceremony will be held May 29 at 10 a.m. for the 60 by 200 foot center, which will house a community room, a commercial kitchen and six classrooms for the Head Start program. Tri-Valley is hoping to expand the program to include services to latchkey children in the future. (Crookston Daily Times)

Fertile West Mill recreation area work day planned

Fertile — Those who are seeking a scenic area for an afternoon hike and picnic in the Fertile area can help to bring these recreational opportunities closer by attending a work day scheduled May 22 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Fertile West Mill recreation area project. The project consists of development of trails through the Fertile Sand Hills and along the Sand Hill river and development of a campground and multi-purpose building to serve visitors. Volunteers are asked to meet just west of the Strem river crossing (turn west off Highway 32 onto Summit avenue in Fertile and proceed west). The ten campsites will be marked and cleared of bush. (Fertile Journal)

Mahnomen superintendent begins new vocation

Mahnomen — Mahnomen's school superintendent Ralph Christofferson submitted his resignation to the school board effective July 30. He is planning to begin a private business venture in Montana as he joins his nephew, Steve Torissva, at the Damnation Creek Outfitters in Kalispell. Christofferson, who is originally from Park Rapids, first came to Mahnomen in 1970 to work as elementary principal and, in 1976, was promoted to superintendent. He later moved to Park Rapids for a few years, but returned to Mahnomen in 1988. He will be working as a guide in the outfitters business and seeking out the elk, mule deer and black bears in the wilderness area. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Sauer to retire as Horace May school principal

Bemidji — Seventeen years after he began working as principal of the Northern elementary school and later the Horace May elementary school in Bemidji, Dick Sauer has announced his retirement. He says that 31 total years in education is a long time and there are a lot of people he wants to visit. Sauer, who had previously been principal of the Mark Twain and Knox elementary schools in Thief River Falls, has three grown children with lots of projects just waiting for him. A retirement open house will be held June 4 at the Calvary Lutheran church from 7 to 9 p.m. The event will be hosted by the Horace May faculty, staff and PTA. (Bemidji Pioneer)

East Grand Forks — Ground will be broken later this month for a new half-million dollar Head Start and community center in East Grand Forks. The ceremony will be held May 29 at 10 a.m. for the 60 by 200 foot center, which will house a community room, a commercial kitchen and six classrooms for the Head Start program. Tri-Valley is hoping to expand the program to include services to latchkey children in the future. (Crookston Daily Times)

Fertile West Mill recreation area work day planned

Fertile — Those who are seeking a scenic area for an afternoon hike and picnic in the Fertile area can help to bring these recreational opportunities closer by attending a work day scheduled May 22 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Fertile West Mill recreation area project. The project consists of development of trails through the Fertile Sand Hills and along the Sand Hill river and development of a campground and multi-purpose building to serve visitors. Volunteers are asked to meet just west of the Strem river crossing (turn west off Highway 32 onto Summit avenue in Fertile and proceed west). The ten campsites will be marked and cleared of bush (Fertile Journal)

Mahnomen superintendent begins new vocation

Mahnomen — Mahnomen's school superintendent Ralph Christofferson submitted his resignation to the school board effective July 30. He is planning to begin a private business venture in Montana as he joins his nephew, Steve Toriseva, at the Damnation Creek Outfitters in Kalispell. Christofferson, who is originally from Park Rapids, first came to Mahnomen in 1970 to work as elementary principal and, in 1976, was promoted to superintendent. He later moved to Park Rapids for a few years, but returned to Mahnomen in 1988. He will be working as a guide in the outfitters business and seeking out the elk, mule deer and black bears in the wilderness area. (Mahnomen Pioneer)

Sauer to retire as Horace May school principal

Bemidji — Seventeen years after he began working as principal of the Northern elementary school and later the Horace May elementary school in Bemidji, Dick Sauer has announced his retirement. He says that 31 total years in education is a long time and there are a lot of people he wants to visit. Sauer, who had previously been principal of the Mark Twain and Knox elementary schools in Thief River Falls, has three grown children with lots of projects just waiting for him. A retirement open house will be held June 4 at the Calvary Lutheran church from 7 to 9 p.m. The event will be hosted by the Horace May faculty, staff and PTA. (Bemidji Pioneer)

To The Editor:

In the "Northern Watch" of Friday, May 7, you featured an article concerning home schooling. I found it refreshing that an article on the subject was presented in an informative and unbiased format. The reaction to the subject of "home schooling" can run the gambit from encouragement to disdain. Presenting "just the facts" was comforting to us, as my husband and I home school our two children.

We undertook the job of home schooling for the first time this school year. Our year has been fraught with challenges, frustrations and rewards, all of which were in great abundance. Every one was endured by all in our household. During this school year, we have found the TRF school board staff and the elementary staff and principal, Mr. Espe, to be quite considerate. A hearty "thank you" to all of them.

Home schooling is a wonderful alternative to public, private and parochial schools. Only in this great country of ours can we enjoy such a privilege. When does home schooling begin and end? It begins with the birth of a child and ends when either the parent or the child passes away. It is a road traveled by all parents. We teach our children about all the facets of life either formally with books or informally by our words and actions.

Formal home schooling is only an extension of the informal type. As parents/teachers, it provides us with the opportunity to reinforce the values we have learned through the Bible, making sure we apply God's Word in all of our studies. We are given the opportunity to spend every waking moment discussing God's creation.

We "hold class" at anytime and everywhere we find convenient. Our classroom is not restricted to a "room" but to God's world. It is time spent as a family set up to appreciate the differences in each other; time well-spent learning to respect the individual within us all.

Does home-schooling encourage the child socially? That depends on the child. All we know is it equips our children with confidence and necessary knowledge in making it in the world. Our emphasis is not just on secular knowledge, but most importantly the knowledge as learned by studying God's Word. As written in Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not turn from it." This is our goal as we home-school our children. As parents/teachers we pray that we may continue to enjoy this opportunity and privilege that God has provided.

Sincerely,
Edith M. Koukan

"She Never Saw The Cake"

We are nearing the end of the school year and our thoughts are directed more than usual toward our community's children and their well-being as well as their future. Our responsibilities as parents have a sharper focus as we look toward the summer vacation period and having youngsters at home instead of in the charge of professional educators in the classroom.

A recent column supplied to us by Joseph Walker of North Salt Lake, Utah, tells a story that any parent would do well to read and consider. We are pleased to share it with our readers as follows:

Five minutes before midnight.

"They should be home any minute now," she thought as she hurried to put the finishing touches on the chocolate cake she was frosting. It was the first time in her 12 years that she had tried to make a cake from scratch by herself, and to be honest, it wasn't exactly an aesthetic triumph. The cake was.....well, lumpy, if you know what I mean. And the frosting had a distinctively bitter taste, as if she had run out of sugar or something.

Which, of course, she had.

And then there was the way the kitchen looked. Imagine a huge blender that could be filled with all of the fixings for chocolate cake—including the requisite bowls, pans and kitchen utensils. Now imagine that the blender is turned on. High speed. With the lid off.

Do you sort of get the idea?

But Cindy wasn't event thinking about the mess. She had created something, a veritable phoenix of flour and sugar rising out of the kitchen clutter that surrounded it. She was proud, and she was anxious for her parents to return home from their date so she could present her anniversary present to them.

She turned off all the lights in the house and waited excitedly in the darkness. When at last she saw the flash of the family van's headlights in the living room window, she positioned herself in the kitchen doorway. By the time she heard a key sliding into the locked front door, she was about THIS CLOSE!!! to exploding.

Her parents tried to slip in quietly, but Cindy would have none of that. She flipped on the lights dramatically and trumpeted: "Ta-daaa!"

"Cindy!" her surprised father gasped. "What are you doing up?"

"Happy anniversary!" Cindy exclaimed. Then she turned and gestured grandly toward the kitchen table, where a slightly off-balance two-layer chocolate cake awaited their inspection.

But her mother's eyes never made it all the way to the table. "Just look at this mess!" she moaned. "How many times have I talked to you about cleaning up after yourself?"

"But Mom, I was only...."

"It looks like we're going to have to start getting a baby sitter for the baby sitter," her mother continued, oblivious to the hurt in her daughter's eyes. "I should make you clean this up right now, but I'm too tired to stay up with you to make sure you get it done right. So you'll do it tomorrow."

"Honey," Cindy's father interjected gently, "take a look at the table."

"I know—it's a mess," his wife said coldly. "The whole kitchen is a disaster. I can't stand to look at it. I'm going to bed." She turned and stormed up the stairs and into her room, slamming the door shut behind her.

For a few moments Cindy and her father stood silently, neither one knowing what to say to the other. At last she looked up at him, her eyes moist and red.

"She never saw the cake," she said.

Unfortunately, Cindy's mother isn't the only parent who suffers from Situational Timbercular Glaucoma—the occasional inability to see the forest for the trees. From time to time we all allow ourselves to be blinded to issues of long-term significance by Stuff-That-Seems-Awfully-Important-Right-Now....but isn't. Not really.

Muddy shoes, lost lunch money and messy kitchens are troublesome, and they deserve their place among life's aggravations. But what's a little mud—even on brand new carpet—when compared to a child's self-esteem? Is a lost dollar or two really more valuable than a youngster's emerging dignity? And while kitchen sanitation is obviously important, is it worth the sacrifice of tender feelings and relationships?

Please don't misunderstand. I'm not saying that our children don't need to learn responsibility, discipline and the consequences of personal decisions and choices. Those lessons are vital, and parents need to be actively involved in teaching them in the home. But as parents we must never forget that we're not just teaching lessons here—we're teaching children. And that requires a broad, balanced perspective that sometimes allows for flexibility—according to the needs of the individual child.

Just as there are times when a child needs strict discipline, there are also times when that same child needs a parent to....well, you know—sort of look the other way. For every child there is a time for restriction and a time to be free, a time to suffer consequences and a time to be spared.

And for every parent there are times when you really need to see the mess in the kitchen, and times when you only need to see the cake.

Can Pharmacist's discovery help food lovers lose weight?

WASHINGTON — "Depriving yourself of the foods you love to eat is no way to lose weight," says pharmacist Dr. William Morris, Director of National Dietary Research. Food lovers must learn that the secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in reducing hidden fats. NDR has introduced a publication and low fat, compact, chewable food tablet that help you to lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods. The publication is free when you purchase FOOD SOURCE ONE, an NDR breakthrough in nutritional weight control. FOOD SOURCE ONE is a nutritious and delicious pre-meal snack that can replace the high fat portion of your meals.

Although individual weight loss varies, some people are experiencing extra-ordinary results with FOOD SOURCE ONE. A Niagara Falls, New York woman lost 75 pounds without giving up chocolate and pizza which are two of her favorite foods.

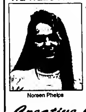
Courage Day Camp in TRF accepting applications for this summer's program

Courage Day Camp will offer a camping opportunity for two weeks this summer to Thief River Falls and area children ages five through 14 who have a physical or sensory impairment, according to Jeny Stumpf, camp director.

Dates for the camp are June 7-11 and 14-18, Stumpf said. Youngsters attending will participate in various activities which take advantage of the natural sites and recreational resources in this area.

The camping experience is offered to the young people free of charge except for a $15 insurance fee which can be waived if necessary. Meeting place will be the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls.



Several donations have been received by Stumpf for the camp and will be used to pay rent for the armory and Franklin middle school swimming pool, purchase craft supplies and pay the insurance fee which is waived for children who are unable to pay.

Any group or organization which would like to make a donation toward the camp, or anyone who has questions about eligibility or registration, may contact Stumpf at 428 Riverside Avenue South, phone 681-3731 (evenings).

Courage Day Camp at Thief River Falls received two donations recently to assist with its summer program. Checks for $50 each were received by camp director Jeny Stumpf from (left photo) Chris Burnham of the Moonlighters Lioness Club and Annabelle Cuppett, president of Unit 117 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

To The Editor:

We became very angered when we saw Mr. Don Hecht's latest tactic in his newspaper ads concerning Julian Gunderson. Mr. Hecht, if you're looking for Julian Gunderson's creditors who have not been paid, you will be looking a long time. Mr. Gunderson has no bad credit—he is well known for prompt payment of his bills.

Your campaign to discredit him isn't working with people who know him. Those ads on top of the injustice that had been done to him by Don Hecht and the legal system made it impossible not to speak up.

You've heard the expression "getting away with murder?" That's exactly what happened when the verdict in the case of HH&K Builders (i.e. Don Hecht) vs. Julian Gunderson came in two years ago in favor of Hecht. Since then we watched Mr. Hecht get by with "murder" under the full sanction of our wonderful legal and judicial system!

We've watched Julian for years as he developed and built a number of senior housing projects in Thief River Falls and surrounding towns. He always followed FmHA guidelines and specs and never had any post-construction problems with any of them. Because of a new rule put forth by HUD and FmHA, a developer had to put a project up for bids. This ruling has now been rescinded because of problems with unscrupulous contractors, faulty construction and the like.

That's why it is especially sad for us to see Gunderson's senior housing properties, his lots in town and even part of his farm which belonged to his father being sold. The most recent coup took place when local authorities seized the yard maintenance equipment from his senior housing.

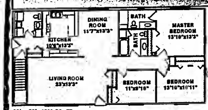
They took a $14,000 combination snow-blower-mower tractor that had been purchased with FmHA funding and sold it at public auction for one-half of its purchase cost. Among other things confiscated were rakes, hoes, shovels, wheelbarrows and small tools, so Mr. Hecht could gain a few more dollars. This leaves the senior housing project with absolutely no equipment to do its yard work.

It's very frightening when you see a contractor can leave a bid job unfinished, his subcontractors unpaid and unresolved plumbing problems ignored—and then still turn around and sue the developer for breach of contract and WIN! Something has to be done to our current judicial system or our rights are in danger for all of us.

Probably the first thing would be to require jurors to have an IQ test, at least about what the case pertains to, in this case contract law. Also, the screening of the jury should be much more stringent, especially in small areas such as we live in, where everybody knows someone who is related or associated with either party, as was the case here.

I can relate to how the lawyers manipulated their selections of jurors to their advantage. I was called for jury duty and during selection, when they realized my occupation was closely related to the subject matter of the case, I was immediately disqualified. It seems the jurors selected are the ones who know the least about the subject at hand.

A verdict should not be reached by personal feelings. They even awarded the plaintiff damages far above what he asked. Later one juror was asked what made him decide on several decision and he said he just went along with the rest of them. This kind of juror mentality makes me think I would feel safer drawing straws to decide who wins. Your chances would be just as equal.



Perhaps civil cases should be decided by arbitration with people chosen as arbitrators who are familiar with the subject matter of what the case involves. Surely in a case like this, it would not be hard to find enough unbiased contractors, builders and developers to form a knowledgeable and fair panel of decision-makers.

Even our lawyers are admitting that our legal system has to be revamped as it is getting totally out of control in this sue-happy society. More often than they care to guess, they admit justice is not any part of the verdict, and it surely wasn't in this case.

Friends of Julian,
Carla and George Johnson

Seamless Aluminum Guttering

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Lincoln choirs in concert Tues.

Choir will also be performing two selections, including a very lively spiritual which they are sure will get your feet tapping.

The vocal jazz group "Swingsations" will be performing "How High the Moon" with soloists Lori Golightly and Laura Toren being featured along with Tom Swantek on string bass and Melanie Krepp on piano. That selection was made famous by "Manhattan Transfer." The Swingsations will be closing their part of the concert with a favorite entitled "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" with baritone soloist Marc Haugen and soprano soloist Kristi Lindberg.

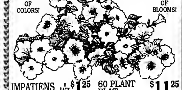
All the choirs will unite to bring the audience three very special pieces to conclude the concert. The first one is entitled "Pie Jesu" from "Requiem," which was written by Andrew Lloyd Webber. Kristi Lindberg and Vanessa Anderson perform a beautiful duet while the choir wraps their harmony in a blanket of beautiful colors.

The second selection is a special favorite of the choirs. It is entitled "O Si Funi Mungu" and it is sung partly in English and partly in Swahili. The selection opens with sounds from the jungle....you'll have to be there to get the details! The rhythm section keeps the spirit of the piece going with rhythms that will keep your attention while the choir swings with harmonies from Africa.

The concert comes to a close with another selection that was performed at Carnegie hall. The piece is entitled "Te Deum" and is accompanied by Cathy Hagen on organ.

So see if you can free your schedules and come out to enjoy our way of saying "Thank-you, Thief River Falls."

Caution urged at Red Lake outlet due to construction and gravel surface



Minnesota Department of Transportation warns motorists to slow down to 35 miles per hour as they approach the highway 1 bridge over the Red Lake river on the west shore of Red Lake, according to Greg Klein, chief inspector on the project for Mn/DOT.

A section of highway surface extending 3,800 feet north and 1,100 feet south from the bridge will be torn up and gravel surfaced until about mid-June, when the road will be paved. Signs with flashing lights will mark the gravel area.

Motorists will encounter heavy equipment and flag persons along this route during construction, Klein said. He asks motorists to slow down in the construction zone for their own safety and the safety of highway workers exposed to traffic as they work.

Filer chosen for "Leader" participation

Deb Filer, nursing director at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls, has been selected to participate in the "Leaders" program, a national leadership training program for women administrators and faculty.

As part of the year-long program, a special workshop for "Leaders" is designed to enhance the skills that they need to assume major decision-making roles in their institutions. The workshop includes instruction and practice in supervisory and human relations skills, planning and budgeting, organizational transformation and discussions with national experts on the issues confronting higher education during the next decade.

During the program she will be mentored by Sue Minnick, vice provost at NCC, to work on projects that will aid the institution and foster individual professional growth.

Participants in the program are selected for their talents, interests in advancement in higher education and the quality of their proposed projects. The National Institute for Leadership Development is recognized internationally for its training by colleges, universities and businesses throughout the United States and Canada.

Forty-eight angels adorn the columns and each column is inset with a Station of the Cross. Emblems representing titles of the Madonna, such as Star of the Sea and Tower of David, are inset far above each window.

"Most people are amazed at the inside. Some drive past it and have never been inside," said Lillian Kuznia, Assumption Church member and Florian resident.

Stephen Meusch, a Polish refugee architect who lived in Winnipeg, designed the building and supervised its construction. The church reflects the architecture of traditional Polish Catholic churches.

Polish settlers founded the parish in 1881. Fire destroyed the first two churches built by the parish. Parishioners and contractors began building the third and present church in 1930.

During the Depression and WWII construction was thwarted. For around 20 years services were held in the completed basement. Parishioners first used the new church for services in 1949, but the building wasn't completed until 1955.

The Assumption church began as a member of the Polish National Catholic Church and remains a member. Most parishioners have Polish ancestry and some people travel from as far as Warroad to attend services at the Polish national church.

With a few exceptions, Miller said Catholics would not notice a large difference between traditional Roman Catholic and Polish National Catholic liturgy.

Christmas-time and funerals are two occasions when parishioners sing traditional Polish hymns. "They sing the songs in Polish and the people are really moved by that. It's a touching thing to have everyone know the songs and everybody sing them and there are no words available, but everybody sings the Polish songs," Miller said.

About 115 families attend the parish and 120 children participate in the church's religious education program. Last year's fall bazaar drew between 700 and 800 people.

The Stephen Catholic church, 12 miles to the west of Florian, is Florian's next closest Catholic church.

Sister Janice Miller leans by one of two angels greeting parishioners at the Assumption Catholic Church in Florian. Miller has been pastoral administrator at the church for two years.

Its remoteness has benefits. "It really is a safe area," Miller said. Miller now locks the doors when no one is around as part of new church regulations. "It has hardly ever been locked in the past and now that I do that people wonder 'why isn't it open?'"

According to the Assumption Parish centennial book, the initial cost of the building was $100,000. The parish has spent thousands for its upkeep, most recently $35,000 for tuckpointing the brickwork and $15,000 for shingling.

"They (parishioners) would pay for that and scrimp on something in their own homes so that the church would be taken care of," Miller said. "The desire to have the church taken care of first — that's a striking depth of faith for me and they have the desire to pass on that faith to the young people."

"It's the church that holds Florian together," Rominski said.

tate the environmental assessment process as much as possible," Ogaard said. "We plan to work closely with participating federal and state agencies to move the study along. We're hoping some of our smaller projects will be released from the moratorium fairly soon, and that the environmental assessment can be completed in a timely manner."

In presentations to the meeting participants, both Ogaard and Murphy stressed the unique characteristics of the Red River Basin, and cautioned technical experts that they will need to carefully consider the soils, topography and geologic setting of the Basin in assessing cumulative impacts of flood control projects. They also described the enormous devastation caused by widespread flooding.

"According to recent Corps and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) figures," Ogaard added, "annual flood-related damages are $41.6 million in the U.S. portion of the Basin. In years of extensive flooding, damages to urban, rural, public and private lands and property can be more than $250 million.

"We are not happy about having to halt our flood control efforts so that the environmental assessment can be conducted," he said. "However, we are also viewing this as an opportunity. The completed study should provide us with a comprehensive, watershed-wide plan for flood control. This would enable our local governments to aid and assist in natural resource management, and will help us in coordinating and strengthening our efforts throughout the entire region."

TRF boys golf in back-to-back meets

Head coach Dick Tyler used different line-ups Tuesday and Wednesday as Thief River Falls boys competed in back-to-back high school golf tournament outings at Moorhead and Park Rapids.

The rosters varied, said Tyler, so the same individuals wouldn't be missing class time on consecutive days. It also presented an opportunity for some of the younger golfers in the program to gain course experience, he noted.

Thief River Falls tied for ninth in a 15-team field at the Moorhead Invitational, where a two-man scramble format was won by Fargo South.

The Prowlers were 18th in the 23-team Park Rapids Invitational, won by Fergus Falls.

Registrations are due for TRF hockey camp

Today (Saturday) is the registration deadline for the first Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association summer hockey camp.

If insufficient registration numbers are received the camp will be cancelled.

TRF boys miss track meet at Fergus Falls

Junior Tony Miramontes and freshman Rob Stock provided Thief River Falls with wins at No. 1 and No. 3 singles, respectively, while senior John Gunstad and junior David Johnson teamed up for a victory at No. 3 doubles.

"We got good play from the singles," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney.

Babe Ruth baseball meeting is Tuesday

Babe Ruth baseball meeting will be held Tuesday, May 25, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln High School cafeteria.

Parents of players who will be participating in the 1993 Thief River Falls program for 13-15-year-olds should be in attendance. Schedules and program structure will be discussed and participation fees will be collected.

Northland Community College shortstop Mitch Bernstein was airborne when he pulled down the throw from catcher Troy Storeby and tried to tag out University of Minnesota-Crookston runner Brad Soukup on a stolen base attempt in the first game of Wednesday's Northern Division baseball doubleheader played in Thief River Falls. Soukup was ruled safe on the play. The Pioneers swept the Trojans 6-3, 7-2.

Pioneers take two from UMC

A 9-6, 8-3 doubleheader loss to last-place University of Minnesota-Crookston back on April 28 took the Northland Community College baseball team out of the 1993 Northern Division baseball race. While the Pioneers' 6-3, 7-2 Wednesday rematch sweep over the visiting Trojans did not put the winners back into the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament picture, it did make life a little easier for coach Terry Wiseth and the rest of his Thief River Falls ball club.

"Any time you beat Crookston twice, you've got to be happy," acknowledged Wiseth. "I was real happy with the kids' performance. Their intensity level was really high. They played hard."

Northland, 10-15 overall and 9-9 in the MCCC, was scheduled to close out the year today (Saturday) with a 12-noon doubleheader at home against Fergus Falls.

Parrish Tatum threw strikes and watched his Northland teammates break a 3-3 tie with a three-run fifth inning as the Pioneers collected a 6-3 first-game.

In 6 1/3 innings, the Trojans hit just four balls out of the infield against Tatum, a freshman right-hander from Chicago. Two of those balls were home runs – a lead-off shot by Dan Klein in the third and a two-run blast by Bob Dickman in the fourth. But Tatum gave up only three hits and walked just one while striking out four.

An error and fielder's choice put two UMC runners on base with one out in the seventh before Tatum was pulled in favor of Mitch Bernstein. A strike-out and an infield ground-out netted Bernstein a save.

A first-inning RBI single by Ryan Bothum and a two-run fourth-inning double by Roger Bienusa represented the Pioneers' portion of the 3-3 tie.

They won it in the fifth on a lead-off double by Bernstein, a run-scoring error on a ball hit by Tatum, an RBI double by Bothum and a single up the middle by Mike Swanson for the final run.

Bienusa was 3-for-4, Swanson 2-for-2 and Bothum 2-for-3 in the Pioneers' nine-hit attack.

Mike Swanson and Nolan Desjarlait both hit two-run home runs to power Northland to a 7-2 win in Game 2.

Swanson, a Thief River Falls sophomore, hit his fence-clearing shot in the third for a 3-0 lead and Desjarlait, a Red Lake freshman, followed suit in a four-run sixth to break open a 3-2 game.

Ryan Bothum was 2-for-2 for the Pioneers, who were out-hit 10-8.

Mitch Bernstein, after a final-inning appearance as a relief pitcher in Game 1, came back with a route-going performance for the second game decision. He gave up 10 hits, but his teammates helped get him out of trouble by turning four double plays.

Final games will be played Friday at the site of the highest seeded Wednesday survivor.

Sanden will be playing in national tournament

Kyle Sanden stepped into the Thief River Falls boys high school basketball starting line-up this winter as a freshman and he didn't disappoint. The 6-9 center promptly displayed the ability and potential that head coach Scott Brekke and others expect to improve dramatically as he gains maturity, size, strength and experience.

Sanden and his family are hoping to realize that potential by extensive involvement in summer AAU, BCI and YBDA programs – based out of the Twin Cities.

Most weekends involve a trip to the Minneapolis/St. Paul area for practice/games/tournaments. A member of the Minnesota Wolves 15-under age group team, Sanden will take his game to the BCI national tournament in Phoenix, Arizona June 29-July 4.

The Wolves had a runner-up finish in the 15-team Minnesota Sports Federation/Basketball Congress International/Youth Basketball of America age group state championships/national-qualifier-tournament May 15-16 in St. Cloud to advance to the BCI nationals.

Sanden's Wolves also placed third in the 12-team Minnesota AAU basketball championships April 30-May 2 in Bloomington, and wound up with three wins in a tournament at Menominee, Wisconsin.

Other members of the Wolves include John Solheim, Bemidji; Kevin Loge, Morris; Troy Brown, Rochester; and Mitch Ohnstad, Faribault; along with Twin Cities area representatives Al Slindee, Andrew Sawyer, Jarrett Parks, Andy Lehrberg, Jeff Mosco, and Jason Kasner.

Coaching the 15-under Wolves are Gerry Solheim of Bemidji and Eric Slindee from the Twin Cities.

Summer hours to start June 7 at weight room

Summer hours for the Lincoln High School weight room will go into effect Monday, June 7.

Facilities will be open 7-10:30 a.m. Monday/Wednesday/Friday; 4-7:30 p.m. Monday/Tuesday/Wednesday/Thursday; and 3-6 p.m. Friday.

The weight room will be open free of charge to all Thief River Falls students who will be in grades 7-12 in 1993-94. A $1 fee per visit for all non-students will be collected at the door.

"Our facilities offer the best of everything for our lifters," pointed out weight room supervisor Jeff Mumm. "We can offer the dedicated weight lifter top-quality equipment, plus we can offer the non-weight lifters great exercise equipment. We currently have four exercise bikes and we just ordered two stairsteppers that will be here the first of June."

Daily sign-up sheets will be used for the stairsteppers so participants can pick a time to exercise without facing a wait to use the equipment.

Annual weight room orientation for seventh and eighth graders will be held Tuesday, May 25, at 7 p.m. in the weight room.

For additional information, contact Mumm by calling 681-8423.

TRF has summer volleyball league set for July/Aug.

Sessions will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. every Tuesday and Wednesday in the Lincoln High School gym. First hour will be used to work on skills, with the rest of the time set aside for league play that will be dividing players into a younger B league and an older A league.

Cost of the program is $15.

For additional information contact Judy Dimich (681-1088), Nancy Skeim (681-8326) or Marian Meyers (964-5284).

State Parks

Hayes Lake Open House

Sunday, June 6, Hayes Lake State Park will host its annual open house. On this day, all Minnesota state parks will be open to the public with no vehicle permit entrance fee required.

This year, Sue Suess and Joel Miller will be setting up a tepee in back of the park ranger station. Beginning at 11:30 a.m., she will explain how the tepee is set up and other interesting facts about the structure.

Open House is a good chance to visit the park to see what has been changed or built. The entire park staff will be on hand to visit and to answer any questions you may have.

Coffee, lemonade and cookies will be served until 5 p.m. The park is open 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. daily.

Open House at Hayes Lake is sponsored by the Agassiz Environmental Education Committee, State Park Volunteers and Hayes Lake State Park.

State Park Hikes

Minnesotans will have an opportunity to hike, bike or ski some of the state's most beautiful areas by participating in any or all 29 State Park Volkssport events, which began April 24 and runs through December.

This year's theme, "Here's to Your Health," underscores the contributions these activities can make toward developing a healthy lifestyle, according to Carmen Olestler, a DNR state parks spokesperson. Most Volksmarch hikes are 10 kilometers long. "Competition isn't part of the sport, so it's perfect for families and friends who love to exercise outdoors, at their own pace," Olestler said. Participants can earn award patches and mileage credits for each event.

Volkssport events in Minnesota state parks have become favorites among volksmarchers from Minnesota and across the United States and Canada. One of the favorite hikes is the three-day weekend along the North Shore of Lake Superior in June. The event includes hikes at Gooseberry Falls State Park, one of the busiest parks in Minnesota; Split Rock Lighthouse State Park, site of the old lighthouse that helped ships navigate the treacherous waters of Lake Superior; and Tettegouche State Park, which now includes the Palisade Valley area.

For a copy of a booklet that lists the dates and locations of volkssport events at Minnesota state parks, call the DNR Information Center toll free in Minnesota, 1-800-766-6000.

Dave Stengrim of Thief River Falls was a sophomore catcher in the Bemidji State University baseball program this spring. The Beavers finished the 1993 season with the best record in school history, 27-19-1.

Marshall-Beltrami SWCD holds wildlife meeting

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual interagency meeting (formerly called the Annual Wildlife meeting) recently. This meeting is held each year to provide an opportunity for public agencias and local people to discuss past accomplishments and future plans.

Those in attendance were: board members and staff — Brian Dwight, board conservationist for the Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR); Martha Marquardt, area Department of Natural Resources (DNR); John Williams, Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area (WMA); Gretchen Mehmel, Red Lake WMA; John Faulkner, DNR Forestry; Paul Swenson, regional administrator, DNR; Richard Dougherty and Leonard Mee, Red Lake Watershed district; Delray Larson, Marshall County Commissioner and interested landowners.

John Williams of Thief Lake Wildlife Management area, reported they had 614 acres in crops — mostly corn food plots. No burning had been done as of the meeting. He estimated that 2,000 waterfowl were banded and with the late harvest last fall they were fed grain to try to keep them out of the fields. Deer hunting was up and two new campsitas established. Duck hunting was also up. Williams also stated that last year was the first the Moose River Impoundment had been filled up. No winter shearing was done, but some is in the planning stage. The Moose population is up 30 per cent with an annual moose hunting season being planned. A total of 345 permits will be issued. Sharptail Grouse are down 30 per cent, but the count had not been finished. A 20 to 25 per cent decrease is anticipated. Williams discussed the Thief Lake road construction project. The road will be widened, the bridge replaced and the road tarred in 1995.

Gretchen Mehmel of the Red Lake WMA, reported that they have six miles of walking trail that will be maintained. A survey of abandoned wells had been completed and they were in the process of planning to fill those hand dug wells less than seven feet deep. Deeper wells or those with a casing require a licensed contractor. They sheared about 800 acres of lowland brush — 100 acres in the sharptail area. They have 800 acres of prescribed burning to complete. They are also working on repairing a couple of old CCC dams. Other work is in the planning stages include walking trails and public information (interpretation) signs.

Paul Swenson interjected that as far as keeping Norris Camp open, no immediate action was being taken. They will, however, be looking at how it can be kept open for public use.

Martha Marquardt, Area DNR, reported that the Farmes Pool is holding water and an aquatic invertebrate survey had been completed. This survey will provide base information as it will change as more plants grow. Marquardt also discussed hunting seasons and problems with geese on private lands and also some problems with moose depredation. She stated that on the license for the annual moose hunt, hunters can check if they would be willing to take a nuisance moose prior to the season to help with the problems. Marquardt also reported sharptail counts down. Early indications were that ruffed grouse are up. A total of 1,700 acres on Elm Lake and Eckvoll were burned this year with another 1,000 acres being slated for burning. No shearing was done but they have two proposals for 500 acres in 1993. Also discussed at the meeting were outdoor classroom sites. A crossing was installed but gravel is needed. A well needs to be sealed, as well. The $1,000 Forest Stewarship Program grant was not approved, but can be resubmitted.

Paul Swenson introduced himself as the new regional administrator for the northwest region replacing Merlyn Wesloh. He has served 17 years in St. Paul, as director of Trails and Waterways and the last two years as hydrologist. Swenson said he is concerned about the environmental assessment on the Red River Basin being conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and wants to be personally involved. He also discussed the Environmental Trust Fund monies and LCMR.

John Faulkner, DNR Forestry, stated that his concerns are in the management and harvesting and the regeneration of Aspen. About 1,800 acres have been sold totaling about 41,000 cords. They try to manage the size and location of timber sale to maximize benefits to upland game. Faulkner also mentioned work as an "urban forester" and work with the City Tree board.

Richard Dougherty of Red Lake Watershed district, reported on the continuing work on the Good Lake project. Project construction workers were able to move dirt most of the winter. Leonard Moe also of the Red Lake Watershed district, discussed the problems the district is having with beaver dams. It was noted that the Environmental Assessment being conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers does not affect projects in progress.

Delray Larson, Marshall County Commissioner, discussed the Shoreland ordinance. He also talked about some of the ditch projects west of Grygla. Ditch 20 will probably continue, but he was unsure of the funding. The ditch has been mowed. Larson also spoke of beaver dam problems.

Brian Dwight, board conservationist for BWSR, talked about legislative changas in the works on the Wetland Conservation Act (WCA). The interim program will be extended six months to January 1, 1994. He also discussed the 2:1 to 1:1 ratio change in Beltrami county as they still have at least 80 per cent of pre-settlement wetlands. Another change is in the size of a wetland necessitating the need for mitigation. It has been changed from 100 square feet to 400 square feet. Funding was also discussed.

Challenger is name of new TRF school

Work of a committee formed to come up with a name for the new elementary school is complete. At their regular meeting of May 24, the school board approved the recommendation of the committee to name the school "Challenger Elementary School."

After the board approved the name, the board discovered that the name had been submitted by retired elementary principal Bill Desrocher. In submitting the name, Desrocher explained that: "The school will be one that challengas its students and makes them challengers in life. The name is also in honor of the spaceship 'Challenger' and its crew."

In February, the school board approved a process to name the elementary school, which called for a committee to be formed consisting of the elementary principal, school district executive assistant, staff representatives from each of the elementary buildings, and student and parent representatives. The committee was to decide how to solicit names and submit one suggestion to the board for approval.

Committee work began in April and it was decided to solicit names from the community, students and staff through the newspaper, radio stations, cable television and suggestion boxes in each of the schools. A total of 140 different suggestions were received. Names of individuals who submitted suggestions were not revealed to the committee.

The committee elected to submit their top three choices to a vote of elementary students and staff. Through a process of elimination, the committee was able to narrow the field of names to the following three: Challenger, Grandview and Odyssey. The vote was conducted on Monday, May 24, and "Challenger" was the number one choice of all four elementary schools.

The school board was pleased with the recommendation and thanked the committee and the community for participating in the process. It was further noted that the name suggests that this school will "challenge" students and staff to excel in education.

State Board award recipients were announced at the 1993 Northland Community College graduation ceremony in Thief River Falls Wednesday. Dr. Tyrone Birkeland was awarded Faculty Member of the Year. Kenneth Froschheiser was named Alumnus of the Year. Maripat Oberg was named Student of the Year. Willard Sletten was named Staff Member of the Year. The May 26 edition of The Times carried a story about the graduation ceremony.

TRF council to consider storage unit ordinance

Thief River Falls city council directed the city attorney to draft an ordinance limiting the use of mobile units for storage in the central business district. Mobile storage units was one of the items discussed by the city council Tuesday night during a council meeting.

Apparently the city zoning laws do not address the use of mobile storage units in the downtown business district. City Attorney Paul Ihle said he believed the issue had been addressed before, but an ordinance had not been drafted. In the past situation, the person who wanted to use the mobile storage units downtown was discouraged from doing so.

At the council meeting Tuesday night, no one mentioned who had made the recent inquiry which caused the issue to be brought before the council again. This time, however, the council requested that the city attorney draft an ordinance that they could considered. During the discussion, a number of issues, such as what constitutas a mobile storage unit, were raised which will have to be addressed by the ordinance.

Jason Dobmeier and Michael Neuschwander of Grygla graduated from Northland Community College Wednesday and from Grygla high school on Saturday. The two participated in the Post-secondary Enrollment Options program, which allowed them to take college courses and got credit towards a high school degree as well.

Grygla youths finish college and high school at same time

by Katie Henke
Northland Community College

Getting a college diploma is not so unusual these days, but how about receiving your college diploma before your high school diploma?

Well for Jason Dobmeier and Michael Neuschwander of Grygla, that's indeed the case. On Wednesday night, they both walked across the stage at the Northland Community College Commencement and received their Associate of Arts degrees. This Saturday, they will walk across the stage at Grygla High School to receive their high school diploma.

Both Michael and Jason are part of the Post-secondary Enrollment Options program. This program allows juniors and seniors who meet specific guidelines, the opportunity to enroll in college courses. Tuition, fees, and books are paid for by the state. Both Jason and Michael enrolled at Northland Community College (NCC) when they were juniors in high school. They had to be ranked in the upper one-third of their class and pass English, writing and math assessments given at NCC. According to NCC Registrar Dennis Bendickson, NCC averages 50 students a quarter enrolled part-time in the post-secondary enrollment options program. What is unusual in Jason and Mike's case is that they were able to enroll as full-time students in their junior year of high school.

This program allows students to fulfill their high school graduation requirements, while applying those same credits to a college degree.

For Jason, this was a real plus. He had already taken many of the upper division high school courses, such as chemistry when he was a sophomore.

One of the biggest advantages is that they now have a two-year college degree that they didn't have to pay for. "That's great," said Michael. "Now I will only have to pay for two years of college rather than four."

Both students cited cost savings as being one of the biggest advantages of this program. Jason also believes there were other advantages too. "It's a nice way to meet a lot of people," he said.

Michael added, "I won't have to worry about adjusting to college as much as other kids my age will. I can also finish college quicker."

When asked about the disadvantages they looked at each other and said "The Distance." They had to commute 40 miles one way each day. Those trips turned into some pretty long days especially for Jason who was playing football with his high school team. "Carpooling helped a lot," said Michael.

When asked if they ever felt left out of their high school or if their friends acted differently towards them, they were quick to respond "no".

"My friends at high school are still my friends now. We still do things after school and weekends," said Michael.

The biggest difference between high school and college in their eyes was freedom. "No one was telling you what to do," said Jason.

Smuggling is a problem at northern border

Kittson county sheriff and U.S. Border Patrol team up to solve problem

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

With over 100 miles of barren Canadian/United States border to patrol, the border patrol gets by with a little help from their friends.

The Kittson County Sheriff's office assists the United States Border Patrol when pursuing individuals illegally entering the United States or Canada.

In early May representatives from both agencies testified at the Kittson County board of commissioners meeting about a need for a barricade at the Caribou border crossing.

The town of Caribou, consisting of a turn-of-the-century Greek Orthodox Church and a few scattered farm houses, rests about one mile south of the border.

The Caribou crossing is an extension of county road four which veers east one-quarter of a mile before it reaches the border. The Caribou border crossing road continues north

The crossing has become a highway for illegal entries. Of 465 active casas at the Pembina station, 98 have been traced back to Caribou.

"The reason we keyed in on Caribou is that it is the most well-know crossing. From the information I've gotten and from the types of people that have come through there, that crossing is well known across Canada and definitely a wide area in the United States," said Kittson County Sheriff Ray Hunt.

Part of the popularity may be due to guides such as the 1993 edition of Rand McNally's Road Atlas which maps the border crossing and keys the road "conditions vary — local inquiry suggested." However, Hunt said, other more discrete roads also cross the border in the area.

The county board decided to install posts and trench the road to deter illegal entries. Construction of the barricade may begin June 1. The township on the Canadian side agreed to match the counties' actions by installing the same barriers on their side.

The border patrol is based out of Pembina, N.D., and covers about 115 miles of border. Patrol Agent in Charge Jim Gilmore estimates the territory covered by the Pembina patrol is 6,000 square miles. There are five agents at the Pembina station.

Local law enforcement agencies help supplement the border patrol's limited staff. Hunt said the sheriff's office assists the border patrol by cutting off fleeing suspects (access to the Caribou region is limited by few roads) and offering information and manpower.

The Caribou crossing is the best-known illegal crossing in the area. Two years ago a citizen of Trinidad attempted to cross through Caribou and was apprehended. The Trinidadian testified, Gilmore said, that he inquired at a bar in Toronto where he could enter the United States illegally and he received directions to Caribou.

Illegal alien smuggling through the Caribou route has become common. Citizens of other countries obtain visitors permits to Canada, an easier process than obtaining a U.S. permit; then they illegally enter the United States.

Gilmore has dealt with illegal immigrants from 46 different countries. The aliens pay someone to make the smuggling arrangements.

One smuggler based in Chicago helped bring Polish illegal aliens into the country. Some aliens, Gilmore said, will pay up to $7,000 for transportation into the United States.

In another case, Gilmore said, a smuggling facilitator out of Toronto

Marshall-Beltrami SWCD holds wildlife meeting

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual interagency meeting (formerly called the Annual Wildlife meeting) recently. This meeting is held each year to provide an opportunity for public agencies and local people to discuss past accomplishments and future plans.

Those in attendance were board members and staff — Brian Dwight, board conservationist for the Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR); Martha Marquardt, area Department of Natural Resources (DNR); John Williams, Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area (WMA); Gretchen Mehmel, Red Lake WMA; John Faulkner, DNR Forestry; Paul Swenson, regional administrator, DNR; Richard Dougherty and Leonard Moe, Red Lake Watershed district; Delray Larson, Marshall County Commissioner and interested landowners.

John Williams of Thief Lake Wildlife Management area, reported they had 614 acres in crops — mostly corn food plots. No burning had been done as of the meeting. He estimated that 2,000 waterfowl were banded and with the late harvest last fall they were fed grain to try to keep them out of the fields. Deer hunting was up and two new campsites established. Duck hunting was also up. Williams also stated that last year was the first the Moose River Impoundment had been filled up. No winter shearing was done, but some is in the planning stage. The Moose population is up 30 per cent with an annual moose hunting season being planned. A total of 345 permits will be issued. Sharptail Grouse are down 30 per cent, but the count had not been finished. A 20 to 25 per cent decrease is anticipated. Williams discussed the Thief Lake road construction project. The road will be widened, the bridge replaced and the road tarred in 1995.

Gretchen Mehmel of the Red Lake WMA, reported that they have six miles of walking trail that will be maintained. A survey of abandoned wells had been completed and they were in the process of planning to fill those hand dug wells less than seven feet deep. Deeper wells or those with a casing require a licensed contractor. They sheared about 800 acres of lowland brush — 100 acres in the sharptail area. They have 800 acres of prescribed burning to complete. They are also working on repairing a couple of old CCC dams. Other work is in the planning stages include walking trails and public information (interpretation) signs.

Paul Swenson interjected that as far as keeping Norris Camp open, no immediate action was being taken. They will, however, be looking at how it can be kept open for public use.

Martha Marquardt, Area DNR, reported that the Farmes Pool is holding water and an aquatic invertebrate survey had been completed. This survey will provide base information as it will change as more plants grow. Marquardt also discussed hunting seasons and problems with geese on private lands and also some problems with moose depredation. She stated that on the license for the annual moose hunt, hunters can check if they would be willing to take a nuisance moose prior to the season to help with the problems. Marquardt also reported sharptail counts down. Early indications were that ruffed grouse are up. A total of 1,700 acres on Elm Lake and Eckvoll were burned this year with another 1,000 acres being slated for burning. No shearing was done but they have two proposals for 500 acres in 1993. Also discussed at the meeting were outdoor classroom sites. A crossing was installed but gravel is needed. A well needs to be sealed, as well. The $1,000 Forest Stewardship Program grant was not approved, but can be resubmitted.

Paul Swenson introduced himself as the new regional administrator for the northwest region replacing Merlyn Wesloh. He has served 17 years in St. Paul, as director of Trails and Waterways and the last two years as hydrologist. Swenson said he is concerned about the environmental assessment on the Red River Basin being conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and wants to be personally involved. He also discussed the Environmental Trust Fund monies and LCMR.

John Faulkner, DNR Forestry, stated that his concerns are in the management and harvesting and the regeneration of Aspen. About 1,800 acres have been sold totaling about 41,000 cords. They try to manage the size and location of timber sale to maximize benefits to upland game. Faulkner also mentioned work as an "urban forester" and work with the City Tree board.

Richard Dougherty of Red Lake Watershed district, reported on the continuing work on the Good Lake project. Project construction workers were able to move dirt most of the winter. Leonard Moe also of the Red Lake Watershed district, discussed the problems the district is having with beaver dams. It was noted that the Environmental Assessment being conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers does not affect projects in progress.

Delray Larson, Marshall County Commissioner, discussed the Shoreland ordinance. He also talked about some of the ditch projects west of Grygla. Ditch 20 will probably continue, but he was unsure of the funding. The ditch has been mowed. Larson also spoke of beaver dam problems.

Brian Dwight, board conservationist for BWSR, talked about legislative changes in the works on the Wetland Conservation Act (WCA). The interim program will be extended six months to January 1, 1994. He also discussed the 2:1 to 1:1 ratio change in Beltrami county as they still have at least 80 per cent of pre-settlement wetlands. Another change is in the size of a wetland necessitating the need for mitigation. It has been changed from 100 square feet to 400 square feet. Funding was also discussed.

TRF council to consider storage unit ordinance

Thief River Falls city council directed the city attorney to draft an ordinance limiting the use of mobile units for storage in the central business district. Mobile storage units was one of the items discussed by the city council Tuesday night during a council meeting.

Apparently the city zoning laws do not address the use of mobile storage units in the downtown business district. City Attorney Paul Ihle said he believed the issue had been addressed before, but an ordinance had not been drafted. In the past situation, the person who wanted to use the mobile storage units downtown was discouraged from doing so.

At the council meeting Tuesday night, no one mentioned who had made the recent inquiry which caused the issue to be brought before the council again. This time, however, the council requested that the city attorney draft an ordinance that they could considered. During the discussion, a number of issues, such as what constitutes a mobile storage unit, were raised which will have to be addressed by the ordinance.

Jason Dobmeier and Michael Nauschwender of Grygla graduated from Northland Community College Wednesday and from Grygla high school on Saturday. The two participated in the Post-secondary Enrollment Options program, which allowed them to take college courses and get credit towards a high school degree as well.

Grygla youths finish college and high school at same time

by Katie Henke
Northland Community College

Getting a college diploma is not so unusual these days, but how about receiving your college diploma before your high school diploma?

Well for Jason Dobmeier and Michael Neuschwander of Grygla, that's indeed the case. On Wednesday night, they both walked across the stage at the Northland Community College Commencement and received their Associate of Arts degrees. This Saturday, they will walk across the stage at Grygla High School to receive their high school diploma.

Both Michael and Jason are part of the Post-secondary Enrollment Options program. This program allows juniors and seniors who meet specific guidelines, the opportunity to enroll in college courses. Tuition, fees, and books are paid for by the state. Both Jason and Michael enrolled at Northland Community College (NCC) when they were juniors in high school. They had to be ranked in the upper one-third of their class and pass English, writing and math assessments given at NCC. According to NCC Registrar Dennis Bendickson, NCC averages 50 students a quarter enrolled part-time in the post-secondary enrollment options program. What is unusual in Jason and Mike's case is that they were able to enroll as full-time students in their junior year of high school.

This program allows students to fulfill their high school graduation requirements, while applying those same credits to a college degree.

For Jason, this was a real plus. He had already taken many of the upper division high school courses, such as chemistry when he was a sophomore.

One of the biggest advantages is that they now have a two-year college degree that they didn't have to pay for. "That's great," said Michael. "Now I will only have to pay for two years of college rather than four."

Both students cited cost savings as being one of the biggest advantages of this program. Jason also believes there were other advantages too. "It's a nice way to meet a lot of people," he said.

Michael added, "I won't have to worry about adjusting to college as much as other kids my age will. I can also finish college quicker."

When asked about the disadvantages they looked at each other and said "The Distance." They had to commute 40 miles one way each day. Those trips turned into some pretty long days especially for Jason who was playing football with his high school team. "Carpooling helped a lot," said Michael.

When asked if they ever felt left out of their high school or if their friends acted differently towards them, they were quick to respond "no".

"My friends at high school are still my friends now. We still do things after school and weekends," said Michael.

The biggest difference between high school and college in their eyes was freedom. "No one was telling you what to do," said Jason.

Smuggling is a problem at northern border

Kittson county sheriff and U.S. Border Patrol team up to solve problem

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

With over 100 miles of barren Canadian/United States border to patrol, the border patrol gets by with a little help from their friends.

The Kittson County Sheriff's office assists the United States Border Patrol when pursuing individuals illegally entering the United States or Canada.

In early May representatives from both agencies testified at the Kittson County board of commissioners meeting about a need for a barricade at the Caribou border crossing.

The town of Caribou, consisting of a turn-of-the-century Greek Orthodox Church and a few scattered farm houses, rests about one mile south of the border.

The Caribou crossing is an extension of county road four which veers east one-quarter of a mile before it reaches the border. The Caribou border crossing road continues north.

The crossing has become a highway for illegal entries. Of 465 active cases at the Pembina station, 98 have been traced back to Caribou.

"The reason we keyed in on Caribou is that it is the most well-know crossing. From the information I've gotten and from the types of people that have come through there, that crossing is well known across Canada and definitely a wide area in the United States," said Kittson County Sheriff Ray Hunt.

Part of the popularity may be due to guides such as the 1993 edition of Rand McNally's Road Atlas which maps the border crossing and keys the road "conditions vary — local inquiry suggested." However, Hunt said, other more discrete roads also cross the border in the area.

The county board decided to install posts and trench the road to deter illegal entries. Construction of the barricade may begin June 1. The township on the Canadian side agreed to match the counties' actions by installing the same barriers on their side.

The border patrol is based out of Pembina, N.D., and covers about 115 miles of border. Patrol Agent in Charge Jim Gilmore estimates the territory covered by the Pembina patrol is 6,000 square miles. There are five agents at the Pembina station.

Local law enforcement agencies help supplement the border patrol's limited staff. Hunt said the sheriff's office assists the border patrol by cutting off fleeing suspects (access to the Caribou region is limited by few roads) and offering information and manpower.

The Caribou crossing is the best-known illegal crossing in the area. Two years ago a citizen of Trinidad attempted to cross through Caribou and was apprehended. The Trinidadian testified, Gilmore said, that he inquired at a bar in Toronto where he could enter the United States illegally and he received directions to Caribou.

Illegal alien smuggling through the Caribou route has become common. Citizens of other countries obtain visitors permits to Canada, an easier process than obtaining a U.S. permit; then they illegally enter the United States.

Gilmore has dealt with illegal immigrants from 46 different countries. The aliens pay someone to make the smuggling arrangements.

One smuggler based in Chicago helped bring Polish illegal aliens into the country. Some aliens, Gilmore said, will pay up to $7,000 for transportation into the United States.

In another case, Gilmore said a smuggling facilitator out of Toronto

Last trace of Herriott up in smoke

Herriott, ND — Against the night sky, a huge orange fireball rose from Gorder Grain in Herriott May 23; four miles south of Grafton. And, as the walls collapsed, so did a community landmark. The elevator, which was built in 1930, had been owned by Bill Gorder, who states that there was no grain stored there at present. (Walsh County Record)

Can't have too many casserole recipes, can we? All of these are just a "Little Different," but all are delicious.

This is definitely a little different:

SCRUMPTIOUS HOT DISH

1 chopped onion
1 can chow mein noodles
1 can mushroom soup
1 can chicken rice soup
1 can vegetable soup

Brown hamburger and onion. Add remaining ingredients and pour into greased casserole.

1 can mushroom soup
1 can celery soup
1 can beef bouillon

1/2 cup chopped celery
2 pounds hamburger
1/2 cup shredded almonds

Pour boiling water over rice and let stand 15 minutes.

Combine soups in large casserole and add salts, pepper and paprika.

Saute mushrooms, onion and celery. Add hamburger and brown. Drain.

Mix all ingredients with soup in casserole. Sprinkle top with almonds.

(May be covered and refrigerated up to 24 hours.)

Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

VEGETABLE RICE CASSEROLE
1 stick butter or margarine
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 pound Velveeta cheese
2 cups cooked rice
chopped onion
1 bag California Blend vegetables, frozen

Melt butter, soup and cheese with onion.

Bake for 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Top with shredded cheese just before serving.

What an interesting combination:

HAMBURGER VEGGIE CASSEROLE

1 pounds hamburger
1 chopped onion
1 can chow mein noodles
1 can mushroom soup
1 can chicken rice soup
1 can vegetable soup

Brown hamburger and onion. Add remaining ingredients and pour into greased casserole.

Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes

BEEF AND WILD RICE CASSEROLE

4 cups boiling water
1 cup wild rice
1 can mushroom soup
1 can celery soup
1 can beef bouillon
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 pounds hamburger
1/2 cup shredded almonds

Pour boiling water over rice and let stand 15 minutes.

Combine soups in large casserole and add salts, pepper and paprika.

Saute mushrooms, onion and celery. Add hamburger and brown. Drain.

Mix all ingredients with soup in casserole. Sprinkle top with almonds.

(May be covered and refrigerated up to 24 hours.)

Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours

This casserole will make a great side dish for your favorite meat or fish:

VEGETABLE RICE CASSEROLE

1 stick butter or margarine
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 pound Velveeta cheese
2 cups cooked rice
chopped onion
1 bag California Blend vegetables, frozen

Melt butter, soup and cheese with onion.

Place rice and vegetables in greased casserole. Pour soup mixture over.

Bake at 350 degrees until mixture bubbles and then 20 minutes more.

County establishes noxious weed appeals committee

Pennington County Board of Commissioners has appointed Charles Naplin, Tony Rubischko, and William Sylvester as members of the Noxious Weed Appeals committee. Don Jensen and Glenn Jorde will serve as alternate members.

If the County Weed Inspector finds noxious weeds on a piece of property, the inspector will talk to the property owner and request that the noxious weeds be taken care of. If the owner fails to control the weed, the weed inspector may serve the landowner notice with specific instruction on when and how the named weeds are to be controlled or eradicated.

If the landowner does not agree with the weed inspector he or she can make an appeal to the Noxious Weed Appeals committee. The appeals committee will then inspect the problem and decide what action should be taken.

If the Noxious Weed Appeals committee agrees with the County Weed Inspector and the landowner refuses to destroy the weeds, a private contractor can be hired to eradicate the weed with the costs assessed to the landowner's real estate taxes.

Stumpf sponsors amendments to wetlands bill

Minnesota's wetlands preservation act has been amended by the 1993 legislature and Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls sponsored the bill containing the amendments. The measure was signed into law by Gov. Arne Carlson.

"The changes to the wetlands act answer many of the concerns people have had about it," Sen. Stumpf said. "Some parts of the act that were confusing or tough to administer have been improved. One side wanted more regulations and the other side wanted fewer. It's surprising that we were able to pass any changes.

He said the most important change is that local governments can delay implementation of new wetland rules until next January.

Another change is an automatic exemption for any wetland with less than 400 square feet. The bill also allows for the use of some impoundments in the new statewide wetlands banking programs. This is especially important in the Red River Valley, the senator said.

Howard Rokke, a broadcasting instructor at Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls, was surprised Thursday night when the commencement exercise was stopped to present him with a plaque for teaching 25 years. Bon Jorstad (right), another broadcasting instructor, presented the award.

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Some Personal Thoughts Of The Editor On Dairying in General

As readers of a special section in next Tuesday's Thief River Falls Times will discover, a great deal of time and effort has gone into producing a special portion of that issue that relates to dairying. We have made this effort during June Dairy Month—and particularly around the annual Northwest Dairy Day observance on the second Tuesday of the month—for a number of years.

It is entirely true that the effort is in great part motivated by the potential to increase revenue through the sale of advertising. But it is also true that we put a good deal more time and expense into the promotion than would be necessary for it to be a success. And we do so because we are convinced of the importance of dairying in Minnesota and, despite its declining situation, in our general circulation area.

We look at the production and sale of milk as only one aspect of the industry. The purchase and consumption of milk and the myriad of other dairy products certainly involve virtually everyone in our area. And we quite honestly enjoy meeting and visiting with the dairy farm families we feature because by and large they are honest, hard working, fun loving people who would do any community proud.

And let's take a quick look at the scale of the industry in our state. Minnesota is the nation's fifth ranking dairy state with 14,000 dairy farmers selling approximately 10 billion pounds of milk worth $1.2 billion each year.

Minnesota-produced milk is responsible for more than 40,300 dairy industry jobs, including 33,700 dairy farm jobs and 6,600 other jobs in the dairy processing and marketing industry. That is an employment impact greater than Northwest Airlines in Minnesota. Another 45,600 jobs are directly related to and dependent on the state's dairy industry. The industry contributes $3.5 billion to Minnesota's economy—including $170 million in state and local tax revenues. Those are all impressive numbers.

Yes, we have 14,000 Minnesota dairy farmers, but 10 years ago we had 31,000. The costs of producing milk are higher than ever before although production per cow on average has increased dramatically. Dairymen often lack the resources to make substantial changes in their farming methods, and as a result dairy production facilities and equipment in Minnesota average more than 30 years old and are not being replaced rapidly enough.

We hope you watch for and enjoy Tuesday's special dairy section whether you know the people or are familiar with the industry or not. You can become more familiar and knowledgeable if you take some time to read the articles.

And we encourage you to slip out to the Pennington county fairgrounds Tuesday, June 8, to see the children of some of these fine dairy farmers show their livestock or participate in the industry-promoting Region 1 Dairy Princess contest. Coronation for the latter is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. If you haven't seen a dairy cattle show before—or even if you have—you will be impressed by the ability of the youngsters in the show ring.

We like dairy people. People who work that hard deserve to have a chance to succeed and they deserve their own special recognition—June Dairy Month.

Minnesota Dairying—A Tradition With a Future

GUEST EDITORIAL
by Elton Redalen, Commissioner
Minnesota Department of Agriculture

For as long as Minnesota has existed, dairy farming has been a major part of our state's heritage and—more importantly—its economy. This $3.5 billion industry employs 40,000 Minnesotans who produce, process and market dairy products. Another 45,600 Minnesotans—from truckers to teacher to grocers to grain haulers in every corner of the state—depend on a healthy dairy industry for their survival.

But the health of Minnesota's largest agricultural industry is slipping. The number of dairy farmers in Minnesota has dropped by more than half during the past 10 years, and Minnesota has lost three dairy farms a day for the last seven years.

Even more disturbing are the findings of a recent study by Ag-Nomics Research: If present milk production trends continue, Minnesota will ring in the year 2000 with a loss of 16,700 jobs and $1 billion in revenues. Residents of every city and county in Minnesota will feel the impact.

Now for the good news: Minnesota's dairy industry is being revitalized. The turnaround began last year when 32 organizations representing every facet of the dairy industry joined together with the University of Minnesota and state government to form the Dairy Leaders Roundtable. This precedent-setting coalition has one mission: To help Minnesota's dairy industry help itself to become more competitive with other milk-producing regions of the country.

Task forces within the Roundtable are:

- Developing innovative ways to provide capital to dairy farmers who want to expand and modernize their operations;
- Putting together workshops and demonstration farms to help farmers become more efficient; and
- Working with the State on a few recommendations that require legislative action such as regulations that would make it easier to transfer a farm from one generation to the next.

Clearly there is much to be done, immediately and over the long term. However, Minnesota has strong dairy cooperatives, an extensive local feed industry, processing plants, extension education and research leadership, plentiful water, committed dairy families and a national reputation for quality. With rural and urban residents behind the dairy industry as they have been for many generations, we begin our upward climb from a position of strength.

Five-year-old Logan Browning died in an accident Monday evening.

According to the Pennington County law enforcement center reports, the center received a 911 emergency call at 5:11 p.m. on Monday, May 24 from a neighbor. Law enforcement officials were called to the Browning residence in Rocksbury township where the five-year-old Logan Browning was being dragged by a horse.

The youth was taken in a police squad car to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and then transferred to Dakota Hospital in Fargo, ND, by ground ambulance. The young boy died enroute.

V.I.P. section is added to Country Jam

A V.I.P. section of 100 seats at $30 each has been created for the Country Jam to be held June 19 during the St. Hilaire Fun Fest. Food and beverages are included in the ticket price, as well as an unobstructed view of the show.

The V.I.P. tickets are available at Kezar Music and Budget Electronics in Thief River Falls, Municipal Liquor Store and Kruse Inn at St. Hilaire, Lazy D in Grand Forks, NAPA Auto in Warroad, Frank's TV in Roseau and Brunn's for Men in Crookston.

Prowlers win extra-inning tournament opener 7-6

Nathan Knutson tied the game with a lead-off home run in the bottom of the seventh inning and Marc Haugen won it with a two-out RBI single in the eighth Wednesday as Thief River Falls outlasted Detroit Lakes 7-6 in opening round North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament play.

Results of the see-saw affair advanced the third-seeded 15-4 Prowlers into the four-team double-elimination portion of the six-team tournament, while ending the sixth-seeded Lakers' season at 7-10.

Both teams had their moments. Thief River Falls grabbed a 2-0 first inning lead, fell behind 3-2 in the top of fifth, tied it in the bottom of the fifth, went ahead 5-3 in the sixth, but trailed 6-5 after 6 1/2 innings before Knutson's homer tied it again.

The Prowlers won despite a bundle of errors – on offense, not defense. Missed signs and poor base running nearly floored Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "Talk about making it tough on ourselves," said Wensloff. "We made so many mistakes on the bases. I haven't seen us have problems like that all year. There's no telling how many runs we could have, or should have scored."

It looked like the Prowlers would pay dearly for those missed scoring opportunities when Detroit Lakes' Matt Horner stunned the audience with a three-run home run with one out in the top of the seventh to wipe out a 5-3 Thief River Falls lead. It was the second homer of the day for Horner, who hit a solo shot in the third.

The Prowlers' spirits appeared to be broken as they came off the field for their seventh inning at-bat. But the mood promptly changed when Knutson sent the first pitch down the line and over the left field fence for a tie.

North Sub-Section 8AA Baseball

■ First round Wednesday, May 26 (single-elimination) Thief River Falls 7, Detroit Lakes 6 (8 innings). Alexandria 3, Bemidji 6.

■ Second round Friday, May 28 (double-elimination) Alexandria at No. 1-seeded Fergus Falls, Thief River Falls at No. 2-seeded Moorhead.

■ Play continues Tuesday, June 1, and Friday, June 4, at Matson Field in Moorhead.

"To get down like that, and then come right back with a home run on the first pitch – that's a really gutty comeback," said Wensloff. "That's what you like to see."

Thief River Falls then won it with an eighth inning effort that started when Jason Svir sent a one-out double into the right-center field gap. Wade Evenson was issued an intentional walk to set up a possible inning-ending and game-winning double play situation. The Lakers almost turned it on a ground ball to shortstop Chris Hanson. They got the force at second, but Carter Rogalla beat the relay to first – barely.

Svir wound up at third on the play and trotted home when Haugen singled up the middle.

"We played well defensively, got some good pitching and got the key hits when we needed them at the end," noted Wensloff.

Scoring started back in the first inning when Svir had a lead-off single and two stolen bases to get into position to make it 1-0 on a sacrifice fly by Rogalla. Evenson walked, stole second and scored on a two-out single to right by Knutson.

Matt Schiller walked and later scored on an infield ground-out by Corey Johnson as the Lakers cut into the 2-0 deficit in the second inning, then Horner cleared the left field fence in the third for the 2-2 tie.

Three base hits, including an RBI double by Toby Steinmetz, made it 3-2, Lakers, in the fifth, and they had a chance to do some serious damage with a one-out bases-loaded situation. But Thief River Falls pitcher Eric Bjorgaard got out of the jam himself by turning an unusual unassisted double play – coming off the mound to grab a pop-up, then racing over to third to double up the Detroit Lakes runner before he could get back to the bag.

Svir legged out an infield single to open the bottom of the fifth and went all the way to third when the Lakers added an error to the play. Second error of the inning, on a ball hit by Rogalla, tied it 3-3.

Bjorgaard and Svir had RBI singles in the sixth as the Prowlers went back on top 5-3.

A one-out single by Nate Greenlaw in the top of the seventh prompted Wensloff to bring Haugen out of the outfield in relief of Bjorgaard. But a walk issued to Steve Kath was followed by a high fly ball homer by Horner over the left field fence for the 6-5 Detroit Lakes lead.

The two teams combined for 23 base hits, including a 4-for-5 game by Svir and a 3-for-3, two-homer effort by Horner. Knutson was 2-for-4, while the Lakers received two-hit games from Greenlaw, Steinmetz and Jarred Bridgeman.

Bjorgaard gave up nine hits, struck out two and walked three. Haugen got the win, surrendering two hits and two walks while striking out two. Steinmetz was the losing pitching in a route-going performance in which he struck out seven and walked five.

Tennis season comes to a close

Thief River Falls' 1993 boys high school tennis season ended at the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament in Detroit Lakes – where team competition was played Tuesday and individual matches in singles and doubles were held Wednesday.

The No. 5-seeded Prowlers knocked off No. 4 Bemidji 6-1 in opening round team play, but lost to top-seeded Moorhead 5-2 in the semifinals.

"We played really well against Bemidji," reported Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney, "and we gave it our best shot against Moorhead."

Individually, the Prowlers' Tony Miramontes, seeded No. 5 in singles, advanced with a first round win, but lost in the quarterfinals, while No. 10-seeded Marc Seaverson fell in first round play.

In doubles, the Prowlers' Kyle Jordet and Derek Dahlstrom, seeded No. 6, opened with a win, but lost in the quarterfinals, while No. 12-seeded Jeff Twomey and Keith Anderson were eliminated in the first round.

"The guys played well," mentioned Forney. "They did the best they could."

Nathan Knutson (left) received a hug from teammate Jason Svir after hitting a game-tying home run leading off the bottom of the seventh inning in Wednesday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament game against Detroit Lakes at Irv Wilson Field. The Prowlers went on to beat the Lakers 7-6 in eight innings.

Bemidji is a 10-0 winner against TRF

Bemidji pitcher Erika Lyseng threw a one-hit shut out at Thief River Falls Monday to lead the Lumberjacks past the Prowlers 10-0 in a late-reported first round North Sub-Section 8AA high school softball tournament game.

The loss ended the Prowlers' season at 6-12. The 11-6 Lumberjacks advanced into the four-team double-elimination portion of the tournament in Alexandria.

Thief River Falls pitcher LuAnne Maslowski gave up just three earned runs, scattered seven hits and struck out five, but was still overshadowed by the hard-throwing Lyseng, who struck out 11.

"LuAnne did a nice job, but we didn't give her any support," said Thief River Falls coach John Anderson. "Lyseng is tough. Put her on our team and I think we would have won. We didn't play that bad, but they were just a little sharper than we were."

Originally scheduled to be played in Bemidji, the game was switched to the fairgrounds diamond in Thief River Falls because of the wet condition of the Lumberjacks' diamond.

Bemidji was seeded No. 3 in the six-team field; Thief River Falls was No. 6.

Hockey camp set June 13-26

Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association officials announced Thursday that the first TRFAHA Summer Hockey Camp will be held during a two-week period in June at the Old Arena.

Plans had originally called for four one-week sessions, but because of low enrollment figures the idea was scaled back to include two one-week sessions – if registration figures warranted. Although additional participants are needed to fill the camp, TRFAHA officials decided there were sufficient numbers at this time to proceed with the plans.

The two sessions will be June 13-19 and June 20-26. Instructional camps will be offered for Tiny Mites, Squirts and Pee-Wees, along with a goaltending clinic, while 3-on-3 leagues will be set up for Bantams and high school players.

Schedules and registration confirmations will be sent out to all participants who have already signed up. Schedules and camp rosters will also be published in The Times.

Interested skaters who have not yet registered are invited to contact camp director Ron Novak at 681-3959.

Elks Hoop Shoot

honored and proud to represent Minnesota. The whole Elks organization that I met was very welcoming, happy and easy to talk to. The experience I've had in the past few months, from placing third in regions to flashing back to picking up the ball and trying to get into the local competition, will keep tons of memories inside of me forever.

I wish I could shoot again next year, but being I'm 13, I can't shoot next year. But, I'll tell any kid that likes to shoot that the Elks is a great organization, and if you really work us hard as I did to get to regions, you will have a lot of fun and memories you won't forget.

Thank you for all the fun and excitement.

Sincerely,
Sara Rasmussen

brought in 28 aliens before he was caught.

When caught, Gilmore said, the aliens usually cooperate. "The biggest problem," Gilmore said, "is the language barrier." Aliens are either deported or given a waiver. Gilmore said his office seldom finds out what happens to the aliens.

Gilmore said he has noticed an increase in aliens entering the country since the break-up of the Soviet Union. In these Eastern European countries, it has become easier to emigrate since Communist governments have fallen out of power.

Alien transportation is not the only smuggling activity. Smugglers also transport drugs and firearms. Lower alcohol and cigarette prices in the United States have increased smuggling activity into Canada. In these cases the border patrol works closely with Canadian authorities.

"The number one concern of the matter is a public safety issue. You have undesirable people coming through the county of Kittson and that concerns me. In particular — people in the Caribou area that live out there. That's a fairly isolated area. There's somewhat of a delayed response time if there is a problem," Hunt said.

Caribou is approximately 35 miles from the sheriff headquarters in Hallock and Hunt said they can make it out there in 20 to 25 minutes. "That's cruising right along. Ordinarily we don't push it as hard because we have a lot of deer out there," Hunt said. They are also able to block certain county roads.

The border patrol headquarters in Pembina is 15 to 20 miles further from Caribou than the Hallock headquarters.

The sheriff's office occasionally patrols the northern roads and keeps an eye out for Ontario license plates.

Border patrol cases are tried in federal courts. Once local law enforcement agencies make arrests the border patrol takes over. Hunt said paperwork is minimal. If the border patrol or U.S. Customs [illegible] Kittson County is given the option to prosecute. Hunt said this happens 15 to 20 times each year.

"Generally speaking, there are people who cross the border illegally who probably want to visit a neighbor, but that's not the type of people we're talking about. We're talking about people who are involved in criminal endeavors," Hunt said.

Grygla youths finish college and high school

"You had to learn to discipline yourself a lot more. No one was telling you to finish your homework," said Michael.

When asked what their favorite class was, Jason responded, "Philosophy. I never had a class like this. You were expected to think not just read and memorize".

Michael enjoyed his literature classes at Northland the most. "That's why I decided to major in English," he said.

Both felt the advantages far outweigh the disadvantages and they would highly recommend this program to others.

Michael's advice to students thinking about entering the program is, "Live at home when you do. It makes it a lot easier to concentrate."

Both students also said support from Mom and Dad was important too. "I couldn't have done it without them," said Jason.

Jason plans to continue his education at the University of Minnesota at Crookston where he will major in Agricultural Business. Jason is the son of Gene and Jackie Dobmeier of Grygla.

Michael plans to major in English at Mayville State University. He is the son of Floyd and Phyllis [illegible] of Grygla.

Construction limits travel near Fosston

Motorists will encounter two-way traffic on Trunk Highway 2, with traffic merging on the west-bound lanes from 2.6 miles east of Fosston to the Fosston city limits, according to Lynn Eaton, Project Engineer for the Minnesota department of transportation.

East-bound lanes will be closed for reconstruction through the 1993 construction season. The present road will be widened from 10-foot lanes to 12-foot lanes. Shoulders will be added, and some grades in the roadway will be smoothed out to provide acceptable sight distances. Riley Brothers Construction Company is the prime contractor on the job.

Kaisi Holland, daughter of Duane and Gail Holland of Thief River Falls performed "An American Medley" during the 1993 graduation ceremony at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls Wednesday evening.

While on the issue of ordinances, the council read and adopted the new volume based collection system rate ordinance. Residents should be aware that the new rates will go out with the July 1 billing. Residents will be expected to start using the new garbage bags [illegible] by the city as well. Anyone with questions should contact the sanitation department.

Gary Lane of the Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) requested that the city sign a cost-share assistance contract for the riprap project below the dam. The project will go from the dam to Nora avenue. Lane said the permit process with the Minnesota department of natural resources is progressing. He also said the county had agreed to find the remainder of the rock (1,000 yards) needed for the project and to provide 300 yards of gravel. (The SWCD will be paying approximately one-half of the cost and the rest will be matched by participating agencies.)

Permits and requests from Arctco to conduct its CatFest July 16-17 were approved by the city council. Arctac requested a permit for a fireworks display for Saturday, July 17 in the Arctco parking lot; permission [illegible] in the parking lot July 16 and 17; granted the Sno-Drifters a temporary on-sale 3.2 beer permit; and a parade permit for Arctco.

In other business, the council: declared a computer system and cash register surplus property to be sold; approved a variance request from Tim and Kristi Numedahl for a garage; approved a conditional use permit which makes way for the construction of a third mini-storage facility behind Family Bowl; discussed the installation of geothermal heating for the elementary school; and approved a dance permit request by Matt Perkins for May 28 at the armory.

Funds available from Area Agency on Aging

Applications are now being accepted for funding to provide services in 1993-1994 to persons age 60 and older in northwestern Minnesota. The Area Agency on Aging of the Northwest Regional Development Commission has set June 23, 1993 as the deadline to apply for Federal Older Americans Act title III-P funds.

A total of $12,325 is available in Title III-P funding. Priority will be given to applications providing the following services: a) screening for the prevention of depression, coordination of community mental health services, provision of educational activities, and referral to psychiatric and psychological services; and/or b) medication management, screening, and education to prevent incorrect medication and adverse drug reactions.

Public or private agencies and political subdivisions of Minnesota are eligible to apply for the matching grant funds. Applicants must be located in or headquartered with easy access to the areas they propose to serve.

Federal Older American Act funds are provided through the Minnesota Board on Aging and administered locally by the Northwest Regional Development Commission Area Agency on Aging.

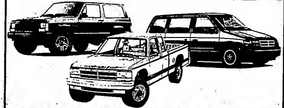
To obtain an application packet, or for further information, contact Anita Provinzino, Northwest Area Agency on Aging, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief Rives Falls, MN 56701 or call (218) 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Fishing guides issue on boundary waters resolved

Agreement has been reached on rules for employing fishing guides who operate on Lake of the Woods and other boundary waters.

Under terms of the understanding between the two governments, lists will be developed of U.S. guides who want to work in Canada and available vacancies. Canada will do the same.

Canadian guides will have to obtain work permits to be employed by American resorts. U.S. guides will have to have permits to work in Canadian waters or for Canadian resorts. Remote Area Border Crossing Permits will still be required.



Similar to last year's rules, this year's agreement is intended to minimize inconvenience to employers and fishing guides.

"While I still believe that U.S. fishing guides should be able to go wherever they want on Lake of the Woods, at least the U.S. and Canadian governments have reached agreement on rules our resort owners can live with," noted Congressman Collin Peterson, who announced the agreement.

Vandalism at Grygla TV tower threatens coverage

Grygla — People in the Grygla area have been frustrated in recent months over the frequent absence of television reception from the area television stations. The loss of the signal is being blamed on vandalism at the TV tower located west of the city. According to the sheriff's department, vandalism at the tower over the past week-end resulted in around $10,000 in damages. All of the lights were broken and one of the large beacons was torn down and dropped through the roof of the building at the tower site. The incident is being investigated. This is the third such incident this spring. (Grygla Eagle)

Hedlund family immortalized in naming of ball diamond

Malung — Hundreds of Roseau area residents gathered at the Swedish Midsummer celebration at the Malung school Thursday for the dedication of Hedlund Field which started the evening of fun. Mayor Bernie Burggraf of Roseau was master of ceremonies at the field's unveiling and explained that the new name is a tribute to Hedlund family members who have made a huge contribution to the Malung area, including Leonard and Chester Hedlund, who played softball there along with several other brothers. S.D. 564 continues to seek uses for property

As the $18 million school facilities project moves forward, the School District 564 board of education is also continuing to give special consideration to dealing with the buildings which will no longer be used once all of the construction projects are completed.

The buildings in question are Northrop elementary school on the north side of Thief River Falls; Knox elementary in the southeast area of town; and the present school district service center south of Northwest Medical Center on LaBree Avenue South.

"Once all of the construction projects are completed, which is tentatively set for the fall of 1995, these buildings will basically no longer be completely used by the district," states Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools.

Included in the new construction are the new $10 million elementary school south of the city, additions to and remodeling of Lincoln high school and Franklin middle school and conversion of the present Washington elementary school into the school district's service center, housing central offices plus adult basic education, the area learning center (alternative education), community education department and other school-related programs.

Understanding that the question of what to do with vacated facilities would be a neighborhood, community and district-wide concern, the board established a committee on vacated facilities during the process of planning for the $18 million bond issue to finance the overall facilities project.

"The board has been closely following the recommendations of that committee contained in a report presented to the board on June 10, 1992," Supt. Duncan said.

"The board of education feels that every effort should be made to put the unused buildings on the tax rolls if at all possible. The board is also working very closely with the City of Thief Rives Falls in finding alternative uses for the structures and with people in the neighborhoods to make sure that people have an opportunity to voice their opinions one way or another."

He said the board is "extremely sensitive" to the need for playground, recreational and park space—particularly at the north end of town and specifically the Northrop elementary school property—and to the interest in retaining the gymnasiums at Northrop and Knox sites for community use if at all possible.

"Over the next few months the board will be dealing with the unused properties plan," the superintendent said. "People who have a particular interest in serving on a neighborhood committee, particularly at the Northrop and Knox sites, are encouraged to contact me at 681-8711."

Recommendations from the vacated facilities committee as reported to the board on June 10, 1992, include the following, with some of which have already been carried out by the school district:

(1) School services building (former Northern Woodwork building) should be demolished as well as the storage sheds running east and west on the same property.

Editor's Note: These buildings were removed in the summer of 1992. The most western half of that property has been converted into off-street parking for the high school and is expected to be improved. Discussions have been held with Bridgeman's and the American Legion for their purchase of the eastern half of that property for its use as Legion parking and staging of the Bridgeman's trucks.

The school district also purchased four lots on the south end of that property and just recently removed some of the physical structures, such as the metal fencing and light poles that were located there.

(2) Every effort should be made to keep the Northwest Educational Cooperative Service Unit (ECSU) offices in Thief River Falls. They are presently located in the old Pepsi building (corner of Knight Avenue and First Street). This Special guest Tuesday, June 8, at the 44th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls will be Bridget Hendrickson of Preston, Princess Kay of the Milky Way. She will greet people attending the coronation program for the new Region I Dairy Princess at 12:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds and assist with the coronation activities.

Region I Dairy Princess Janell Leverington of Pine River will crown her successor Tuesday, June 8, at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls. Coronation will take place at 12:30 p.m. at the Pennington county fairgrounds where the dairy show will be held this year.

44th Dairy Day events moved to fairgrounds

All activities of the 44th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls have been moved to the Pennington county fairgrounds—the first time such a move from the downtown area has been planned in advance. Events will begin at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 8, with a showmanship demonstration.

Coronation of the Region I ADA Northwest Dairy Princess will take place at 12:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds with Janell Leverington of Pine River surrendering her crown. The regional princess contest is held in Thief River Falls on alternate years.

Dairy cattle entries are down in number again this year but still top the century mark with 107 animals entered. Recent entries of Milking Shorthorn breed animals will again mean the show has cattle represented from all six major dairy breeds—Milking Shorthorn, Guernsey, Jersey, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire and Holstein.

Roseau county again leads the list of entries, followed in number by Marshall, Pennington and Becker. Exhibitors seem to be getting younger in average each year as there are no trophy winners for participation beyond nine years this year. Nine of the exhibitors will be showing at Northwest Dairy Day for the first time.

Following the showmanship demonstration by Nick Schons of Becker county, senior showmanship champion at the 1992 Dairy Day, the junior and senior showmanship contests for 1993 will begin. Judging of cattle in the individual breeds will follow the showmanship competition.

Participating in the coronation program for the regional dairy princess in addition to reigning princess Janell Leverington will be Bridget Hendrickson of Preston, Princess Kay of the Milky Way—the Minnesota ADA state princess. There are 18 candidates for the princess title this year.

Candidates include the following:

Becker—Jodi Okeson, Detroit Lakes;

Beltrami—Wendy Poxleitner, Kelliher;

Cass—Heidi Teune, Pine River;

Clearwater—Dawn Erie, Gonvick;

Mahnomen—Annette Revier and Patricia Revier, Waubun;

Marshall—Kjerstie Hamness, Strathcona;

Norman—Rachel Dahl, Borup; Wanda Visser and Angela Grieve, Gary;

Polk—Heather Benbo, Winger;

Red Lake—Susan Schindler and Sara Beyer, Red Lake Falls; and Wendy Konickson, Plummer;

Roseau—Jennifer Dahlgren, Roseau; Holly Dostal and Helene Svir, Badger;

Wadena—JoAnn Malone, Wadena.

Judging of candidates will take place Tuesday morning at the Best Western Inn. Candidates will gather at the Best Western Monday evening to get acquainted and prepare for the Tuesday competition.

Awards program for the dairy cattle show has been scheduled for 2 p.m. at the fairgrounds. Should the judging progress more rapidly than expected, the award program time could be moved forward.

Public attendance is encouraged at all of the Northwest Dairy Day activities throughout the day and especially at the coronation and awards programs, according to Howard Person, Pennington county agent and president of the sponsoring Northwest Dairy Improvement Association. He will also serve as livestock supervisor for the day.

Farmers asked to certify crop acres

Pennington and Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices have asked farmers in their respective counties to certify their program acres as soon as they have completed planting all their crops.

"July 15 is the final date to certify your acres," reminds Karen Fredrickson of the Pennington county ASCS office. "We are reminding farmers to fill in their fields on the maps and return them to our office."

Jerry Turgeon, director of the Marshall county ASCS office in Warren, said he would like to have the bulk of the certifications completed by July 1. Since certifications are taken in Marshall county by appointment only, producers should call 745-4251 for an appointment when they are ready to School consolidation continues in area

Warren and Alvarado combine districts; Strandquist now in second year after consolidation with Tri-County

Nicole Stomgren, graduating from Tri-County school this spring, would have been the lone graduate from the Strandquist school before the consolidation.

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

The trend of school consolidation has continued into the 90s. Minnesota school district consolidations scheduled for July 1 will reduce operational districts from 411 to 392.

The most recent consolidation in Northwest Minnesota is the Warren-Alvarado school districts.

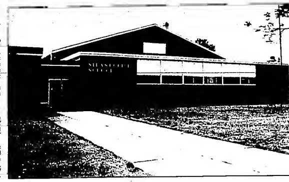
With dozens of the Minnesota consolidations in the works, Lowell Schwalbe has received many calls for information. Schwalbe, Tri-County superintendent, has become a first-hand expert in the consolidation process. The Strandquist school district consolidated with Tri-County in Karlstad two years ago.

In retrospect, many people involved believe the transition went smoothly.

The Strandquist school was previously K-12. It now handles grades one to three for the entire district at Tri-County School - Strandquist site. Tri-County School - Karlstad site takes kindergarten students and grades four to twelve.

If the schools hadn't consolidated, Nicole Stromgren would be the lone 1993 Strandquist graduate; instead she is graduating with 33 other students.

The move from Strandquist to Karlstad took some adjustment for Stromgren. "It was a little scary. We came from a school where you knew everybody and there was one floor. I had no clue to where the classes were, but everything worked out," Stromgren said.



Strandquist offered fewer classes than Tri-County and some students attended other larger area schools.

Renee Stenness, of rural Strandquist, said she sent her children to Marshall County Central in Newfolden to take advantage of more activities and curriculum and to compete with larger numbers of students.

After the consolidation, students could choose from regular and interactive television classes which weren't available at Strandquist, including psychology, speech/drama, German and a world geography.

"We didn't have a home ec room

The Strandquist school, now called Tri-County School - Strandquist site, was consolidated two years ago. It houses grades one through three for the entire school district.

Kittson Central offers Vellenga superintendency

Hallock — The Kittson Central school board has agreed with the Kennedy district to name Don Vellenga of Argyle as the new joint superintendent for the new school districts. Vellenga is presently the superintendent at Argyle and will take over the new position in July. The division of his time will be agreed on later. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Science class developing wetland area

Bemidji — Seventh-graders in Bill Larson's science class in Kappa Pod at Bemidji middle school are learning about environmental issues by working with the Beltrami County Soil and Water Conservation district to prepare a lowland area between the middle school and the bus garage as a wetland replacement area. Students have been planting about 200 new trees each year in the area surrounding the school and have picked up garbage around and in the lowlands. The school district would like to see a small area adjacent to the middle school parking lot dug out for a more permanent pond. The students are also involved in a study of micro-organisms taken from pond water. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Maria Lutheran church to hold centennial event

Kennedy — Maria Lutheran church in Kennedy will celebrate its 100th anniversary this year in June. The congregation was organized on Dec. 16, 1893 with Rev. L. P. Lundgren as the founding pastor. It began as a congregation of 26 married couples and four single persons. The group waited for six years before they had a church building. Events include an Augustana Sunday service June 13 at 9:30 a.m. with coffee and "skorpa" served after worship. There will also be an open house and banquet (reservations only) for [illegible] on Saturday, June 26. A festival and communion service will be held June 27 with a balloon lift by the Sunday school children. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Dr. Meece resigns as Grafton developmental center superintendent

Grafton, ND — Nearly ten years after he arrived to pull the Grafton developmental center out of dire straits and set it on a course for the future, Superintendent Dr. Henry "Bud" Meece is leaving. He has announced his resignation effective at the end of June. On August 1, he will become president of St. Colletas, a private facility for people with developmental disabilities in Jefferson, WI. Meece will be working with Bud Wessman to develop criteria for his successor. An acting director will be named within the month. (Walsh County Record)

Hallock farmers and DNR debate river changes

Hallock — A large group met recently at the Bill McGovern farm near Hallock to discuss recent DNR action against him. McGovern is one of several Kittson county residents faced with orders from the DNR demanding that they reverse changes they have made to the Two River. At least three other residents have received orders to remove dams placed in the river to hold back water. In McGovern's case, the DNR wants him to restore an area where he rerouted the river to control riverbank erosion and protect his property. Several options were discussed, but nothing definite has been decided on at this time. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Fosston clinic to move to new facilities

Fosston — The Fosston clinic will begin its move to a new 8,134 sq. ft. building on the hospital grounds June 4. The clinic will close that day at 3 p.m. and will re-open in the new facility on Monday, June 7. The clinic has 12 employees, not including physians, who will be working all weekend to complete the move. (Thirteen Towns)

Agassiz trail is funded

Fertile — The Agassiz Recreation Trail's funding was approved last week by the Minnesota legislature to give trail managers $650,000 to buy land and begin building the trail. The land for the multi-purpose trail is 250 acres of abandoned railroad grade between Ulen and Fertile and is valued at $230 per acre. Asking price by the railroad is $300 per acre or about $75,000. Construction will consist of removing the gravel lining the rail bed and packing the ground until firm. This should make the trail ideal for those with mountain bikes, horses or snowmobiles. It will meander through a variety of terrain, including hardwood forest, prairie grassland and wetlands. (Fertile Journal)

Open house at Old Mill state park

Argyle — The staff of Old Mill state park invited everyone to the park on Sunday, June 6 for State Park Open House across Minnesota. The Newfolden Lions club will be serving free coffee, lemonade and cookies. The park is located 13 miles east of Argyle or 11 miles west of Newfolden. (Messinger)

Cuts in Grafton developmental center personnel hurts community

Grafton, ND — Solemn faces and a somber atmosphere hung over the Grafton development center last week when 58 employees learned that their jobs were being eliminated. Reductions included three managers and 20 supervisors. No direct care staff received pink slips, thanks in part to efforts of the state union and area legislators. The reason for the layoffs was reduction in the number of clients due to a 1982 court ruling to move the center's population into group homes in the community. (Walsh County Record)

Warroad Summer Theater to open with "Quilters"

Warroad — The Warroad Summer Theater will present "Quilters," a play about a family of pioneer women as they relive their lives and times on the plains of early America. The play will run from June 10-13 and 17-20 with a curtain time of 8 p.m. The closing show on June 20 will be a 2 p.m. matinee. Director will be Troy Brewster with Nancy Kriesel as musical director and Jim Provance as technical director. (Warroad Pioneer)

Baudette to close Grand Theatre

Baudette — The 57-year-old Grand Theatre in Baudette had its last show Monday with seats and equipment being removed to prepare for the building to be torn down after June 10. The space will be used to make room for a new Coast to Coast store and a huge expansion of Ralph & Randy's Foods. The theatre was built in 1936 and was opened in November of that year. The Grand was the last theatre left between International Falls and Thief River Falls. (Baudette Region)

Keig named Heritage foundation director

East Grand Forks — Gladys Keig of Grand Forks has been named to fill the position of executive director for the Heritage foundation, a historical "village" in East Grand Forks. Keig, a speech and writing instructor, has worked extensively with museums in the past. She takes over the position which was previously held by the late Cleo Cleveland. (Exponent)

Crookston superintendent to move to Minot

Crookston — The Minot school district has announced that it has received the signed contract with Richard Larson, now superintendent at Crookston, to start in a superintendent's position October 1. Learning Center has graduation

First graduation ceremony for the Area Learning Center (ALC) in Thief River Falls was conducted Thursday, May 27, at the learning center in the School District 564 service center.

Sharon Baron, math and science instructor at the ALC, welcomed the graduates and guests. Vaughn Thorfinnson, first ALC coordinator in the school district, introduced Peter Solem, social studies instructor at the ALC, as the commencement speaker.

"Overcoming Barriers" was the topic of Solem's talk, which was followed by a musical selection by Audrey Burda and Joyce Beito. Wayne Johanneson, ALC coordinator, presented the class for awarding of diplomas by himself and Dr. Robert Duncan, superintendent of schools for S.D. 564.

Receiving diplomas were Darrel Flaten, Vikki Hutchinson, Lorrie Ose, Geri Nelson, Rhonda Jorgenson, Lucy Meyers, Nicole Franks, Elsa Lara and Kordel Jablinske.

In addition to the graduates listed above, the following students completed requirements for graduation through the ALC and will receive their diplomas at their respective schools' graduation ceremonies:

Priscilla Staie, Leah Kuzel, Jason Hoeft, Jon Erickson, Chandra Nelson and Terri Meyer, Thief River Falls; Christy Miller, Ed Halvorson and Julie Bjerk, Warroad; Arlan Loken, Grygla; Melony Stauffenecker and Janelle Frei, Greenbush.

Rod Rothschadl, work seminar and health instructor, presented "Student of the Month" awards to Lucy Meyers, Darrel Flaten, Lorrie Ose and Florence Egan. Darrel Flaten was also recognized for outstanding achievement and Betty Murphy was given a certificate for progress at the ALC. Terri Meyer, an ALC student, presented remarks from the student's perspective.

James Goldesberry, English instructor at the ALC, gave the closing remarks and recognized Rod Rothschadl for his service to the ALC as he will be leaving at the end of the school year.

A reception for the graduates was held following the program.

To The Editor:

Have you motored throughout the rural areas the latter part of May? Have you enjoyed the beauty of the wild fruit trees and ornamental crab apple trees in full bloom, the small grains in shades of green and the neat rows of sunflowers and corn? What could be lovelier than a day in May in northern Minnesota?

It is all truly a tourist's paradise of beauty—until traveling Pennington County Road 3 with its increased traffic and roadside litter.

Polk County 17 and Pennington County 3 make up 60 miles of straight as an arrow highway without a curve, a hill or a city to distract the driver—a unique situation in Minnesota.

Our community needs your help in keeping our county roads litter-free. Keep Minnesota beautiful and use a litter bag or a trash can for rubbish.

Sincerely,
Lois Swanson, secretary

Grand Forks AFB..... An Area Example Of A National Problem

If anyone needs an example close to home of what Congress faces in budget cutting on a federal level, he or she needs to look no further than across the Red River to Grand Forks, ND. That community's major economic base—the Grand Forks Air Force Base—is again built on shifting sand. Threat of closure comes from a visit and review by two members of a federal base closure commission.

As is to be expected, Grand Forks leaders along with air base leaders are doing what any patriotic, red-blooded, capitalistic Americans concerned about the economic future of the nation would do—pull out all the stops and put on all the political and public relations pressure possible to keep the base and therefore keep the federal tax dollars rolling in. Sacrifice, if it is necessary, should be made on other altars in other tax-supported temples in other parts of the country.

Not to fault the Forks folks at all. Given the same or similar circumstances the people in our community would do the same. Government is cumbersome and meddlesome and inefficient and costly and expendable and virtually unaffordable —until the money it spends is spent with us, at which time it becomes vital and important and justifiable.

According to reports we have read, the air base brings $225 million into the eastern North Dakota area annually. And not all of it stays there. Northwestern Minnesota, not exclusive of Thief River Falls, receives a portion of that in a number of ways from direct purchases by air force personnel to travel and tourism in the area from Grand Forks area residents.

But the situation in and around Grand Forks is a graphic example of the no win situation faced by Congress. Constituents demand cost cutting and waste elimination and balanced budgets and lower taxes, just as they demand infrastructure and defense and government facilities in their neighborhoods.

It's easy to understand how Senators and Congressmen can look their constituents square in the eye when cuts are demanded and say, "Get real! We can cut costs when you are willing to do without some of what government provides. And we mean you, not the folks in the next county or the next state. If you want to hear the music, you have to hire the band."

Go get 'em, G.F. Unleash the full power of the North Dakota "Congressional delegation." Fill your hearing halls, wave your flags, wear your T-shirts, honk your horns, write your letters, show your support. Pressure, impress, coerce, reason, argue, negotiate, mediate, perhaps even compromise. Then accept what the commission must ultimately decide: if the GFAFB is as vital to the defense of the nation as other bases. After all, isn't that what the commissioners' visit is all about?

So You Really Wanted Another Law......

"There ought to be a law..." is an oft-stated opinion without regard to the seemingly endless stream of law-making for every purpose that flows out of legislative halls session after session. There seems to be few situations across the land that someone—usually a legislator—doesn't feel could be remedied by passing a law.

Witness a report in the "Duluth News Tribune" that points out several recently passed laws, including one in Minnesota which permits bar patrons to roll dice to see who pays the tab. This time-honored activity has been illegal all this time?

But there are other special laws for special purposes which legislatures have seen fit to adopt. For instance:

• West Virginia now requires that warnings be posted when law enforcement officers set up a speed trap (we suppose it cuts down on the ticket printing).

• Arkansas now requires a 24-hour waiting period for men to get a vasectomy (take that, you anti-abortion chauvinists!).

• Maine solved what must have been a really perplexing problem by forbidding the use of electronic moose calls (it's not nice to fool Mother Nature).

• Liberal-thinking Nebraska lawmakers have permitted gambling on rubber duck races and "animal elimination lotteries," known more commonly (and less discretely) as "cow pie bingo." Now there's a really crappy law!

Urban vs. Rural Split Said Worse Than Ever

Writing in "Politics in Minnesota," public affairs consultants Wy Spano and D. J. Leary comment on another fact of Minnesota legislative life as follows:

"We have lamented about it for the past half dozen years, but we've never seen anything like the split that developed this year between rural and urban legislators. Time and again, regardless of the issue, one could trace differences to geography rather than policy.

"Granted, in each instance you might not find an absolute split with urban legislators all on one side and rural lawmakers on the opposite side, but it was the dominant issue on many legislative items from treaty rights and the milk tax to health care and workers comp changes.

"The split was most pronounced on transportation funding. Rural areas need roads while the urban centers want mass transit. In most other issues, common interest dictates some kind of compromise. It didn't happen in transportation funding. Elements in both camps were so wedded to an 'all or nothing at all' strategy that Minnesota faces another year with no new transportation funding. We rank a lack of that funding as one of the major failures of the legislative session.

Riverwalk bridge plan protested

Thief River Falls residents held a discussion meeting of the Follow the Rivers project on June 3 regarding the proposed pedestrian/bicycle Riverwalk bridge.

The bridge will cross the Red Lake river to connect L.B. Hartz Park and the rest of the trail system.

Residents voiced concern about the effects of the bridge on their neighborhood.

"My concern mainly is people in Hartz park sometimes get a little loud. When the police try to enforce that and stop their partying they're going to end up on our side and scattering in our neighborhood," said neighbor Loren Voecks.

"With the proposed bridge you only gain about 65 yards (of riverfront trails) and you've already got the existing walkways," Voecks said.

Residents raised questions about the cost of the bridge, which Don Stewart, city planner, said was estimated from $156,000 to $200,000. The city is applying for federal grant money to pay for the bridge.

Zehlian member Margaret Saetre explained that the Zehlians had raised $55,000 which is set aside for the bridge. The grant would require 20 per cent matching funds.

The city applied last year for a grant, but did not receive one. However, the project listed high on the grant priority list and the city plans to apply again next fall.

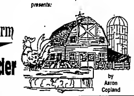
Residents asked how the sidewalk system connected the bridge and the riverwalk system. Allowing people to walk on the streets where no sidewalks were available was another concern. Stewart said this had been a concern when constructing sidewalks between Elks park and Chief Red Robe park.

Eventually there would probably be sidewalks on Columbia Avenue and Nora Street (two portions of the riverwalk), Stewart said.

"If it's OK to walk on the street why can't you just walk across the dam, two blocks down," asked resident Bob Filipy.

"Part of the idea is that the city is not particularly excited about encouraging people to use the dam unless we put a new deck on it," Stewart said.

Another concern was privacy. "We got kind of a private location down there and we'd like to keep it that way. That's why we bought it (the house) down there," Voecks said. "It's a peaceful place to live."



The group also discussed the aesthetic value of the bridge and its affect on the homeowners' view.

The city council will ultimately decide the fate of the bridge.

Meetings discuss aphids, disease

To permit wheat growers to arm themselves with the latest information on wheat aphids and leaf diseases, a series of five field meetings will be held throughout northwestern Minnesota June 14-18.

Sessions for this area of the state will be as follows:

June 16 at 9:30 a.m. for West Polk county at the ag research center auditorium at the University of Minnesota—Crookston and 1:30 p.m. for East Polk and Clearwater at the municipal building meeting room in McIntosh;

June 17 at 9:30 a.m. for Red Lake and Pennington counties at the St. Hilaire Cooperative Elevator meeting room; at 1:30 p.m. for Marshall county at Johnson Airspray, three miles west of Argyle on County Road 4; and at 6 p.m. for Kittson county at the county courthouse meeting room in Hallock;

June 18 at 9:30 a.m. for Roseau county in the Roseau auditorium and 1:30 p.m. for Lake of the Woods county at the Jerry Pieper Farms five miles north of Williams on County Road 2 and then one mile west.

Other meetings will be June 14 for Clay and Becker counties and June 15 for Norman and Mahnomen counties.

"We saw a lot of pressure from aphids and leaf diseases last year," states David Torgerson, executive director of the Minnesota Wheat Council. "New research findings will hopefully make it easier for growers to cope with these problems should they surface again this growing season."

Billed as the "Crop Doctors," Dave Noetzel, Roger Jones and Curtis Nyegaard of the University of Minnesota will update growers on management techniques at the meetings. Agendas at each place include a 45-minute briefing covering aphid identification, revised action levels for aphid management, monitoring procedures and recommended control practices.

In the area of disease management, the program will include a discussion of cereal disease identification and economical use of foliar fungicides. A local field scouting tour will conclude the sessions.

1993 Norwest Scholarship Winners

We're helping college-bound students achieve their dreams. These local students are among 52 deserving high school seniors in North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota to receive $500 scholarships from Norwest Banks.

Sanna Torgerson, Lincoln High School
"I believe that if our community could eliminate alcohol abuse in the school and in the family we would reduce the rates of teenage suicides, fatal car accidents, child abuse, and other problems linked to alcohol abuse."

Lisa C. DeLap, Lincoln High School
"Because we live in a rural community we tend to think that the AIDS epidemic won't hit us, but it is only a matter of time before we will be affected by the death of a family member or a friend."

Sara Olson, Lincoln High School
"Children need to be told continuously that they are special and unique. Self-confidence is very important in the maturing of a person... I hope I can instill values and self-esteem into the students I teach."

Come to expect the best.

Five Amity scholars have served School District 564 during the 1992-93 school year by assisting with teaching language classes at Lincoln and/or Franklin schools. The scholars have either returned to their home countries or will be returning within the next few days. All have been presented with plaques recognizing their service. The photo above was taken during a brief period when all five students were in Thief River Falls. An open house farewell party was held for the students in the Lincoln staff room last week. Pictured (left to right) are Ana Labrador from Spain, who stayed at the Haf and Diana Freeman home; Filomena Toto of Switzerland (who returned in March) and Martina Zschocke of Germany (who succeeded her here), both of whom stayed at the Art and Joan Heinze home; Silvana Mujica from Argentina, who stayed at the Kevin and Michelle Duffy home; and Kati Pohler from Germany, who stayed at the Kurt and Brenda Marben home.

Consolidation continues

in Strandquist," Stromgren said. "We took shop. Everybody took shop."

The transition of classes gave the Strandquist school 88 students in three grades when it housed about 80 students in K-12 prior to the consolidation. The merger has also led to more split-level classes.

Strandquist Mayor Vance Lefrooth said the merger was preferable to splitting the district with Marshall County Central and Tri-County. "At least we keep our school open. If it wasn't open we wouldn't have anything but the cafe and the elevator," Lefrooth said.

Irene Nelson of Irene's Cafe said the consolidation hasn't affected business negatively. Between 15 and 25 students meet at the cafe to eat breakfast before leaving on the morning bus. Nelson has also noticed lower taxes. Lower taxes were one of the major considerations during the consolidation process.

Schwalbe estimates that Strandquist taxes dropped $300,000 after the consolidation and Tri-County received $40,000 in tax relief.

A downside, Schwalbe said, was the downsizing of staff and faculty at Strandquist. When other schools eliminate faculty, Schwalbe said, they should help provide job security to provide for cooperation and a smooth transition. "Why work yourself out of a job?" Schwalbe said.

Former Strandquist superintendent Philip Dyrud transferred his duties to three other districts where he was also superintendent, including Lancaster, Greenbush and Middle River schools.

Teachers at Strandquist either went to Karlstad, switched schools or jobs, or retired.

Regina Dison taught English at Strandquist for 11 years, commuting from Thief River Falls. She left the year before the consolidation and took a teaching job in Thief River Falls.

Moving from the small, intimate classes to the larger classes was [illegible]. "The first graduating class at Strandquist was five and I moved to 30 in a classroom. This isn't a class this is a mob," said Olson laughing. "(In Strandquist) I knew the reading levels of every kid. I knew what they needed."

Teaching larger classes required changing her expectations, Olson said. Teaching in a larger school also has its advantages. "A lot of responsibility falls on you if you're the only person in the department," Olson said.

Closer quarters also led to a family atmosphere at Strandquist. This has led former Strandquist faculty to hold annual school reunions.

"I grew up there. It was like a second home, so when I was gone it was kind of different. Everyone is kind of like family," Stromgren said.

"I'm a small-school person," Dyrud said. "It's like losing a friend."

The merger caused unexpected technical problems. The new district number, 2358, was one digit more than the state finance department computer could process. The glitch led to 13 different copies of the 20 page tax levy being revised and sent back and forth between the district and state offices.

Another complication is the filing system. Secretaries now have to dig through four different sets of files to find transcripts. (Lake Bronson and Halma had previously merged with Karlstad to form Tri-County.)

The consolidation had some unforeseen benefits. Schwalbe, also principal at the Strandquist school, said sending grades one through three to Strandquist and separating them from the older classes has been "fantastic."

Sports teams from Karlstad and Strandquist had been merged for a few years preceding the consolidation. "We had a chance to get to know each other and make friends," Stromgren said.

"Camaraderie has never been a problem even though we fought for years (in sports.) The first year together we became a team," Schwalbe said.

The merging of the schools also meant the choice of a neutral mascot, the Wildcats, and the end of Ace, the fighting rabbit, mascot of the former Karlstad Rabbits. Schwalbe ordered someone to paint over the Ace rabbit mural in the hall. "I still get grief about that," Schwalbe said.

Schwalbe receives calls from other school districts considering consolidation and seeking advice. He said he tells them: "Please look at the alternatives. Tell people what outcomes will do — if taxes won't go down tell the people; if busing is going to be long, tell the people."

building should be demolished and the land incorporated into the Lincoln campus if the ECSU office can be relocated in another building. If the offices can not be relocated, the old Pepsi building should be integrated as part of the Lincoln campus and any part of that building that is not needed should be torn down or improved to give the Lincoln campus a better appearance.

(3) If at all possible, the Northrop elementary school structure should be kept and renovated into alternative uses. Alternative uses for this building could include senior housing, congregate housing, multi-family housing, etc.

(4) If at all possible, the Knox elementary facility should also be kept and an alternative use found. Again, alternative uses for this building could be senior housing, congregate housing, multi-family housing, etc.

(5) Every effort should be made to maintain some area of the Northrop and Knox sites for parks and recreation. This would be coordinated with the City of Thief River Falls.

(6) The district should sell the School District Service Center/Vocational Center school building. (The district is in the process of doing that.)

(7) All vacated facilities should be disposed of in one form or another within one year of the time they are vacated.

Ask farmers to certify acres

certify.

"The same people that take certifications also do the field measuring, which usually starts about July 1," Turgeon said. "By having the bulk of the certifications done by July 1, employees could begin doing the measuring. In turn, measurement could be completed and producers notified of their acreage before harvest begins."

Turgeon said producers in Marshall county are requested to draw in their fields and crop acreages on both sets of photo copies given to them at sign-up time.

Producers who are not sure of their acreage should request measurement service on their acres. The ASCS offices in both counties offer measurement services. Penalties for over-seeding are many times larger than the cost of measurement service, so both Turgeon and Fredrickson recommend that any producer who is uncertain of field acres requests measurement of the fields.

In Pennington county the fee for measurement is $8 for the first 10 acres, 80 cents per acre for the next 15 acres and five cents per acre for more than 25 acres. In Marshall county the minimum fee is $20 for the first 25 acres and five cents per acre thereafter.

Fredrickson and Turgeon also said that there is no reason to delay certifying acres until a later date once seeding has been completed. If for some reason the producer wishes to amend or change certification, that can be accomplished at any time until the July 15 certification deadline.

Fredrickson also said that feed grain producers in Pennington county plan to enter 151,638 bushels of 1992 crop barley in the farmer-owned reserve loan program. Eligible farmers had to obtain a regular price support loan and file an intention to participate in the loan program before entering the grain reserve, she said.

Farmers will earn quarterly storage payments for reserve barley at an annual rate of 26.5 cents per bushel, Fredrickson said. These payment will be earned until market prices equal or exceed 95 per cent of the established target price. Reserve loans will mature 27 months from the date the nine-month loans mature, but producers may repay the loans any time before maturity without penalty.

TRF sweeps Alexandria in championship doubleheader...

Prowlers win baseball title

Preseason rankings listed Thief River Falls 15th in Class AA high school baseball. The Prowlers lived up to those predictions Thursday when a 9-3, 7-6 sweep over Alexandria in the North Sub-Section 8AA finals at Matson Field in Moorhead made them one of the final 16 teams seeking the eight Class AA state tournament spots.

Alexandria was seeded No. 5 when the six-team North Sub-Section 8AA tournament began, but wound up as the final unbeaten team in the double-elimination format. Seeded No. 3, Thief River Falls needed a pair of wins in the championship showdown because of an earlier loss to Moorhead.

North Sub-Section 8AA Baseball
- First round (single-elimination) Alexandria 8, Bemidji 6, Thief River Falls 7, Detroit Lakes 8 (8 innings)
- Second round (double-elimination) Alexandria 6, Fergus Falls 3, Moorhead 3, Thief River Falls 3.
- Third round - Alexandria 3, Moorhead 1 (11 innings)
- Fourth round - Thief River Falls 18, Fergus Falls 4 (Fergus Falls eliminated)
- Fifth round - Thief River Falls 8, Moorhead 2 (Moorhead eliminated)
- Finals - Thief River Falls 8, Alexandria 3 (both teams have one loss)
- Championship - Thief River Falls 7, Alexandria 6.

Thief River Falls 9
Alexandria 3

Thief River Falls shattered three innings of lightning-quick 1-2-3 baseball with a four-run fourth inning and went on to square the championship series with Alexandria at one game apiece with a 9-3 doubleheader-opening win.

First five Thief River Falls batters in the fourth reached base, and four of them scored as Wade Evenson and Carter Rogalla stroked back-to-back singles and Marc Haugen was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Nathan Knutson sent a two-run double down the left field line to start the scoring. Rick Ostby followed with a run-scoring single through the left side of the infield and it became 4-0 when Steve Burslie got an RBI out of a fielder's choice.

After four perfect innings, Thief River Falls pitcher Jeremy Olson gave up a lead-off home run to the Cardinals' Ryan Hacker in the fifth, but the Prowlers answered with a three-run burst in the bottom of the inning on a walk to Carter Rogalla, consecutive singles by Haugen and Knutson, plus a couple of run-producing Alexandria errors.

First two Thief River Falls batters were retired in the sixth before three hits and a hit-batsman made it 9-1 – on an RBI double by Haugen and a run-scoring single by Ostby.

"It was another good effort on our part," said Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "We started a little slow, but we came on. Sometimes it takes us a while to get rolling, but our defense holds us in there until our offense comes around."

Olson limited Alexandria to three hits over the first six innings before he tired in the seventh when the Cardinals strung together five hits for a pair of runs.

But it was too little, too late. Olson did not walk a batter and struck out one. Alexandria Starter Chris Daas went four innings and took the loss. Erik Waage finished. They walked four and struck our four.

Rogalla, Haugen and Ostby had two hits each, as did the Cardinals' Hacker.

Thief River Falls 7
Alexandria 6

Thief River Falls was in command during 13 of the 14 innings that made up the North Sub-Section 8AA championship doubleheader. But Alexandria almost stole the title with a seventh inning rally that fell just short in a 7-6 second game loss.

Thanks to a five-run first inning, Thief River Falls cruised into the seventh with a 7-2 cushion. However, Alexandria suddenly came to life with four hits and two walks that made for a white-knuckle finish.

"Nothing is ever easy for the Prowlers," sighed relieved Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff when it finally ended on a ground ball force out to third baseman Andy Peterson with Alexandria runners at first and second base.

Thief River Falls stared the game with a first inning charge. The Prowlers first four batters, and seven of their first eight hitters all hit safely off Alexandria starter Josh Tatge. A couple of errors were thrown in to produce the first two runs, with RBI's coming from Nathan Knutson, Rick Ostby and Robert Nelson.

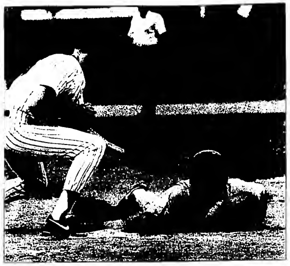
"Normally we start slow, but we got on a roll in the second half of the first game, and it carried over to the start of the second game," pointed out Wensloff.

Three Alexandria base hits made it 5-1 in the top of the second, but a single by Carter Rogalla, followed by a stolen base, a throwing error and a wild pitch, rebuilt the five-run Thief River Falls lead in the bottom of the inning.

Both teams added a fourth inning run – with a Wade Evenson single driving in the Prowlers' run – to make it 7-2 heading into the seventh.

Then it got interesting. Marc Haugen did nearly all of his pitching this spring in a relief role, but the elongated 1993 playoff format left the Prowlers' pitching staff a little thin, and Haugen was called upon to come up with a complete-game effort.

He made it, but it wasn't easy. After walking two, the senior right-hander gave up consecutive one-out singles by Chris Domarus, Ryan Hacker, Jamie Wilson, and Marty Schultz as the scoreboard margin began to shrink. A fielder's choice got the second out at third base, but also gave Tatge an RBI to make it 7-6 before it ended.



"It was hairy at the end," acknowledged Wensloff. "Alex is a good team. They swing the bat well. We were lucky to hold on."

Haugen wound up with two strike-outs and six walks. Tatge and Erik Waage, who came up in relief with just one out in the first, walked one and struck out one.

Rogalla was 3-for-4, while Steve Burslie and Evenson both went 2-for-3 for the winners. Schultz was 3-for-3 in the role of designated hitter for the Cardinals.

Diving back to the bag, Thief River Falls runner Carter Rogalla beat the tag of Alexandria first baseman Scott Lampka during a pick-off attempt in Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament finals at Matson Field in Moorhead. The once-beaten Prowlers won the double-elimination event with a pair of wins over the previously-unbeaten Cardinals, 9-3, 7-6, to move into the Section 8AA finals.

Boys basketball camp will begin here on Monday

Directed by Lincoln High School coach Scott Brekke, the Thief River Falls Summer Basketball Camp for boys in grades 1-through-9 will be in operation June 7-10.

Sessions are planned from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. – grades 1-2 at Knox Elementary School; grades 3-6 at Lincoln High School; and grades 7-9 at Franklin Middle School.

Area college players will be on hand for instructions, and special presentations will be made by two-time University of North Dakota All-America Scott Guldseth and Warren High School coach Gary Schuler.

TRF sets record for most wins

■ Baseball team takes 19-5 record into 8AA finals

Thursday's title-winning effort in the 1993 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament produced Thief River Falls' first post-season title since 1977 – when the Prowlers were one of four Sub-Region champions advancing to the Region 8AA semifinals in St. Cloud.

They lost a 9-6 semifinal outing that year to St. Cloud Apollo to finish 13-5.

This time around the Prowlers will be involved in a 2-out-of-3 game state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA championship series against the South Sub-Section 8AA winner – either Little Falls or St. Cloud Apollo. The unbeaten Flyers and once-beaten Eagles reached the Friday finals of the double-elimination tournament, where 18-4 Little Falls was a heavy favorite.

The South winner will host a Tuesday doubleheader to start the finals – beginning at 2 p.m. if it is played in Little Falls or 3 p.m. if it is played in St. Cloud. A third game, if needed, would be played Wednesday in Thief River Falls, probably at 4 p.m., according to Activities Director Lee Alger.

Tuesday's wins over Fergus Falls and Moorhead in the loser's bracket of the double-elimination North Sub-Section 8AA tournament, along with the Thursday sweep against Alexandria, put Thief River Falls at 19-5 for the year – the most wins ever for a Lincoln High School baseball team.

Previous high-water mark in the win column for the Prowlers was an 18-5 campaign in 1957 that ended with an 11-0 Region 8 championship game loss to Bemidji.

The 1959 Prowlers went 17-3-1 en route to a Region 8 championship. Two of the three losses came in state tournament play where they fell to New Ulm 7-2 and Little Falls 3-1.

Thief River Falls was 16-2 in 1955 when the Prowlers won their first Region 8 title. The Prowlers lost to Little Falls 9-4 in first round state tournament play, but came back to beat Mankato 3-2 and International Falls 11-3 for the state consolation trophy.

The team was also 16-2 in 1966, but lost to Roseau 4-2 in the Region 8 semifinals.

Thief River Falls' first official high school baseball team in 1953 was 12-0 before losing to Cass Lake 7-3 in the Region 8 finals.

In addition to the 1955 and 1959 trips, Thief River Falls was a state tournament entry in 1963, even

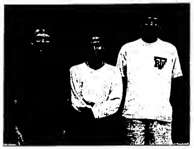
Alexandria girls take title in 8AA golf tournament



Alexandria won the 1993 Section 8AA girls high school golf tournament title Wednesday at Park Rapids, finishing with a 15-shot victory margin over runner-up Elk River, 360-375.

Thief River Falls wound up in a tenth place tie in the 13-team field at 441.

"We had a good year, but a disappointing finish," said Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell. "We had hoped to be around 420. We really thought we were ready to move up to the next step, but it just didn't happen."

Medalist was Katie Weiss of Fergus Falls with an 84. Top Thief River Falls effort with a 102 by Amy Enge.

Derek Dahlstrom is named tennis MVP

Most valuable player honors on the 1993 Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team went to Derek Dahlstrom, it was announced Wednesday by Prowlers coach Jay Forney.

Vince Miramontes was named the hardest worker and John Gunstad was selected most improved.

Prowlers eliminate top seeds

A Tuesday doubleheader sweep against Fergus Falls and Moorhead – the top two seeded teams – advanced Thief River Falls into the finals of the 1993 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament at Matson Field in Moorhead.

Beaten by Moorhead 5-3 last Friday to start the double-elimination portion of the tournament, Thief River Falls bounced back in big fashion Tuesday with a 16-4 drubbing of No. 1-seeded Fergus Falls, followed by a 6-2 victory over the No. 2-seeded Spuds.

The sweep put the Prowlers into the Thursday finals against surprising Alexandria, the tournament's No. 5 seed. The Cardinals remained unbeaten in post-season play with a 3-1 Tuesday win over Moorhead in 11 innings. Alexandria went just 8-12 during the regular season, but reached the North Sub-Section 8AA finals with wins over Bemidji, Fergus Falls and Moorhead.

Thief River Falls 16
Fergus Falls 4

Fergus Falls shut out Thief River Falls 6-0 in a regular season meeting back on April 17, but the Prowlers' offense showed up for the post-season rematch.

Seven Thief River Falls players had two or more hits in a 19-hit assault against four Fergus Falls pitchers. Sophomore Steve Burslie led the way with a 3-for-3 game that also included three RBI. Marc Haugen was 3-for-4, while Jason Svir, Wade Evenson, Carter Rogalla, Rick Ostby, and Eric Bjorgaard had two hits apiece. Ostby also drove in three runs and Nathan Knutson had two RBI.

The Prowlers turned a scoreless tie into a 6-0 lead in the top of the sixth, then tacked on 10 more runs over the final four innings.

"It took us a while to get going," noted Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "But when we finally got going our speed and our bunting game really gave them problems. We did a lot of good things on offense – we executed the plays, ran the bases well, and even our outs were productive."

Bjorgaard got the pitching decision with five innings of work. Joby Looker finished the game and ended the Otters' season at 14-5.

Thief River Falls 6
Moorhead 2

Moorhead beat Thief River Falls in two earlier meetings, including a 16-0 regular season rout. However, the third encounter belonged to the Prowlers and senior right-hander Rick Ostby, 6-2.

Ostby scattered five hits, struck out two and walked just two in a route-going performance.

"It was an outstanding effort by Rick – by far his best outing," said Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "He kept the ball on the plate and we did the job on defense. It all starts with pitching, and Rick did a great job."

Thief River Falls jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning and never looked back. It started with a lead-off double by Jason Svir, with runs scoring on an error and RBI singles by Carter Rogalla and Ostby.

The six Thief River Falls hits were spread throughout the line-up, and the Prowlers capitalized on five Moorhead errors.

"Again, our speed made things happen," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "We made them hurry every play on defense because of our speed, and consequently, they made some errors. Moorhead and Fergus Falls both had a lot of trouble with our speed."

Two of the three Thief River Falls errors came in the bottom of the seventh to give Moorhead it's final run. "We had a couple of errors at the end, but otherwise we played well on defense," said Wensloff.

Moorhead's season ended at 14-6.

Prowlers reach baseball finals

though the Prowlers were shut out by Bemidji 5-0 in the Region 8 finals that spring.

After the championship game it was revealed that a Bemidji pitcher had exceeded the allowable number of innings during the tournament, forcing the Lumberjacks to forfeit the title to the Prowlers. They lost to Hibbing 5-4 and Anoka 11-3 in state tournament play to finish 15-6.

In 41 years of high school baseball in Thief River Falls, the Prowlers have had just four coaches. Ralph Skay was the first, and he directed the program for 22 years before retiring after the 1974 season. Charlie Cornell then coached the Prowlers 11 years (1975-through 1985). Mark Lundin had the job for one year and was succeeded by Tracey Wensloff for the start of the 1987 season.

Wensloff, who also serves as an assistant coach in football and hockey, will not be on the scene next year. It was announced earlier that he will be taking a year off from his teaching and coaching duties during the 1993-94 school year.

Alexandria runner Ryan Hacker tried to reach the bag, but ran into the tag of Thief River Falls first baseman Steve Burella, who got the out after grabbing a wide throw during Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament finals at Matson Field in Moorhead. The Prowlers beat the Cardinals 9-3, 7-6 to win the double-elimination event.

Northern Expressions School of the Arts is a tuition-free magnet arts school for the Seventh Congressional District of Minnesota and is open to any student who is in the eleventh or twelfth grade during the 1993-1994 school year. Marie Hvidsten coordinates the arts program.

Students can enroll in one of six art areas: literary arts, theater arts, music (vocal, instrumental or orchestral), dance, media arts and visual arts.

Northern Expression School of the Arts, the magnet arts school operated through School District 664 and offering concentrated studies in several arts fields at Lincoln high school, will have eight students graduating with the Class of 1993 Friday night, June 4. Left to right are, front row, Beth Natvik, theater arts; Kathy Bergquist, vocal music; Ingrid Morken and Karmen Ortloff, literary arts; back row, Vanessa Anderson, vocal music; Mitch Scramsted, Jenny Streng and Dan Lavelier, all theater arts. All are from Thief River Falls except Bergquist, who is from Fosston and Streng, who is from Perham. Twenty-six students have enrolled in the magnet arts school for the 1993-94 school year.

While it is integrated with Lincoln High School, the arts school has several components that are unique beyond the concentrated arts focus, Hvidsten said. Students will have an individual learning plan which will be arranged by each student, his or her parents and an advisor from the school.

"The art school is also designed around outcomes rather than seat time in a class. When a student masters a predetermined outcome, that student shall be allowed to move on to the next challenge, regardless of how long he or she has been in the class," Hvidsten said.

Students are required to attend an "Expressive Connections" class for one semester at some time during his or her studies at the art school. The class is an interdisciplinary study in humanities which is team-taught to show the relationship among and between the art areas and general studies.

Students will also be involved in a community service project relating to their concentration.

Application deadline and interviews for acceptance have expired, but there is room for additional students in the program. Persons interested in receiving more information may contact Marie Hvidsten at (218) 681-8677.

Dairy Day survives downpour

44th annual event held at fairgrounds with good crowd attending

If it had to rain on the 44th Annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, it probably couldn't have come at a better time than the downpour which fell shortly after noon. For the first time in the event's history, it was planned in advance to be held at the Pennington county fairgrounds.

Just as the Region I Northwest Dairy Princess candidates arrived at the grounds from the Best Western Inn—and one class of the dairy show was being completed—the threatening skies opened and heavy rain forced the coronation program inside the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. A good crowd was on hand for the program, and by the time it was completed and the dairy show ready to begin again, the rain had stopped.

Crowned Region I Dairy Princess was 18-year-old Jodi Okeson, daughter of Drin and Vicki Okeson of rural Detroit Lakes. The five-foot, three-inch green-eyed blonde received her crown from Janell Leverington, 1992 Region I Princess and will represent this 16-county American Dairy Association of Minnesota region in Princess Kay competition at the Minnesota state fair this fall. Also participating in the coronation program was Bridget Hendrickson of Preston, Princess Kay of the Milky Way.

First runner-up in the contest was Sara Beyer, daughter of Mrs. Chester Beyer and second runner-up was Susan Schindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Schindler, all of rural Red Lake Falls. Tied for Miss Congeniality were Jodi Okeson and Jennifer Dahlgren of Roseau.

Jodi is a 1993 graduate of Detroit Lakes high school. A vocalist and pianist, she plans to major in music education at Concordia College in Moorhead this fall. Her family milks about 90 grade Holsteins and has a total herd of well over 200 animals. She has two brothers, Matthew, 20, and Markus, 12.

Grand champion animal of the dairy show was a three-year-old purebred Holstein shown by Chad Koch, 16, of Puposky. The cow had previously been selected as Holstein breed champion and grand champion purebred of the show.

Chad is the son of George and Sylvia Koch, whose children have been showing at Northwest Dairy Day for 22 years. This is the family's first major championship at the dairy show. Chad will receive an expense-paid trip to the World Dairy Expo in Madison, WI, in October.

Champion grade animal of the show was a three-year-old grade Holstein shown by 16-year-old Chad Schlauderaff of rural Detroit Lakes. Since he had received a purebred dairy calf as champion grade showman previously, the calf to be awarded at next year's Dairy Day will go to Craig Bentley of Mahnomen, showman of the reserve champion grade animal, a two-year-old Milking Shorthorn.

Schlauderaff's champion grade was selected as best uddered cow of the show.

Reserve champion purebred of the show was shown by Darren Carlson of Angus, who won the individual herd award for the best

Crowned Region I ADA Dairy Princess Tuesday, June 8, at Northwest Dairy Day in Thiaf River Falls was Jodi Dkason, 18, daughter of Drrin and Vicki Dkeson of Detroit Lakes. Her attendants ware Susan Schindler (seatad at left), second runnar-up and Sara Beyer (saated at right), first runner-up, both from rural Red Laka Falls. Also pictured ara Bridgat Handrickson of Preston, Princess Kay of tha Milky Way, and Janall Leverington, Pina River, 1992 Ragion I Dairy Princess. Jodi will represent Ragion I in Princess Kay compatition at tha stata fair. She comes from a Becker county dairy farm where her family milks 90 grada Holsteins.

Dverall grand champion of the deiry show at tha 44th annual Northwast Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuasday, Juna 8, was this threa-yeer-old ragistered Holstein shown by Chad Koch, 16, son of Georga and Sylvia Koch of Puposky in Beltrami county. The cow had previously won the Holstein breed championship and tha show's overall purebred championship befora being ewarded the overall show title. Chad has shown at Deiry Day for eight years.

Rock Bakken deals in black and white

A baar steps into a clearing in tha drawing "Ground Petrol" by artist Rock Bakkan.

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

Everything is black and white to wildlife artist Rock Bakken.

Bakken has spent 13 years perfecting his pencil drawings. His Hallock business, Bakken Boots, doubles as a studio and gallery.

Multitudes of bear, deer, moose, wolves and birds appear in his drawings against a natural Minnesota-esque backdrop.

Bakken has published 24 different limited edition prints since he began printing his work in 1989. "I didn't consider myself an artist prior to this point. It was a hobby. It took a long time to be comfortable with saying 'I'm an artist,'" Bakken said.

Bakken began drawing in 1980, but he "fiddled around" with the pencil in high school. He went to college for one year and quit after he bought the shoe business.

He taught himself how to draw by reading, watching television shows featuring other artists and paying close attention to judges' critiques at art shows and county fairs. Bakken has a drawer full of ribbons and awards he won at past shows.

The drawings can take from 40 to 120 hours to complete. Dnce Bakken spent about 40 hours on a loon drawing before abandoning it. "I did the feather patterns of the wing wrong. Now I make sure I know the patterns so I don't have to do the whole work over again. I learned to research a piece before I go into it." Bakken said.

Bakken photographs wildlife and uses the photographs for the basis of his drawings. He has a reseal-

Ada is a Minnesota Star City

Ada — The city of Ada recently received notification that it has passed the necessary requirements to become a Minnesota Star City. The project originally got started a number of years ago, but until recently had been put on the back burner. When Lisa Eggert took over the directorship of the Ada EDA, she pushed it into the spotlight and got the project moving again. Ada is the 131st community to complete the program. A city celebration is being planned, with a tentative date of July 29.

Hearing on closing of Bemidji depot set

Bemidji — The state of Minnesota has scheduled a second public hearing this week on a request by Burlington Northern railroad to close its Bemidji depot. The railroad proposes to transfer agency service at the Bemidji depot to their offices in Grand Forks, ND and Superior, WI. The move would eliminate four agent and clerk positions at the Bemidji depot. They argue that present and projected volumes of rail traffic no longer warrant the current structure and staffing. The union however is pointing out that the proposed changes would make the tracks less safe, since a problem such as a broken rail, which is handled immediately by the operator in Bemidji, would have to go through dispatchers in Superior, which may have less control over use of the track. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Circus coming to Crookston

Crookston — The Red River Valley Shows organization is cooperating with the Crookston chamber of commerce is sponsoring a circus July 28. The five-ring Carson and Barnes circus from Hugo, OK, is billed as the largest traveling circus in the world, with a tent that has seating for 2,500. There will be two or three performances after the tent is set up in the old-fashioned way with elephants on the morning of the opening day. (Crookston Daily Times)

Pisek residents to visit Czech sister city

Pisek, ND — George Chyle of Pisek is anxiously anticipating a trip to Pisek, Czechoslovakia, where he and 20 other Pisek, ND residents will share in the city's 750th anniversary. Chyle, Pisek city auditor, was named the city's representative to the celebration in Pisek, Czechoslovakia, which has a population of 26,000 compared to 130 for Pisek, ND. (Walsh County Record)

Correction

In the recent story reported in this column about the closing of the Baudette Grand Theatre, the Baudette Region was quoted as stating that there would now be no theater left between International Falls and Thief River Falls. This was an error, since the Roso Theater in Roseau has been operating under new management for the past year. The Times apologizes for the mistake.

Today's recipes are taken from a news release booklet from Kraft Foods touting "Healthy Favorites" cheese products. I have listed the specific Kraft products so the nutrition information will be correct. You may want to substitute other cheese products if you are not interested in maintaining the nutrition levels listed.

Here is a snack food you will enjoy with fresh vegetables or chips:

1/2 cup medium salsa
1 cup (4 ounces) Kraft Healthy Favorites shredded milk reduced fat Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup shredded jicama
1/2 cup chopped red pepper
1/4 cup minced green onions

Initiative Fund receives $1 million for businesses

Northwest Initiative Fund will receive $1 million for new and expanding businesses in the 12-county Initiative Fund region, under a bill recently signed by Governor Arnie Carlson.

The Initiative Fund will provide an additional $1 million in private funds, increasing the total available loan funds to $2 million. These funds will expand the current public/private "Challenge Grant" loan fund partnership between the Initiative Funds and the state of Minnesota that was established in 1987.

Since 1988, the Northwest Initiative Fund has approved 34 loans to businesses in the region for over $2 million, with over 400 jobs created or retained.

"The additional loan funds will enable us to continue to offer needed gap financing to area businesses for expansion or start-up needs", said Ruth Edevold, Initiative Fund Executive Director. "We are pleased that the state recognizes the importance of economic growth in rural Minnesota and look forward to continuing this very successful program."

Eligible business for the NWMIF Loan program include (but are not limited to) those businesses engaged in: Technologically innovative industries, Value added manufacturers, Agri-processors, Information industries, Tourism, and selected retail businesses. For information about the program, contact the Initiative Fund's business loan specialist, Dave West at 759-2057.

Riverwalk Bridge Has Supporters In The Neighborhood, Too....

Opposition to the proposed Riverwalk bridge which would span the Red Lake River at Hartz Park was reported in the June 5 issue of the Northern Watch. Persons in the area who expressed their concerns about the bridge cited its value, its cost (about $248,000 for the bridge and contingencies), potential for rowdy park users to move across the bridge into their neighborhood if ejected from the park by police, and adding more people to a rather private residential area.

There was some surprise at the expression of opposition to this phase of a project which has been in the development and implementation process for a number of years. There is certainly nothing wrong with expressing opinion on a potential project that could have a personal affect on people or property. That's why hearings are held. We are sure that those who presented their comments feel a legitimate concern.

Another neighborhood couple, however—one which lives closer to the bridge site than those who objected—takes an entirely different view of the project. Unable to attend the June 3 meeting at which the objectors appeared, Carl and Polly Reed had sent a letter to the planning commission which expressed their support for the bridge. And Mrs. Reed called to inform this editor and the public that there is support in the neighborhood for the bridge.

"This communique is to confirm our support for the building of the foot bridge which is planned over the Red Lake River at Hartz Park," the Reeds' letter says. "We are happy that 'our' park will become more visible and populated with walkers and bikers enjoying the beauty of outdoors.

"Our one concern is the danger brought about (even without the bridge!) by snowmobiles. We need to say that we know the majority of snowmobile drivers to be cautious and courteous. In the years we have lived on the top of this hill we have unfortunately observed the small group of irresponsible drivers who choose to run down shrubs, small trees and threaten the safety of small children sliding on the armory hill. It is our hope that the bridge will not allow even more snowmobiles in the park!

"We wish for Mrs. Belto and her group of hard-working people, the community development agency and Mr. Dale Wennberg and Mr. Don Stewart every success in the completion of this plan. From the vantage point in our gazebo, we look forward to watching lots of happy folks walk into 'our' park in the near future," the letter states.

If the Riverwalk concept is accepted—as it apparently has been with the work done and the funds expended to date—then it is our view that it makes sense to make its continuity as complete as possible. It should not be difficult to arrange the access at each end of the bridge so that it can not be gained by motorcycles or snowmobiles while still accommodating walkers and perhaps bicyclists.

Our lone question about the project—given the public outcry for reduction of federal spending—is why we should expect the national government to have a $192,200 interest (the amount of the federal grant requested) in a walking bridge in Thief River Falls? It isn't strategic for defense, it won't contribute directly to economic development and it isn't really a vital addition to the nation's infrastructure. We would wager that if such a project was funded in Mississippi or Michigan or Missouri we would call it "government waste."

But if the bridge is affordable it would be a nice aesthetic addition to a rather unique project that a lot of people could enjoy over the years. As such it seems to be worthy of support.

Non-Dairy Farm Kids Can Get In On The Fun

At Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls this year there were at least two entrants in the cattle show who don't live on dairy farms. They were taking advantage of a dairy lease project through the 4-H club program, leasing an animal kept on a dairy farm and helping to train and care for it in exchange for the chance to show it.

The number of dairy farms in the area is declining but interest in dairy cattle remains high. A young person can learn a great deal by helping to care for a calf, training it to lead and stand in position, cleaning and grooming it and showing it in competition against other animals and other young people. Responsibility can be learned without a large financial investment or a place to keep a large animal.

We expect to see many more young people showing leased cattle at Dairy Day in the future. For information about the project, contact your local county extension office.

DAIRY DAY TAKES:

It must have been especially gratifying for Dad George Koch of Puposky when son Chad, 16, won the Holstein breed, overall purebred and finally overall show championship at the 44th annual Northwest Dairy Day. A member of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association board—the group which plans and organizes the annual Dairy Day—for many years, he has had children show cattle here for half of the 44 years the show has existed. Chad's championship was the family's first.

And if the dairying Okeson family of Detroit Lakes wanted to have a dairy princess in its ranks, it had to be Orrin and Vicki's daughter Jodi, who was crowned Region I Dairy Princess in Thief River Falls Tuesday. The brothers involved in the dairy operation have a total of 12 children.....and 11 of them are boys!

With two brothers and nine male cousins, one could expect the lone girl to be a little spoiled. But in addition to being named Region I Princess by the judges, she was elected one of two Miss Congeniality recipients by the 14 contestants. Apparently she has adjusted to the situation very well.

By the way, the fairgrounds location seemed to work well, the crowd was pretty fair and we wouldn't be surprised so see the board opt for using the fairgrounds again. At least one exhibitor has suggested a covered show ring, and a tent such as the one used for the bandshell at the county fair might fill the bill. It would provide protection rain or shine—and the kids, cows and judges could have used it Tuesday!

Three taken to hospital after accident

Three people were taken to Karlstad hospital with injuries following an accident south of Strandquist Thursday evening in Marshall county.

A Marshall county sheriff's department spokesperson said they received a report of an accident Thursday at 4:53 p.m. The accident was located at the intersection of County road 28 and County road 6 about three miles south of Strandquist. According to the accident report, Adam Davis of Karlstad was driving a 1983 Datsun wagon north on County road 28, when Deanna Swendseld of Stephen was driving a 1991 Pontiac Grand Am west on County road 6. The vehicles collided in the intersection and ended up in the north ditch.

Swendseid, Davis and a passenger in the Davis vehicle, Allen Cormier, were transported by Tri-County Ambulance to Karlstad hospital. Allen Cormier was later transported to United Hospital in Grand Forks with multiple injuries.

Both vehicles involved in the accident were considered a total loss.

Holt Nazareth Lutheran church plans centennial

Nazareth Lutheran church of Holt, organized on January 6, 1893, will be celebrating a Century of God's Grace on June 19-20.

On Saturday the church will celebrate its past. There will be reunions, a mass choir rehearsal, supper and at 7:30 p.m. a communion service using the Lutheran Hymnary. This hymnary was in common use from 1913 until well into the 60's. Rev. Russell Sanoden, retired missionary, and a son of the congregation will bring the message and the choir will sing. This time of celebration will close with a service of Thanksgiving for the years spent in the church, which was built in 1905-1906. The old pews, altar, pulpit and baptismal font will be transferred from the old church building of the new structure.

On Sunday, the church will celebrate its present. The celebration will begin with a communion service at 10:30 a.m. A band, organ, piano, adult and children's choirs along with other musical groups will add to the festivities. Bishop Arthur Rimmereid will bring the message and lead the service of the Dedication of the new church building.

Free will offerings will be received both at the Saturday Supper and Sunday noon dinner.

Through the many volunteers and financial support of members, former members and friends, the new church is free of debt. In addition, gifts to the Synod and to the regular budget have not decreased.

All are invited to join in the celebration.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew...saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Blocking the plate after pulling in a strong throw from center fielder Marc Haugen, Thief River Falls catcher Jason Svir tagged out Little Falls runner Jeremy Stadum in the fifth inning of Tuesday's first Section 8AA high school baseball tournament championship doubleheader game at Little Falls. The Flyers won the state tournament-qualifying two-out-of-three-game series with a 5-1, 7-3 doubleheader sweep.

TRF VFW opens schedule with a twinbill win, loss

Thief River Falls VFW baseball team for 16-year-olds opened its 1993 season Wednesday with a doubleheader split against the Grand Forks Reds at Irv Wilson Field, winning the opener 8-2 while losing the nightcap 5-2.

Jason Hruby, Chris Vanyo, Ryan Bendickson, and Adam Henney had two hits apiece as Thief River Falls began the year with an 8-2 first-game win.

Bendickson and Henney both drove in two runs.

Vanyo struck out eight and walked one in a route-going pitching performance for the win.

Little Falls pitcher Jason Dobis struck out 12 Thief River Falls batters and gave up just two hits in leading the Flyers past the Prowlers 5-1 to open Tuesday's Section 8AA high school baseball tournament championship doubleheader. Little Falls added a 7-3 state tournament-qualifying second-game victory.

Thief River Falls beaten in Section 8AA baseball doubleheader finals...

Flyers sweep Prowlers, win title

■ 5-1, 7-3 wins send Little Falls to 1993 Class AA state tournament

Scouting report on Little Falls indicated the Flyers' strength rested with their pitching staff. That was confirmed Tuesday when Thief River Falls mustered just three base hits and got the ball out of the infield just four times all day in losing a 5-1, 7-3 Section 8AA high school baseball tournament championship doubleheader.

The sweep advances the host Flyers to the Class AA state tournament for the second straight year and put a quick end to the 2-out-of-three-game series that would have produced a Wednesday title showdown in Thief River Falls if the teams would have produced a Tuesday split.

North Sub-Section 8AA champion Thief River Falls and South Sub-Section 8AA winner Little Falls showed up with identical 19-5 records, but the Flyers' pitchers dominated. Hard-throwing Jason Dobis struck out 12 in a two-hit first-game effort, while big Clint Doroff working five innings of no-hit ball in the nightcap and left after a six-inning one-hit performance.

"The only thing we had heard about Little Falls was that they had a good pitching staff," offered Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "And obviously they do. They shut us down as bad as anybody has all year. Offensively we didn't do anything at the plate all day, and you have to give their pitchers all the credit. They threw very well."

And Thief River Falls prospects for pulling out a couple of low-scoring win were quickly squashed in both games when Little Falls grabbed 2-0 and 3-0 first inning leads.

"You can't afford to fall behind like that against that kind of pitching," said Thief River Falls coach Tracey Wensloff. "We started off on the wrong foot in the first inning of the first game and never really recovered."

Falling behind and failure to put runners as base took away Thief River Falls' biggest offensive asset – speed. "Our speed on the bases is important to our success," acknowledged Wensloff. "But you can't do much if you can't get on base, and when you fall behind, you can't steal, can't bunt..."

Defense has also been a strong suit throughout one of the best seasons in Thief River Falls baseball history, but not Tuesday when they committed four errors in Game 1. "We didn't make some key plays defensively," admitted Wensloff.

One of the few Thief River Falls highlights was provided by center fielder Marc Haugen, who threw two runners out at the plate – one in each game.

Little Falls..........5

College and pro prospect Jason Dobis did his thing on the mound, and got an early two-run lead out of a shaky Thief River Falls first inning en route to an easy 5-1 doubleheader-opening win.

Dobis threw four perfect innings before issuing back-to-back full-count walks to Marc Haugen and Rick Ostby to open the fifth. Steve Burslie then bounced an infield single off the plate to give the Prowlers a bases-loaded, no-out scoring threat.

But Dobis came right back with two strike-outs and a fly-out to keep the Prowlers off the scoreboard.

Thief River Falls' lone run came in the seventh when the Little Falls left fielder mis-played Rick Ostby's fly ball into a double. Burslie advanced him to third on a ground out, and he scored when Dobis was called for a balk.

An ugly Thief River Falls first inning on defense provided Dobis with a quick 2-0 cushion. It started when lead-off batter Jeremy Stadum glanced a single off the glove of pitcher Eric Bjorgaard and went to second when shortstop Carter Rogalla added a throwing error to the play. Jason Peterschick walked and the runners moved up on a passed ball.

Bjorgaard then fielded a bouncer back to the mound by Dobis, but inadvertently thinking he had a force at the plate, threw home. No play there, so catcher Jason Svir hurried a throw to first, sending the ball down the line for an error and a run. A sacrifice fly by Chad Truman made it 2-0.

Truman beat out an infield single to start the fourth inning, went to third on a bouncer past first by Todd Robinson and scored on a fielder's choice off the bat of Ben Backowski for a 3-0 game.

A bunt single by Brian Palashewski, a walk and a throwing error on a sacrifice bunt by Peterschick made it 4-0 in the fifth.

Singles by Robinson and Perry Jones, a two-out walk issued to Palashewski and a hit batsman (Stadum) in the sixth completed the Little Falls scoring.

Bjorgaard gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out one in a complete game effort.

Robinson was 2-for-3 in the only multiple-hit effort on either side.

Second-game Little Falls pitcher Clint Doroff wasn't as overpowering as first-game winner Jason Dobis, but he nevertheless gave up only an infield single in six innings of work to lead the Flyers to a title-clinching 7-3 win.

Doroff struck out five, but did walk four and watched his defense desert him briefly in the top of the sixth when Thief River Falls sliced a 4-0 deficit to 4-3.

The Prowlers' short-lived comeback started when Nathan Knutson beat out a one-out infield single to the hole at shortstop. Carter Rogalla then drew his third walk of the game and Marc Haugen reached base on a run-scoring error.

An errant catcher's throw on a pick-off attempt at second base allowed the second Thief River Falls run to cross the plate and when the Flyers booted another ground ball – this one off the bat of Rick Ostby – it was suddenly a 4-3 game.

But the rally died just as fast as it started when the Flyers answered with three runs of their own in the bottom of the sixth.

Scott Johnson was hit by a pitch to start it and after Jeremy Stadum put a one-one single down the third base line, Jayson Olson, who turned in four very effective innings in relief of Ostby, was replaced by Haugen. The Prowlers' center fielder-turned-pitcher ran into trouble by issuing back-to-back walks to Jason Peterschick and Dobis to force in a run. A fielder's choice ball hit by Chad Truman not only brought in Stadum, but also scored Peterschick when the Prowlers added an error to the play, rebuilding the Flyers' four-run cushion.

Robinson pitched the seventh for the Flyers. Ostby went 1 1/3 innings and took the loss, giving up four runs and five hits. Olson also surrendered five hits and gave up two runs.

Stadum was 3-for-3, Backowski went 2-for-3 and Dobis had a pair of doubles in three at-bats.

A head-first slide got Little Falls runner Jeremy Stadum to the bag as Thief River Falls third baseman Andy Peterson tried to pull down a high throw during first inning action in Tuesday's Section 8AA high school baseball tournament doubleheader opener in Little Falls. The Flyers beat the Prowlers 5-1, 7-3 to win the two-out-of-three-game championship series 2-0.

Women's Softball

Jackie Drangstveit tossed a no-hitter, Nancy Osbjornson had a two-run triple and Sheri Anderson provided a two-run double Wednesday as Goodridge Jaycees/Creative Clippers broke into the win column for the first time with a 19-0 Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League victory over winless Oakland Park Nursing Home.

It was a brief winning streak, however, as Ridgerunners/Best Western Inn downed Goodridge Jaycees/Best Western Inn 30-1 later that night. Cheryl Olson led the winners with a 5-for-5 game at the plate, while Paula Fanfulik was 4-for-5, Patti Peterson went 3-for-4 with two home runs, and Tammy Love was 3-for-5.

Ridgerunners/Best Western Inn began the night with a 21-1 win over the Swingers as Michelle Erickson went 3-for-3, while Andi Nelson, Peterson and Love were all 2-for-3.

B&E Car Wash/Terry's Service remained unbeaten with a 20-1 win over Best Western Inn and a 16-0 victory over the Swingers. In the opener, Angie Frohling homered, Julie Buse, Judy Skala, Mary Schmitz, and Marlys Schmitz all tripled, while Heidi Rewertz, Deb Cota, Barb Weiss, Sandy Barbot, Skala, and Buse all had two hits. Frohling came back with a 3-for-3 effort at the plate. In Game 2, Rewertz, Cota, Weiss, and Marlys Schmitz each had two hits in three at-bats.

Legion/Sather Law won twice – 10-8 over Pizza Hut as Dawn Knoll went 3-for-4 and 20-0 over Oakland Park Nursing Home when Janelle Konickson, Dianne Anderson and Karen Ranum all homered. Shari Stranger and Deanne Anderson both drove in two runs in the opener; Nancy Bray was 3-for-3 in the nightcap.

Cheryl Hendricks, Linda Rux, Julie Stennes, and Sandy Johnson all went 4-for-5, while Michelle Fletcher, Julie Stennes and Dorene Larson all tripled as VFW defeated Best Western Inn 16-3.

Post 117 begins year with TRF Invitational

Season-opening Thief River Falls Invitational got underway Friday at Irv Wilson Field as defending Ninth District champion Post 117 kicked off its 1993 American Legion baseball season.

The third annual event, sponsored by Eagles Club Aerie No. 2368, features a a two-division, round-robin format running through Sunday.

Thief River Falls' veteran roster features a bulk of the players that played in the 1992 American Legion state tournament in Willmar and also reached the recent 1993 Section 8AA high school baseball tournament finals.

Howard Dalager, Bill Moreau and Ron Ostby are the coaches.

Grand champion grade animal at the 44th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 8, was shown by 16-year-old Chad Schlauderaff, son of Gary and Barb Schlauderaff of Detroit Lakes. The three-year-old Holstein was also reserve champion in the Holstein breed and won the award for best uddered cow of the show. Since Chad has previously won the grade championship, he is not eligible to receive the purebred calf given to the winner at the next year's Dairy Day. Receiving the calf will be Craig Bantley of Mahnoman, who had the reserve champion grade entry. Condition of the show ring following Tuesday's noon rain shower is evident in this photo.

three animals entered by any one exhibitor. Marshall county won the county herd award for the best five animals entered from any one county.

Stuart McLeod award, presented in recognition of exceptional effort in Dairy Day participation, was awarded to Jessica Olson, 17, daughter of Duane and Judy Olson of Fosston. She has shown at Dairy Day for nine years and plans to show for her two remaining eligible years. Her three registered Holstein entries this year earned one red and two blue ribbons. She is a previous junior showmanship champion.

Junior champion exhibitor was Christopher Swanson of rural Thief River Falls, son of Lyle and Joni Swanson. This was the first year of showing for nine-year-old Chris.

Senior showmanship champion was Roy Lorson of the Middle River-Gatzke area and a Roseau county entrant. He is 15, the son of Wayne and Jonice Larson, and showed a five-year-old grade Holstein in his seventh year of Dairy Day participation. Reserve champion senior showman was Kelly Fulton of Marshall county.

Junior showmanship champion was Brad Grunhovd, 14, son of Danny and Nancy Grunhovd of Fertile and a Norman county entry. He showed a purebred Holstein senior yearling. Reserve champion junior showman was Kelly Schlauderaff of Detroit Lakes.

Once again all six major dairy breeds were represented among Northwest Dairy Day entries.

Champion Ayrshire was a registered two-year-old shown by 11-year-old Kasia Efta, daughter of Lou and Mary Efta of Argyle. Reserve champion was an entry by Karla Hamlin of Walker.

Champion Jersey was a registered two-year-old shown by Logan Wallace, 15, son of Mrs. Elsie Wallace of Middle River and a seven-year showman at Northwest Dairy Day. Reserve champion was shown by his sister Katla Wallace, 17. Karla is the 1992-93 Parish 5 Jersey Cattle Queen. The parish covers northern and western Minnesota and extends south and east to the Little Falls and Sauk Centre area.

Brown Swiss breed champion was a four-year-old registered cow shown by Jacob Efta, 18, son of Lou and Mary Efta of Argyle and a six-year Dairy Day showman. Reserve champion was shown by Jed Efta of Argyle.

Guernsey breed champion was a four-year-old grade cow shown by Nick Schons, 17, son of John and Linda Schons of Detroit Lakes. Nick was the 1992 senior showmanship winner and gave a demonstration of showmanship to open Tuesday's show. Reserve champion Guernsey was shown by Brad Grunhovd of Gary, the 1993 junior showmanship winner.

Milking Shorthorn champion was the two-year-old shown by Craig Bentley of Mahnomen which was the show's reserve champion grade animal. Reserve champion Milking Shorthorn was entered by Kelly Fulton of Warren.

Holstein breed champion was the three-year-old overall purebred and show champion shown by Chad Koch of Puposky. Reserve champion Holstein was the show champion grade and reserve show champion shown by Chad Schlauderaff of Detroit Lakes.

With the number of dairy herds in Region I declining, several 4-H club members at this year's Dairy Day took advantage of a lease program which allows them to care for, train and show dairy animals which are retained in another family's dairy herd.

able plastic bag containing about 30 pictures of cows — a drawing he is currently working on.

Hours are spent on detail in the drawings, whether animal hair or leaves. "Drawing itself I really enjoy, but when it comes to doing detail work — past the halfway point of the picture — it is as exhausting as doing income taxes," Bakken said.

Composition also plays a big part in Bakken's drawings, whether it's a fence which brings the viewers' eyes to the center of a picture, or background trees which duplicate the shape of the animals.

"When I've decided on a piece, I have to consider how it will work in black and white. For instance, I would do a loon because it's a black and white bird, but I couldn't do justice to a wood duck because it's such a colorful bird," Bakken said.

Bakken's favorite subjects are American bison and the American moose — "Big, powerful, heavy animals with lots of muscle," Bakken said.

Bakken draws a rough sketch in a fine lead pencil, which he can erase, but once he starts with heavy lead "it's there for good."

"Sometimes it's hard to visualize a drawing until it's done," Bakken said. He draws left to right and usually works on the eyes first. "If the eyes don't work, the whole picture doesn't work," Bakken said.

Unlike painters, Bakken said, who start out with dark paint and go to lighter paint, Bakken starts out with white and draws black. Bakken has to know what will remain white before he draws. Painters can use opaque paint to cover their mistakes or make revisions.

"I dabbled with acrylic paint, but I just wasn't getting the detail I wanted," Bakken said. "I was also having trouble working it in a time schedule." Bakken would leave his work to help a customer in the store and his paint would dry. Bakken estimates that he spends 70 to 75 hours a week drawing and running the store.

"I still feel that before I go to work in paint that I haven't done everything that I wanted to do in pencil. I still have so many ideas that until I feel I'm tired of it...." One of the ideas includes using more symbols in drawings, Bakken said.

"I was at a national exhibition in Minneapolis this spring," Bakken said. "When I first walked in and saw all the color work, I told my wife I might just have to switch to color to compete at this level, not only with judging, but also with retail sales. By the end of the three days I had switched my thoughts back to black and white."

"I have my own little niche in the national art level, not just local, but on a national scale. My pencil work fits in, where if I was doing color, I would just be one more fish in the pond."

Bakken also enjoys other wildlife artists. About six wildlife prints hang from his home's walls and he occasionally trades prints with other artists.

Since he has hired full-time help in the store, Bakken said he is able to attend more art shows. He recently exhibited his work at the East Grand Forks Fine Arts Festival and received first and third places for the people's choice award. Last year he received second and third places for the people's choice award.

He also exhibits his work at shows in the Twin Cities and South Dakota. Later this month he leaves for art shows in Alaska with his wife DeeDee, his son Bo and his daughter Fawn. He plans to photograph wildlife as material for future drawings.

"Besides just doing the work, an artist who is trying to make a living has to have good business skills because there is so much competition in the art world," Bakken said.

Bakken mats and frames his own work. Of his 24 limited edition prints, Bakken said two have sold out and a couple are close to selling out. The number of editions have ranged from 150 to 600. He printed 375 copies of the last 10 prints, a number he said he is comfortable with.

The cost of the prints range from $15 to $50. Originals range from $200 to $2,000. Bakken occasionally works on consignment.

Bakken has also printed his drawings on notecards and plans to begin printing them on T-shirts.

"I would never have guessed 13 years ago that I would be doing this today," Bakken said.

Hallock to sell centennial gazebo lot for business expansion

Hallock — The city of Hallock may be giving up its centennial park gazebo in order to gain a new, larger optometry clinic in return. Dr. Duane Rutz requested that the city allow him to expand his clinic. He is considering a 3,000 to 4,000 square foot building in a slow-traffic area, which is important for his older patients. The city council was enthusiastic about the idea of selling him the park and is looking at plans to move the gazebo, time capsule and Hospice Tree to another location. The gazebo became city property in 1983 after the Hallock centennial celebration. The gazebo was designed by industrial arts teacher Bruce Ternes and his ninth grade class helped to build the structure. (Kittson County Enterprise)

Grafton's future depends on 5,000 population goal

Grafton, ND — Faced with the potential loss of nearly $900,000 in highway funding in the next four years, Grafton city officials are gearing up to reach the 5,000 population mark in a special census slated to begin June 21. Ten census takers are being trained to take on the responsibility. The 1990 census, which left the city's population at 4,884, was believed to have missed people and the city council hopes that the new census will find 5,000 people in the community to allow it to qualify as "urban." Cost of the census is estimated to be $25,000. If the population is found to be lower than 5,000, the city will lose state and federal financing of Hill Avenue reconstruction, estimated at over $3 million; lose $900,000 of Urban Highway funds and will no longer qualify for any other urban programs. DFL endorses Joel Swanson for District 1B

■ TRF Candidate wins endorsement on third ballot at convention

District 1B delegates to the DFL Endorsement convention have endorsed Joel Swanson. Swanson was officially endorsed by the DFL party in District 1B Thursday night at an endorsement convention at the Heritage Community Center in Thief River Falls.

The endorsement came on the third ballot when Swanson received over 60 per cent of the votes cast. Swanson was congratulated by the party faithful and DFL legislative representatives, such as Sen. LeRoy Stumpf, Sen. Roger Moe, Rep. Jim Tunheim and Rep Edgar Olson, who were in attendance. He was also congratulated by Don Schirrick of Red Lake Falls, who was one of the other candidates seeking the endorsement. Schirrick made the endorsement a hard battle to win but when Swanson won he showed his party colors and added his support to Swanson and urged all of those who voted for him to stand behind Swanson.

The third candidate in the endorsement election, Merle Lundeen of Trail, withdrew after the first ballot. In the first ballot, Lundeen received 17 votes to the 37 held by Schirrick and 41 held by Swanson. Lundeen released the delegates who voted for him without asking them to support one of the candidates. Swanson and Schirrick were unable to earn 60 per cent of the votes cast on the second ballot.

After the first tally of delegates, 12 alternates were moved into the position of delegate making for a total of 97 delegates. Well over 100 people were in attendance at the convention.

Upon accepting the endorsement, Swanson said he was humble, grateful, a little scared and aware that there was a lot of hard work left to do before the July 13 special election. To Red Lake county delegates, who showed up in strength Thursday night registering 50 delegates, Swanson said he wanted to be their candidate.

In his speech to the DFL Convention, Swanson said, "my goal is to help working men and women." "I can understand the stress working people, farmers and businesses are having trying to make a living. And, I understand family pressures too. Being the father of five children, I know how important a good education is for our children. We need to keep good schools and funding education a priority.

All of the legislative representatives gave speeches, stirring up the party faithful and delegates for the short campaign ahead, and conducting a little IR bashing as well.

Gov. Carlson to attend TRF luncheon June 24

Governor Arne Carlson will be at a luncheon in Thief River Falls on June 24.

The public is invited to attend the luncheon at noon on Thursday, June 24 at the Best Western in Thief River Falls. The cost of the lunch is $5.47 for the sandwich bar. Governor Carlson and Rep. Steve Sviggum will address the public at the luncheon.

Anyone wishing to attend the luncheon is asked to contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce before Wednesday, June 23.

FmHA offices have standard open hours

All county and district offices of the Farmers Home Administration are now under directive to be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

State director Lou Ann Kling issued the directive to eliminate confusion rural residents may have had when many offices utilized the first and last hours of the day for uninterrupted office work.

"This practice led to less service for rural residents and in many instances caused wasted trips to the county office," Kling said. "Rural residents arrived only to find the office not yet open or already closed to the public."

Kling said "future initiatives will further improve our service to rural communities" and "this is only a small, first step in returning FmHA to a more client friendly agency."

Faythe Dyrud Thureen spent her childhood with 10 siblings on a farm near Newfolden. She uses anecdotes about her family and farm in her recently published book "Jenna's Big Jump."

100 register for testing as bone marrow donors

Testing on Monday from noon to 7 p.m.

Approximately 100 people have registered to have their blood tested Monday, June 21, as potential bone marrow donors to help little Julia Baron, daughter of Jim and Sharon Baron, battle her leukemia.

The testing will take place from noon to 7 p.m. Monday at the Franklin middle school gymnasium in Thief River Falls. It will involve donating about two tablespoons of blood. Should an apparent match be found among the people tested, further blood testing would be conducted to check for compatibility.

Diane Lehrer, who has been helping arrange the testing as president of the sponsoring Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8129, said several questions have been recurring in calls that she has received.

The testing involves a cost of $45 per person and each person tested will be encouraged to pay that amount or whatever amount up to $45 that he or she can afford. However, no one qualified as a potential donor will be refused testing because of inability to pay.

"We have $1,500 in Lutheran Brotherhood funds available to assist in the cost, plus other donations and funding provided by Julia's family," Mrs. Lehrer said. "If people being tested make a realistic effort to participate financially according to their ability, we shouldn't have a problem covering the costs involved."

Blood type has no relevance to finding a bone marrow match, Mrs. Lehrer added. And anyone who may be found to be a good match has the option of withdrawing from participation at any time up to the actual donor procedure.

A bone marrow donor is given an anesthetic and does not experience pain during the procedure, which takes 30 to 45 minutes and involves bone marrow removal through a needle. It is likely the donor will have some soreness and/or stiffness for several days following the procedure.

Persons are eligible to be tested if they are between the ages of 18 and 55 and have no history of cancer, heart or lung disease, diabetes, asthma or HIV.

While the likelihood of finding a matching donor is low, given the complexity of the match, the greater the number of people tested the better the chances of finding a match. Julia's family has been tested without anything close to a match being found.

"We hope to have at least 200 people tested Monday," Mrs. Lehrer said. "It will help our scheduling if people call in advance (681-6156) to register but it is not necessary. We will arrange to handle anyone who comes to the Franklin gym between noon and 7 p.m. and wants to be tested."

Area author mixes fact and fiction in book

Faythe Dyrud Thureen uses Newfolden childhood as material for children's book

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

Coping with bullies, swinging from hay lofts, sharing a house with 10 brothers and sisters — Faythe Dyrud Thureen mixed fiction and autobiographical fact to write the children's book "Jenna's Big Jump."

Thureen lives on a farm 11 miles south of Alvarado with her husband, Gordy, and two children. In the book a mother tells her daughter the adventures she had as a child. These stories are true stories of Thureen's own childhood growing up near Newfolden.

The book involves Jenna, a fourth grader, whose family moves from Thief River Falls to Marshall. Jenna is alone and picked on by the class bully until she makes friends with Kate, another new girl. Throughout the book Jenna picks up Kate's more rambunctious traits. Jenna is a composite of Thureen's children Rachel and Paul.

"The reason for the book was the big difference between my children and me. They were raised in a house twice as big as the house that housed a family of 13 — it was a completely different world. What I do in the book is examine that difference," Thureen said. "I think there are a lot of parents that are different from their kids and expect certain things that are worth examining."

Thureen wrote the book in three months, but it took five years from penning to publishing. The story sat on an editor's desk for two years before "Jenna's Big Jump" received the go-ahead.

Atheneum, a branch of Macmillan Publishing Company, published 5,350 illustrated copies of the book and began distributing them to major bookstores in April.

Thureen began writing children's stories in 1980 when she joined the Writer's Conference in Children's Literature, based out of the University of North Dakota. She submitted story manuscripts for other authors in the conference to critique.

Some authors at the conference become frustrated when trying to mend fact and fiction in books, Thureen said. "In fiction, the top thing isn't if it happened or not, it has to work as a fiction piece. It isn't a biography that you write, it has to go with the theme. I think the reason ("Jenna's Big Jump") fell into place is I read children's literature and I know the field. I think I have a good enough concept of fiction that the story worked."

In the book, Jenna's mother tells Jenna how she stood up to the class bully, throwing him to the ground and pinning his arms. (It really happened, but the bully was one of the few characters whose real name wasn't used.)

Another biographical fact, and an integral part the book, is when Jenna strives to swing on a rope from a hayloft at Kate's farm.

Thureen also wrote about the time she fell through the grainery/garage roof and broke her arm.

"I'm surprised all eleven of us (siblings) survived," Thureen said." We were always jumping out of trees and jumping off of buildings. My dad drove over my brother with the wheels of the truck when he was five years old. My oldest brother climbed to the top of an evergreen and the top of the evergreen broke off and he fell down

TRF takes shot at shoreland management ordinance

Substantial number of residents in Thief River Falls will be affected by the Shoreland Management Ordinance when adopted. Following months of hard work, Thief River Falls' officials presented a draft copy of the ordinance at a public hearing on Tuesday night.

The ordinance, which could be adopted by the Thief River Falls city council sometime in July or August, sets out rules and regulations governing structures and all kinds of fixtures and use of land within 300 feet of either river.

Thief River Falls officials undertook the task of creating the ordinance because of a state mandate. The state did provide a model ordinance to follow, but significant changes had to be made before an ordinance could be devised that fit the situation in Thief River Falls and protected in the interests of property owners in Thief River Falls. Chief among the changes was a request to the DNR to create an urban designation. Many rural (Greater Minnesota) communities like Thief River Falls did not fit the model because the model was based on lakes in or near urban areas where rivers didn't pass through the central business district.

One remaining dispute with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources involves restrictions on impervious surface coverage. The DNR says only 25 per cent of the lot can be covered by impervious surfaces. An impervious surface is defined as a building, sidewalk, out-building, driveway etc. After looking at several lots in Thief River Falls, the city said that this was unreasonable. Most residential areas could get along with 35 to 40 per cent. The commercial areas would need much more — something along the lines of 75 per cent.

Don Stewart, community development director, did not have any idea how many property owners will be affected by the new ordinance. Because of the large number of property lowers located within 300 feet of the two waterways, and all of the tributaries, individuals notices of the public hearing were not mailed out. Notice of the hearing was accomplished by advertising in the newspaper of record (The Times). Individual notices were sent to property owners outside the city limits who will come within the jurisdiction of the city because of the request for a re-designation. The DNR required that the boundaries of the re-designation requested by the city should be easily identifiable land lines, such as quarter lines or section lines. Thus, parts of Rocksbury township and a lot of North township will fall within the jurisdiction of the city.

Sticks and skates came out of the closet last week in Thief River Falls. Yes, it's almost summer, but youngsters in Thief River Falls were skating on ice. The 1993 TRFAHA Summer Hockey Camp is being conducted at the Old Arena in Thief River Falls. For more information see the Sports Pages.

Father Noesen to depart Bagley, Shevlin, Fosston

Bagley/Shevlin/Fosston — Father Gerald Noesen, who is celebrating his 38th anniversary in the priesthood, has traveled in 49 states on his motorcycle. Now he will be doing a different kind of traveling. Father Noesen, who presently presides as pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church in Fosston and offers Mass in Bagley and Shevlin, will be leaving the three parishes to move to Mentor on July 1. He will be caring for the Fertile and Bejou parishes as well. Since his ordination in 1955, Father Noesen has seen many changes in church policy and believes that communication is extremely important. In addition to communicating with people from the pulpit, he has coached hockey and plays keyboard at the Irish Shanty in Crookston on Friday nights. He plans to retire at Maple Lake in about seven years. (Farmers Independent)

McIntosh Nursing Home may be sold

McIntosh — The McIntosh city council was informed at its last meeting of a plan by Bob and Fran Odell of the Odell corporation in Minneapolis to offer the McIntosh Manor Nursing Home and Mac Manor apartments for sale. The corporation has owned the two facilities for more than 30 years and built a new 89-bed facility in 1984. The city council was asked if the city would be interested in purchasing the nursing home and apartments complex. McIntosh Manor presently employs 109 people. If the city agrees to the proposal, the facility would join 17 other nursing homes in Minnesota which are city-owned. (McIntosh Times)

Ada Greeters will welcomes new residents

Ada — New long-term residents of the city of Ada can expect a visit from the Ada Greeters, a new program to welcome new residents to the community. The project is being undertaken by a subcommittee of the Pride and Unity committee, part of the city's development planning initiative. The project is chaired by Marie Petry and will be overseen by the Ada Area Senior Citizen group. Packets will be given to new arrivals with promo material from area businesses, coupons and other information. (Norman County Index)

Clearbrook Summerfest set for June 24-27

Clearbrook — The city of Clearbrook will host a big four-day, 1993 summerfest celebration complete with bake sales, bean feed, bingo, raffles, kid's games, baseball, softball, dances and many other activities. The summerfest will be held June 24-27. The community theatre will present "Peter Pan" at 7 p.m. Friday and on Saturday a soap box derby and volleyball tournament will also be held. (Leader-Record)

Summer musical planned in Fertile

Fertile — Between "American Pop" and "Standing Room Only" (both being presented in Fertile this summer), you find "World of Entertainment," a concert by the Summer Repertory children and the Adult Park Choir. It will be held June [illegible] at 7:30 p.m. with Elaine [illegible] directing the children and Balinda Fjeld directing the adults. Shirley Hanson is helping with the choreography. (Fertile Journal)

Junior Park Naturalist plan

Minnesota State Parks have begun offering a new Junior Park Naturalist program recommended for children ages seven to 14. All activities have been designed for children and adults to enjoy together.

Nature has divided Minnesota in three major biomes or areas having unique characteristics. They are identified as the prairies, pinelands and hardwoods area and can be viewed by traveling to parks located in different parts of Minnesota.

It is possible for youngsters to earn a patch and certificate from all three regions, with other awards or certificates to be earned by completing additional activities.

More information and materials are available at any of Minnesota's state parks.

Researcher Surprised by Weight Loss!

WASHINGTON — A researcher at National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, is surprised at how successful a natural food tablet has become in helping overweight people lose weight.

Dr. William Morris is surprised because the chewable tablet, called Food Source One, was originally developed to help feed the world's undernourished people. Relief organizations, however wanted a more conventional method to ease world hunger so they opted for more traditional food sources. Dr. Morris then reformulated Food Source One to enhance its potential for weight loss.

Just why does FS-1 work so well to help people lose weight? Some may say it's the natural plant colloids that Finnish scientists say interferes with the intestinal absorption of calories. But there is not agreement in the scientific community on this theory, so it can only be considered speculation pending further study. So why are people losing weight with FS-1 — lots of weight? According to Dr. Morris, it's the Food Source One Plan that allows you to lose weight without giving up your favorite foods. With the FS-1 Plan there are no forbidden foods. Although individual weight loss varies, one woman from Niagara Falls, New York lost over 70 pounds without giving up giving up her favorite foods which included chocolate, pizza and chicken wings.

A Florida company has exclusive distribution rights to this powerful pre-meal snack. Food Source One is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

Funding for RIM remains steady

Funding for many local government natural resource program generally remained steady during the 1993 legislative session, said Ron Harnack, executive director of the Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR). The BWSR is the state administrative arm for a variety of local natural resource protection programs.

"Although we didn't get much in the way of increases, we did manage to keep funding at least equal for most of these programs," Harnack said. "I think it indicates the legislature commitment to locally-based and managed resource protection," Harnack said.

The Legislature appropriated about $1.3 million to the Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) Reserve program — a land retirement program that pays landowners to remove marginal lands from agricultural production — for the 1994-1995 biennium. Although this seems like a significant drop from the $9 million 1992-1993 appropriate, Harnack pointed out that a large portion of the past appropriation has been through bonding.

"We're fairly confident that next year's bonding bill will reflect some major funding for the program," Harnack said. The Legislature approved a small bonding bill this year but is planning on passing a major bonding bill in 1994.

In other programs, the Legislature combined three related grants into one water management block grant for local governments. The consolidation is expected to increase efficiency and allow for streamlining state services to local governments, Harnack said. The Legislature appropriated about $4.9 million for 1994 and $5.4 million for 1995 for the grants, which will be used for a variety of local needs, including public education, water quality projects, lake and shoreland protection, and wetland protection.

The state Cost-share program, which grants money to soil and water conservation districts (SWCDs) for erosion and sediment control projects received its first increase since the early 1980s. Yearly funding for the program will increase from $1.6 million to about $2.2 million, with the $600,000 increase targeted for feedlot and soil conservation projects in the Minnesota River Valley. The funding is one element of the state, local and private partnership to clean up the Minnesota River.

One exception to the generally steady funding was the Minnesota Forestry Improvement Program (MFIP), which the governor line-item vetoed, Harnack said. The program works through SWCD's to help owners of non-industrial private forestland write forest management plans to protect the environment while making the best use of the resource. Although this year's difficult budget situation meant that there was no funding for the program, Harnack said he hopes that the funding will be restored in the future.

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Huntington's Disease—Another Unpublicized Health Problem

We would venture to say that there are few adults in the United States today who don't have at least a passing knowledge of cancer, heart disease and AIDS. Campaigns regarding these life-threatening illnesses have been so widely promoted and so highly publicized that it is almost impossible for anyone to be unaware of them.

But there are many other health threats that strike people at all ages and in all walks of life that are much less well known among the public in general. Unless these maladies strike us, our families or close friends, we are virtually unaware of their existence except when they are called to our attention.

Those of us in the news media are constantly being provided with materials prepared by groups and organizations involved with one cause or another. For the most part they are only quickly reviewed and set aside because they are not deemed relative to a large enough segment of our local readership.

We look at things a little differently when they are presented to us on a personal basis, involving a local person or local people. Such is the case with information prepared by the Huntington's Disease Society of America. It was brought to our office personally by a reader who has lost two family members to the disease, has another family member apparently stricken with it and who has lived next to the disease for much of his lifetime.

Huntington's Disease (HD) is an inherited, progressive degenerative brain disorder which results in loss of both mental capability and physical control. It is referred to as a disease of mind and body. About 25,000 individuals are now believed to have HD in the United States with an additional 125,000 considered to be at risk for the disease.

Because HD creates a ripple effect, with multiple generations in the same family and many relatives being offected by the disease and its consequences, the society estimates that one in 1,000 is directly affected by the disease. On average, that would be eight people in a community the size of Thief River Falls—certainly a significant number.

Imagine the affect on families. The person with the disease must learn to cope with it and what it does to mind and body. Many experience isolation and some are abandoned. Children face the prospect of inheriting the disorder and fear about passing on the gene to the next generation affects decisions about career, marriage and having children of their own. Spouses are faced with severe financial and emotional strains as they try to hold families together, often with little help. Many HD individuals require long term and/or institutionalized care.

Life Insuronce and medical insurance companies are reluctant to insure people at risk of the disease and may require a predictive test. The Huntington's Disease Society has been lobbying against such requirements on the grounds of genetic privacy.

A complex blood test has been available for some time which can predict with up to 99 per cent accuracy if a person has the gene. In the past few months, researchers have discovered the gene that causes the disease. This may soon lead to a simpler, less expensive blood test to tell if someone has the disease.

While no cure presently exists for HD, finding of the gene raises hopes that a cure may be found. At present it is possible only to treat the movements and psychological affects of the disease, most often with medication and counseling.

A compounding problem for HD families is that the health care system in the United States does not provide for care of people with HD, at least in most cases, until all of the family's resources are completely exhausted.

The Huntington's Disease Society's Minnesota chapter has been organized for only a couple of years but is working hard with the national organization to increase understanding of the disease, raise funds for research and attempt to change the health care system to provide financial assistance for care and counseling.

Persons who have a special interest in the organization or its programs may contact the Minnesota Chapter, Huntington's Disease Society, P.O. Box 26362, Minneapolis, MN 55423 or call (612) 937-9190.

Do Those Presidential Appointments Get To You, Too?

Does the public dissection of appointees and potential appointees of the President for federal positions bug you as much as it does us? Having a political case made of nearly every appointment is a wearisome thing and in our opinion detracts from the focus of the position.

A case in point is the recent appointment of Ruth Bader Ginsburg as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. "Whose side is she on?" asks a headline in the June 16 Grand Forks Herald. It is an irrelevant question, since she is not sitting in judgment of any case or point of law.

Activists question every potential Supreme Court appointee's views on abortion "rights" or women's "rights" or homosexual "rights" or minority "rights" or a myriad of other narrow, single issue views. They also question these same views of all other nominees to federal offices.

"Enough!" we say. Forget all that tripe! The only question of a Supreme Court candidate who is established as having acceptable training, knowledge and experience in the law should be if he or she is committed to unbiased interpretation of Constitutional rights. Could that person set aside personal biases, in other words, to rule on what the framers of the Constitution intended, even if that intent is contrary to personal preference? That's all. All the narrow, single-issue questions would take care of themselves.

We are incensed by the activists who want a nominee to have a pre-determined position before the situation has been presented for consideration. A person who is knowledgeable, reasonable, honest and fair is what the Supreme Court position demands. Beyond that, what a person will do is a gamble anyway.

RLF girl performs with opera tour group

Thirteen year old Darcy Delage of Red Lake Falls has been picked to perform a speaking part in the production of Aaron Copland's The Tender Land, which will be performed on actual working farms June 14-26. Darcy performed with the University of Minnesota School of Music Opera Theatre cast on June 16 and 17 on the Lou Schafer farm near Red Lake Falls.

Darcy is the daughter of Robert and Joanne Delago of Brooks. Darcy played the part of Beth in the Aaron Copland opera. The part seemed custom made to Darcy.

In a Red Lake Falls Gazette story, Darcy said, "I'm the youngest in the family and Beth is the youngest in the family, so I know what it's like."

The closest sibling in age to Darcy is 12 years older than she is. She has three brothers and three sisters.

Darcy said she understood the loneliness Beth feels in the opera and how Beth dreams up an imaginary boyfriend, Daniel.

The part Beth performed is one that is open to a local girl in every community that the opera performs in during their tour, so Beth won't be traveling the opera group.

The story is about a farm family, the Mosses — a mother; a daughter, Laurie, about to graduate from high school; her 10-year-old sister Beth; and Grandpa Moss. Two drifters, Martin and Top, come along asking for odd jobs. Although suspicious of the strangers, Grandpa Moss and Ma Moss offer them work. During the graduation party that night, Laurie and Martin fall in love — Laurie associates Martin with freedom, while he associates her with settling down. During the evening, Martin and Top are accused of being the alleged attackers of other young girls in the county. Although it soon is proven that the accusations are false, Grandpa Moss tells them they must leave at daybreak. Later that night Martin and Laurie make plans to run-away together, but Top convinces Martin to leave without her, and the two drifters steal off. When Laurie discovers their departure, she decides to leave home anyway. At the conclusion, the mother looks to her younger daughter as the continuation of the family cycle that is the reason for their existence.

The rationale for such an opera tour is generated by The Tender Land story itself. "The Tender Land is the perfect traveling opera," said Vern Sutton, University of Minnesota Opera Theatre director. "Opera generally is very expensive, the set being one of the major expenses. So by bringing the opera to the set — in this case a farm — it is possible to produce in small rural communities."

The opera has already been performed in Staples, Red Lake Falls and New Rockford, ND. It will also be performed in Faulkton, SD, Canby, MN, Pipestone, MN, and Olivia, MN.

Diesel fuel spill found in TRF

Officials in Thief River Falls are investigating a diesel fuel spill discovered by a city Power Plant employee Wednesday evening.

At about 9 p.m. Wednesday, June 16, the law enforcement center received a report from a power plant employee that an oil slick had been discovered near the dam. When a police officer arrived on the scene he could detect the strong odor of diesel fuel. The spill was traced to a storm sewer drain.

The fire chief was notified and the spill was traced to a parking lot located west of Bridgeman's, south of the American Legion lot, and North of Bugge's. It was such a large spill, officials called for assistance in clean up efforts from Lakehead Pipeline. Lakehead Pipeline crews were on the scene until about 2 a.m. A protective cloth was put at the mouth of the drain to prevent diesel fuel from flowing into the river and another filter was placed at another location in the drain.

Local officials are still investigating the spill and have notified state officials.

Little Brother/Little Sister program in Thief River Falls received a $250 donation recently from the Heritage Community Center. The funds were donated from the center's Bingo fund. Irene Nelson, president of the Heritage Community Center board, made the check presentation to Bev Rupprecht, director of the Little Brother/Little Sister program.

TRF Stampede best first year rodeo in circuit

The TRF Stampede, best first year rodeo in the Great Lakes Circuit of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA), could become the best second year rodeo as well, according to preliminary indications for the second annual PRCA-sanctioned rodeo in Thief River Falls.

Randy Jokela of Park Rapids, who with his wife Denese produced the TRF Stampede last year, accepted the award plaque for best first year rodeo earlier this year at the North American Livestock Exhibition and Rodeo at Freedom Hall in Louisville, KY.

One of 12 PRCA circuits nationally, the Great Lakes circuit has nine states, including Minnesota. The rodeo in Louisville was the circuit finals which involved the top 12 PRCA points winners in each rodeo event. Other first year rodeos nominated for the award received by the TRP Stampede were in Lisbon, OH, and "The World's Toughest Rodeo" in Chicago, IL.

"The award was announced in front of a crowd of 17,000 people in the arena for the circuit finals," Jokela said. "There must have been a lot of Minnesota people there because you should have heard the hootin' and hollerin' when Thief River Falls was announced as the winner."

In Thief River Falls this week to make plans for the second annual TRF Stampede, Jokela presented the award plaque to the sponsoring Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and local chairmen who worked on last year's Stampede.

"When the board of directors of the Great Lakes circuit made its selection of the best first year rodeo," Jokela said, "it depended a great deal on the comments received from participating cowboys. The effort expended by the sponsors and support shown by the community also weighed heavily in the decision."

Last year rainfall made a morass of the outdoor rodeo arena set up at the Pennington county fairgrounds and cut into attendance, although a surprisingly large number of fans huddled under umbrellas, plastic sheets and blankets until the last bull threw the last rider. The cowboys also toughed out the conditions and gave an all-out performance in the muck and mire that the fans appreciated.

This year an all-indoor TRF Stampede is planned for the Labor Day weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 3, 4 and 5 at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center on the county fairgrounds. Even if it's raining outside, fans will be assured of being dry while they watch some of the nation's top professional cowboys ply their trade.

Last year the TRF Stampede offered $12,000 in added prize money. Since the PRCA competitors earn points based on the amount of money they win, the purses added to entry fees and the quality of the livestock attract some of the top cowboys.

This year through the support of sponsors the added money has been increased to $17,500, which should make the TRF Stampede one of the largest of the nine PRCA sanctioned rodeos in Minnesota—rivaling the Headwaters of the Mississippi Rodeo in Park Rapids as the state's largest.

The greater amount of added money and the assurance that the best quality bucking stock available will be secured should combine to make the Stampede a rodeo that many top cowboys will want to attend.

Last year the TRF Stampede had a number of cowboys compete here who qualified for the PRCA National Finals in Las Vegas, NV. Among them was Wayne Herman, who won the title of World Champion bareback bronc rider, and David Bailey Jr., who was the only rider to complete a ride in the bull riding here and earned enough points to gain entry to the National Finals—where he won another pocket full of cash.

The best first year rodeo plaque will be on display in the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce office.

LHS marching band in parade competition

Lincoln high school marching band will be on hand when 20 high school bands from four states compete in Alexandria's Vikingland Band Festival on Sunday, June 27.

The competition is known as Minnesota's biggest summer marching band competition. It will feature bands from Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Arlo Miller receives Leavey Scholarship

Arlo Miller of Grafton, ND, and grandson of Signe Miller and Virginia Carriere of Thief River Falls, was selected by a committee of prominent educators as one of the 24 recipients of scholarships from the 1993 Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Foundation College Scholarship program.

The $3,500 scholarship will provide for attendance at a private college or university that Miller chooses, and may be renewed for up to three additional years of undergraduate study toward a baccalaureate degree.

The scholarship committee based its selection on such factors as scholastic achievement, special talents, evidence of leadership and financial needs. Candidates are chosen from among the sons and daughters of agents and employees of the Farmers Insurance Group of companies.

Refractive Surgery Can Dramatically Enhance Your Eyesight, So You're Much Less Dependent on Glasses or Contacts.
Glasses and Contacts Can Be a Hassle. Nearsightedness, farsightedness, and astigmatism affect more than 100 million people in North America ...and the quality of their lives. So, if you're tired of wearing glasses or contacts for cosmetic reasons or because of lifestyle or job limitations, Refractive Surgery may be worth looking into.
Refractive Surgery Works to Correct the Cause of Vision Problems. Refractive Surgery has been designed to correct nearsightedness. The precise microsurgery works by changing the shape of the cornea, thus correcting the way the eye focuses light. The 20 minute outpatient procedure can correct vision to 20/40 or better in 90% of the cases, and it's virtually painless. In fact, most patients return to work in two to three days. Even more reassuring is the fact that nearly 1,000,000 surgeries have been performed nationwide.
Richard L. Lindstrom, M.D.
Consultative Ophthalmology, Refractive & Laser Surgery
"I chose to have Refractive Surgery because I couldn't wear contacts ... and I like the way I look without glasses."
A World-Renowned Refractive Eye Surgeon in the North Country. Dr. Richard L. Lindstrom is widely regarded as a leader in corneal, cataract, refractive, and laser eye surgery. And now, select Eye Specialists in northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota are able to offer Dr. Lindstrom's world-class Refractive Surgery services to their patients.
Is Refractive Surgery Right for You? To find out more about Refractive Surgery, you or a family member may want to attend a free information seminar. This eye-opening presentation lasts about one hour. Of course, there's no obligation, and free literature will be available. Space is limited, so call the phone number listed here today and let us know you'll be attending.

Rural life celebration at Mahnomen

Fourth annual Rural Life celebration sponsored by the Catholic/Lutheran Rural Life Commission will take place Sunday, June 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Mahnomen county fairgrounds in Mahnomen.

Participating will be Bob Bergland, former U.S. Secretary of Agriculture; Bishop Victor Balke of the Crookston Diocese of the Catholic church; and Bishop Arthur Rimmereid of the Northern Minnesota District of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

A pig roast will follow the 2 p.m. service.

According to Mila Mathison, who chairs the commission, it has initiated a pilot program that "has reached hundreds of individuals and families who are experiencing severe stress in hanging on to their farms."

Mathison said the commission provides education through forums, articles and seminars and advocacy through visits, phone calls and letters to keep elected leaders informed.

TRF Jobs Inc. hears several reports at its annual meeting

Reports were presented and directors elected when the annual meeting of Jobs Incorporated was held Monday noon at Lon's Restaurant in Thief River Falls.

Reelected for three-year terms on the board of directors were Mark Larson, Roy Lunde and Art Tranby. Tranby was appointed to succeed Marshall Vagle last year when Vagle moved to the Twin Cities area. Roger Reuter was elected for a one-year term.

Recognition awards were announced by president David Strong for Vagle, who has moved from the area, and Cecil Anderson, past president of the board of directors. Other current officers are Art Tranby, vice president and Roy Lunde, secretary-treasurer.

Executive director Don Stewart reported on Star City recertification for Thief River Falls, job creation and retention, community development revolving loan fund and Jobs Incorporated involvement in several ongoing projects.

Points covered in the Star City recertification report centered on four items as follows:

(1) The Phase II project on water treatment plant improvements is nearing substantial completion and final completion on the $6.6 million project should be on schedule.

(2) During the past three years an effort has been made to identify housing needs in the community and to attempt to provide additional student housing for Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College Thief River Falls.

Preliminary design, financial studies and necessary legislation were accomplished or completed in 1992 on the student housing project. Financing of the project, however, was a problem and it was decided to temporarily put the project on hold.

The studies done to identify all types of housing needs in the community have resulted in interest by developers to provide additional subsidized elderly and LMI housing. A 15-unit LMI apartment building was completed in December and applications for three other projects, with a total of 80 additional living units, have been submitted to the Farmers Home Administration.

(3) Legislation to provide the community with an opportunity to enact a local sales tax for community and economic development projects was approved by the 1992 session of the legislature but with two of the projects having the most community support deleted.

The "stakeholders" committee appointed by the city council to refine the projects and obtain support for a referendum met throughout the late summer and fall of 1992. It was decided to postpone the referendum and return to the legislature to try to gain approval for the legislation that was originally submitted.

(4) Independent School District 564 made major steps toward accomplishing one of the largest projects ever undertaken in the community. Hundred of citizen volunteers were involved in various committees to study and make recommendations on a facilities improvement project that would impact every facility owned by the district.

On September 15 voters approved an $18 million bond issue for the project. When completed in 1994-95, a new consolidated elementary school will be in operation, major additions and site improvements will be in place at Lincoln high school, Franklin middle school and Mark Twain elementary school will be remodeled and an addition made to convert the facility to a middle school only. Washington elementary school will be converted to a district service center and the remaining facilities —Northrop and Knox elementary schools and the existing school district service center, will be made available for alternate developments.

Stewart said the community development revolving loan fund had made loans totaling $140,000 to assist in the expansion or start-up of three businesses—Hi-Performance Engineering, Black Magic Motor Sports and Ride On, Inc.

With assistance from the Minnesota Cold Weather Resource Center, Thief River Falls was able to reach agreement to establish a cold weather testing facility for Jaguar-Sport from England. It is expected that the English group will return to do further testing next year, again making a contribution to local employment.

"Early in the year a site location search was conducted for a possible wood products processing facility. Although the client decided not to proceed with the project at the present time, the research may be useful for other projects in the future," Stewart said.

He also briefly mentioned a biomass refining project which is under advanced study and has the potential to effect a major change in the area agricultural economy.

Stewart also briefly reviewed other community activity which has or is expected to have an impact on the economy of the community. Included were establishment of the River Road Casino, addition of nine holes to the Thief River Golf Club course, landscaping and tree planting at city parking lots, central business district improvements including the Highway 32 project and housing rehabilitation. He encouraged those in attendance to return their community surveys and urge others to do the same.

Regarding job creation and retention, Stewart said that the enterprise zone program had been closed out with $1,721,000 of the $1,750,000 available being distributed. He said projections by potential users fell short by $22,000, leaving about $7,000 of the total unallocated.

He said the enterprise zone program had resulted in 1,550 full-time equivalent jobs being created by participants and the expenditure of millions of private business dollars for capital investments. In 1992, he said, full-time equivalent jobs added included 92 at Arctco, 58 at Digi-Key and a 41.2 per cent increase at Independent Machine Service.

An accommodation agreement has been reached between Arctco and Digi-Key to provide for expansion of the Digi-Key operation, Stewart said.

Jobs Incorporated concluded its year with a fund balance of $50,710, a reduction of $14,236 from a year ago, according to the 1992 financial report.

TRF takes shot at shoreland ordinance

The ordinance, Chapter 11 — Land Use Regulation (Zoning) in the City Code, defines and limits use of land within the 300-foot zone from the river. It includes significant and substantial regulations regarding use for residential districts, suburban residential districts, general residential districts, high density residential districts, multi-family residential districts, neighborhood business districts, general business districts, central business districts, downtown fringe, light industry and general industrial. That's right, it touches on just about every imaginable use. There are also setback requirements for specific accessory uses such as boat docks, fences, detached garages and other "shoreland accessories". By the way, there are no permitted uses in the shoreland, except accessory uses, for businesses in the general industrial category.

One common concern is for what already exists, of which there are many which do not conform, there is a section in the ordinance titled "Non-Conforming Lots, Structures and Uses". Basically, non-conforming structures existing upon the effective date of the ordinance, that do not conform to the provisions of the ordinance, may be continued subject to certain conditions. If a house that does not conform to the ordinance, for example, is damaged by fire, it may be repaired or rebuilt to the original outside dimensions. Any rebuilt structure shall be repositioned on the lot to minimize as many violations of the setback requirements of the chapter as possible as determined by the Board of Appeals and Adjustments.

The zoning ordinance does allow for a zoning amendment, conditional use permit, variance and appeal. There is a charge for the application, however.

The ordinance is likely to add costs to the construction of any structures within the shoreland zone, however, city officials tried to develop an ordinance that fit into the current situation and make it "livable" for property owners.

Who will enforce the new ordinance? A Zoning Administrator appointed by the city council shall enforce the new ordinance. The violation of a section, subdivision, paragraph or provision of the ordinance, is a misdemeanor.

Anyone interested in more information about the new zoning ordinance should contact the community development office.

with the top of the evergreen. Why are we all still living?" Thureen said.

Thureen reminisces in the book how her family sat around the dining table on apple crates and eight gallon cream cans to eat cream on bread with brown sugar or ground wheat cereal — "porridge for royalty," Thureen's father called it.

"The mother's stories are supposed to be told larger than life," Thureen said, "like we do when we remember our childhood and tell all these glamour stories. In the end the mother realizes that she doesn't remember the pain that was involved. She was telling the stories as if those were the good old days. Well, the good old days have their downside too."

The true story about accidentally burning down the farm granery/garage didn't make it into the book after Thureen decided it might encourage fire-loving children.

In the book, one of the children breaks an arm and goes to the hospital. For accuracy Thureen visited the Grand Forks Orthopaedic Clinic where they took her through the steps of doctoring a broken arm, including casting Thureen's unbroken arm. "That's one of the fun, fun things about being a writer for children. Doing your research is so enjoyable, people are interested in helping you."

Thureen's children are now high school age. They were elementary age when she wrote the book. Now Thureen visits with other children, exploring their interests, listening to their lingo. Her last book was written for seven through ten-year-olds.

She is also an avid reader of children's books. "Yes I read them. I read them over and over and over. It's so fascinating and so rich. Oh, I don't need any excuse at all to read those," Thureen said.

Thureen, who is currently director of the Writer's Conference in Children's Literature, has several favorite authors of children's books. She also keeps an eye open for award-winning children's books. "If you just read and read, you'll automatically become a good writer," Thureen said.

Thureen also uses other life experiences for stories. She's working on more children and young adult stories including a Norwegian historical novel. The novel involves a young adult making the decision to leave Norway. The book is based on relative's letters and stories about her grandmother leaving Norway.

Another book in the works is a picture book about Madagascar where Thureen spent two years as a missionary.

Authoring a published book should help the process of publishing other books, Thureen said.

"I function on obsessive interests," Thureen said. These obsessive interests include writing. "It's just a whole world going through your head and you're wondering where it's all coming from," Thureen said of the writing process.

When an idea comes to her she writes it on the nearest scrap of paper. "When I'm busy with teaching, I have to put a stopper on that whole part of my mind. All of a sudden the whole book comes like that," Thureen said.

"She's not around long enough to get intense," joked Gordy Thureen, who grew up five miles west of their present home. Gordy and Faythe met in the Louvre Art Museum in Paris, France, while trying to find the Mona Lisa. "But that's another story," Faythe said.

Some of the childhood memories Thureen writes about have stayed the same. Thureen's parents still live on the farm near Newfolden and kids still swing from the hayloft.

Thureen was introduced to writing while an undergraduate student at Moorhead State University. She taught French at UND from 1970 to 1975. She stayed home to care for the children for a few years and then returned to UND as a Norwegian instructor. She is going to Norway this summer to study university courses about Norwegian poet and playwright Henrik Ibsen.

Percy Smerek and his wife Ada, who has taught music lessons and been a high school teacher in music, said goodbye to the two congregations of the Grygla Lutheran parish after serving there for over 12 years. This week they will be moving to their new home at Janesville, WI. The couple came to Grygla from Williston, ND in 1981 and have been active in many areas of the community, especially in the area of music. Interim pastor Gary Forsberg of the Bemidji ELCA conference will serve until a new pastor is hired. (Grygla Eagle)

New Crookston principal hired

He had spent a year at Marshall County Central in Newfolden in 1988-89 and got acquainted with Crookston at that time. He has also served as principal in Floyd Valley, IA and has been at Sleepy Eye for four years. Zenor has three grown children, who live in Waterloo, IA, San Diego, CA and Lawrence City, IA. House Minority Leader Steve Sviggum of Kenyon was in Thief River Falls for a noon luncheon Thursday. He had been scheduled to appear with Gov. Arne Carlson, but when the governor's trip was canceled due the flood emergency in the Twin Cities and other area, he served as the stand-in speaker.

Rep. Sviggum here Thursday; Governor isn't

House Minority Leader Steve Sviggum of Kenyon served as a stand-in for Governor Arne Carlson at a noon luncheon Thursday at the Best Western Inn.

Governor Carlson had been scheduled for a trip to Moorhead and Thief River Falls but a media advisory supplied by his office Thursday morning said the trip had been canceled "due to flooding by the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers.

"Governor Carlson will instead meet this morning with emergency management officials and state agency heads to determine the extent of the flooding and preparations for the crest of the Mississippi in St. Paul," the advisory stated.

Rep. Sviggum, who had been scheduled to appear with the governor, was informed at 8:22 a.m. in Alexandria that Gov. Carlson's trip had been canceled.

Reviewing the 1993 legislative session, the Minority Leader said it was notable for its ability to keep state spending within its ability to pay. He said the 9.5 per cent increase in spending for the next biennium matches the projected revenue increase for that period and has a one per cent cushion by which the governor can unallocate by that percentage across the board if the November revenue projection is less optimistic.

"The one per cent amounts to $160 million," Rep. Sviggum said, "so it is a very significant amount. By applying it across all programs the unallocation would preserve the intent of the legislature in the way allocations were made."

At a press conference following the luncheon arranged by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, Rep. Sviggum said that the only reason the 1993 session was able to control spending was Gov. Carlson's refusal to raise taxes and the solidarity of the minority IR party in being able to sustain a veto.

"The time to stop spending is

Ranada Erickson seeks crown of Miss T.R. Falls

Ranada Erickson of Thief River Falls will be one of five candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the pageant July 10 in the Lincoln auditorium.

(This is the second in a series of informational articles about candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title at the Official Miss America Preliminary Scholarship Pageant to be held Saturday, July 10, at the Lincoln high school auditorium. The series is being published in The Times and Northern Watch.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

If singing and dancing can be related to a happy state of mind, Ranada Erickson has a happy life. She was a dance line member as well as a choir member at Lincoln high school and has continued her vocal interests at college.

Ranada, 20, is the daughter of Dennis and Geraldine Erickson of Thief River Falls and a 1991 graduate of Lincoln high school. She is five feet eight inches tall, has light brown hair and green eyes and will present a vocal solo for her pageant talent number.

Volleyball was also an interest for Ranada who was captain and most valuable player award winner on the JV team, won the coaches' award on the C team and added a "Happy Camper" award at volleyball camp held at St. Cloud State University. She also participates in softball.

She was a member of the Lincoln concert choir, Varsity Singers, women's choir and jazz ensemble and was a member of the choir groups which performed at Disney World in Florida, placing first in jazz ensemble and second in concert choir. She has been a member of the Northland Community College vocal music groups and received a Knights of Columbus scholarship.

A member of the Fine Line Dancers at School District 564, she was a captain and awarded most valuable dancer honors. She has taken piano lessons for eight years and voice lessons during her senior year in high school.

Ranada was a member of the Distributive Education Clubs of America chapter at Lincoln and a member of the Home Economics

Mediation center edging toward NW Minnesota

Judge Dennis Murphy coordinating efforts to use mediation instead of adversary roles in settlement of disputes

by Mark Olson
Staff Writer

A mediation center is possibly edging toward Northwest Minnesota.

Mediation is a program where two or more parties have disagreements and a neutral party helps facilitate discussion between the parties so they can reach a common agreement.

Mediation is most commonly used in dissolution (divorce) cases, but can also be used in disputes ranging from property to elder care.

District Judge Dennis Murphy has been coordinating efforts and soliciting state funds to start the mediation center. If successful, the center would cover Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Mahnomen and Norman counties.

The center would provide a coordinator to place clients with mediators. The center would also set up a sliding fee scale based on income.

Mediation has been concentrated in the Twin Cities area with little contact in rural areas. Minnesota Supreme Court Chief Justice A.M. Sandy Keith is a leader of the mediation drive in Minnesota.

Cooperative Solutions, Inc, a mediation center, recently started in Grand Rapids for the Itasca county region. The center, a branch of a Minneapolis mediation center, offers one free orientation session to couples obtaining a divorce. Murphy said some courts require couples seeking a divorce to attend one mediation session.

People from Roseau, Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire, East Grand Forks, Red Lake Falls, Hallack and Wannaska recently participated in a seminar to become certified mediators. The Edina-based Erickson Mediation Institute hosted the 40-hour seminar in Thief River Falls.

The twelve people participating in the seminar have various careers; about half of them are lawyers and a few are social workers. "I think all people have some experiences trying to mediate, even in your own family. You have this thing of mediation between people. It's probably an innate skill that needed development," Murphy said.

"Both attorneys and judges have felt that the courts are not the place to take care of dissolutions because the cases are too emotional, and also they are not really prone to the adversarial system. They are better off trying to reach an agreement because we find that it's become so adversarial you can't settle at all," Murphy said. "They keep coming back and keep coming back over something because somebody hasn't been satisfied one way or the other."

A chief argument which proponents use for mediation is the result on children. "Probably the best part is that it helps parents not fight over the children. They become responsible parents rather than fighting," said Marilyn McKnight, executive director of Cooperative Solutions, Inc.

In some cases, Murphy said, couples are never given an opportunity to sit down and discuss the situation with each other with a neutral party mediating.

"A mediator does not express his or her opinions, but works on the dissenting parties reaching an agreement. Where you have lawyers involved, the parties never speak to each other. It's always through the lawyers and I think there is a problem of (adversarial) posturing with that kind of system," Murphy said.

"Mediators help people reach compromises, keep emotions neutral and keep the process moving from beginning to end," said Thief River Falls attorney Richard Sather, a participant in the mediation seminar. "The main thing is to allow people control of their lives, not somebody telling them what to do," Sather said.

The mediation process is not totally free of lawyers. Each mediation participant needs a lawyer to review the final agreement and present it in court.

"One of the concerns is where

Swedes celebrate Midsummer Fest

Bemidji — What would make a bunch of Swedes dress up in woolen clothes and dance around a pole in the ground in 80-degree weather? The maypole dance, as re-created this week in Bemidji, is a traditional part of Swedish culture, to celebrate the longest day of the year. On hand to help celebrate were the 1993 Midsommar Fest queen, Ada Holand, 92, and last winter's Santa Lucia, 18-year-old Lorien Parson. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Beltrami church celebrates 100 years

Beltrami — Trinity Lutheran church of Beltrami will celebrate 100 years of Christian fellowship on June 27. In December 1893 a general invitation was extended to Norwegians in the Beltrami area to organize a Lutheran congregation. It was originally named the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church of Beltrami and was comprised of 26 adults and 39 children. The centennial morning worship service June 27 will be followed by a dinner and afternoon program beginning at 2 p.m. (Fertile Journal)

Horse believed to be attacked by bear

Williams — Quaotie and Sandra Dickey's registered quarterhorse, Rosie, ended up missing a portion of his hind quarter after an attack last week. Although the horse had lost a significant amount of blood from the night attack, the owners brought in a veterinarian who treated the horse with nearly 100 stitches. The horse also suffered several puncture wounds in the midsection, believed to have been caused by bear claws. The Lake of the Woods sheriff's department and the DNR are investigating. (Northern Light)

Couple comes to aid of [illegible]

Bemidji — Elmer and Elma Reim of Bemidji have a new member of their family. After a windy and stormy night, Elmer found that a robin's nest had fallen from a neighbor's tree and rescued a baby robin from the disaster. The couple have been caring for the baby for three weeks, feeding "Robbie" oatmeal and chopped up worms. About every 90 minutes during the day the bird, which flies loose in their yard, lets them know it's hungry or that it wants attention. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Glenmore Recovery center to mark 20th anniversary

Crookston — Glenmore Recovery center, a chemical dependency treatment center since 1973, will celebrate its 20th anniversary on June 26 with festivities held on the campus of the University of Minnesota-Crookston. Activities will include noon and evening meals, family events and an opportunity to meet staff members of the facility. An evening program featuring Luther Bjerke and Glenmore alumni will highlight the event. For more information, call 1-800-584-9226. (Crookston Daily Times)

Science center gears up for July 1 opening

Bemidji — July 1 fast approaches, intensifying the work of Headwaters Science center steering committee members hoping to start the center in Bemidji. They are ordering stock for the science store, building demonstrations, continually working to get contributions and planning to have a booth at the Bemidji Jaycees water carnival. The Science center will have information and simple experiments, as well as turtle races, at a booth at the carnival. If weather permits, there will also be rocket shooting. A bicycle gyroscope demonstration will show the power of energy, a cryogenics demonstration will use liquid nitrogen for experimenting with cold and the program will include large bubbles for kids. The Science center will make a move into the old J.C. Penney building in downtown Bemidji on July 1. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Playground items to be located at Gordon Falls park

Bemidji — While several residents appealed to the Bemidji city council to locate new playground equipment at a more accessible park, the Bemidji city council voted to install the equipment, originally planned to be at the Diamond Point park, at Gordon Falls park. Money for the equipment was raised by Bemidji state university's Council of Indian Students, but after a year of frustration in seeking the necessary state archeological clearances at the first park, the students recommended that the equipment be put elsewhere. A study last year by a Leech Lake Reservation archeologic team found American Indian artifacts at the Diamond Point site and it is thought that the area could include burial grounds, which would prohibit construction work. (Bemidji Pioneer)

Sacred Heart church to celebrate centennial

East Grand Forks — The Sacred Heart Catholic congregation will celebrate its centennial year, on July 9-11. The celebration will begin with an open tour of the school and church, as well as a special archive exhibit in the high school dining room. A school mass will be held Saturday with guided tours and a centennial banquet that evening at the armory. The centennial notes the first Catholic parish in East Grand Forks, organized in 1893 with Rev. Patrick J. Hendrick, as the first pastor. The first mass was held Aug. 6, 1893 in the city hall building. (Exponent)

"Beltrami Days" are coming July 2 and 3

Beltrami — The Beltrami community will hold a celebration for its citizens, past and present, July 2 and 3 with an all-school reunion supper July 2 at the community center. On Saturday there will be a parade down Main street and many other activities such as softball, horseshoes and a dance. (Fertile Journal)

Large marshmallows

Mix first 7 ingredients together and drop by teaspoonfuls on cookie sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 8 minutes.

Remove from oven and top with 1/2 large marshmallow. Return to oven for 3-4 more minutes, until done. Let cool. Frost with Chocolate Glaze.

CHOCOLATE GLAZE

"Not A Drop" Law Went Into Effect June 1

A news release from Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy reminds people in this area that the state's new "not a drop" legislation went into effect June 1. The law applies to drivers under the age of 21—which is the legal drinking age in Minnesota.

"Under this bill, drivers under age 21 could lose their driver's license for 30 days if caught driving with any alcohol in their systems," Rep. Tunheim said. "Young adults who consume even one beer or glass of wine are subject to this new law. In addition, the penalty is increased to a 180-day license suspension for the second or subsequent offense.

"Although I did not agree with this legislation," Rep. Tunheim states, "I believe it's important for those affected to be aware of the consequences they face. Any license suspension for a driver under 21 could result in dramatic insurance increases. Please use caution while enjoying yourself this summer. The costs of driving while drinking can be devastating."

Rep. Tunheim doesn't say so in his release, but the devastating costs of drinking and driving at any age extend far beyond a 30-day driver's license suspension, and too often well beyond the costs to the individual doing the drinking and driving.

Objective of the legislation was to get the attention of young people who apparently didn't find the consequences of existing illegal drinking laws to be a deterrent. Loss of driving privileges for 30 days was deemed to be a more fearsome penalty to the young people than fines. To a young male driver it might be looked upon as temporary vehicular emasculation.

Whether a person agrees with the legislation and/or its intent or not is really academic. To avoid the possible penalty is perfectly simple—if you are under age 21 and expect to be driving a vehicle, don't drink anything alcoholic. That decision can avoid a whole lot of potential problems.

Special Election May Be Good Politics But Bad Timing

We view the special election July 13 to elect a successor to Rep. Wally Sparby with mixed emotions. There are both plus and minus areas to look at when attempting to determine what appears to be best for the people of District 1B.

For instance, the 30-day period from calling of the election to the date when it will be held must seem too short to candidates and their parties although it may be considered ample by the general public. We believe it is the minimum amount of time allowed under the law and as such is more political than public oriented. Another couple of weeks or a month would have been helpful—which ideally could have been done through an earlier call for the election, since Rep. Sparby's resignation took no one in the governor's office by surprise.

In fact, Rep. Steve Sviggum, House Minority Leader, told us during an interview Thursday in Thief River Falls that the House IR caucus had recommended to the governor well in advance of the Sparby resignation that the special election be held prior to the northern Minnesota harvest season in late July. A July 13 election could have been called for as soon as the Sparby resignation was received in mid-May.

So much for the timing aspect. Now let's take a look at the costs of a special election.

Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls, whose party is not the same as the governor's, was one to publicly criticize the governor for creating election expense that could have been spared had the election been deferred to this fall. His estimate of up to $50,000 in costs was received from the Secretary of State's office, which later pared the amount to $25,000 if there is no primary election—and there will be none.

There is no question that in these hinterlands of northwestern Minnesota $25,000 is real money. But we do disagree to at least some extent with what Sen. Stumpf considers to be waste.

"The election should have been scheduled for November at the same time as other local contests," Sen. Stumpf said in his news release. "The extra cost for printing and hiring judges for an early election makes no sense. After all, the next legislative session does not start until February of 1994."

Sen. Stumpf should be among the last to infer that a legislator's work is done entirely during the days of the session. There is much to be learned by a legislator—perhaps especially by a first-time legislator—during the interim period between sessions or, in this case, the time before the next session.

We don't think the senator was admitting in his news release that he has nothing to do in a legislative role from the middle of May to the middle of January. That would put a whole different light on compensation of legislators. We would say it is probably worth the cost of the $25,000 special election to have a representative somewhat prepared to represent the people of this district at the 1994 legislative session.

We would think that whether DFL candidate Joel Swanson or IR candidate Tim Finseth is elected, the winner will appreciate having about half a year to prepare for legislative service by becoming more familiar with the district, its people and the issues of concern to both.

One final thought in regard to the campaign. We hope that both candidates will stick to an emphasis on explaining their own philosophies and strengths, rather than trying to tie the other to either real or imagined shortcomings of the opposition party. This is going to be a short campaign; it would be a credit to all if it is also a positive one.

April DHIA report lists top herds

Top herds in the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association are listed in the report for April prepared by Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, supervisors.

Mark Honson herd topped the list with 91 per cent of the 54 cow herd in milk and averaging 79.5 pounds of milk and 2.84 pounds of butterfat.

Lyle Swanson had the second place herd with 88 per cent of the 40 cow herd in milk and averaging 66.1 pounds of milk and 2.35 pounds of butterfat. Mylo Carlson herd was third with 79 per cent of the 72-cow herd in milk and averaging 61.4 pounds of milk and 2.21 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 were as follows with number of cows, percentage in milk, pounds of milk and pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Dale and Sherri Rupprecht (Ayrshire), 5, 100%, 59.6 and 1.90; Leonard and Marge Geske, 44, 95%, 59.4 and 1.90; Steve Nelson, 56, 98%, 59.1 and 2.02; Bob Schindler, 47, 85%, 58.6 and 1.97; Dale and Sherri Rupprecht, 19, 95%, 56.7 and 2.25; Walter Bros. Farm, 134, 79%, 56.7 and 1.86; Hamrick Farms Inc., 82, 91%, 55.3 and 2.29; and Andy and Karen Peterson, 35, 89%, 55.3 and 1.78.

Number of dry cows in the herd adversely affect averages which are computed using all cows in the herd. There were 23 official DHIA herds and three owner sampler herds on test with the county association in April.

OSHA reduces fines against Otter Tail Co.

Fines of $43,984 levied against Otter Tail county by the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) compliance unit have been reduced to $11,474 provided certain conditions are met.

"The goal of our department is not to collect fines but to help ensure safe work places," stated John Lennes, commissioner of the Department of Labor and Industry. "We believe that Otter Tail county's experience will be of greatest benefit when it is shared with other Minnesota counties—helping them focus on safety and therefore help prevent future safety violations and workplace accidents."

As conditions of the settlement, the county must (1) hire a qualified health and safety consultant to develop appropriate safety training and reporting programs; (2) establish a county safety council; (3) hire a part-time safety director to work with the county safety council; and (4) share all safety awareness training and reporting information with all counties through the Association of Minnesota Counties.

Commissioner Lennes pointed out that annual workers' compensation costs for Minnesota counties exceed $15 million.

NOTICE:

As of July 1, waste haulers are required by law to charge a $2.00 Annual Assessment to residential customers. Commercial customers are to be charged a fee of 12 cents per noncompacted cubic yard on a monthly basis. This new tax is the result of the Governor's initiative and the Legislature, NOT the waste industry.

We have just (this week) learned of the new law and are required to implement it July 1. Please be patient with us as we scramble to comply.

If you feel, as we do, that this assessment is unfair, please contact your local senator and representative.

Roseau to host performers J.D. Sumner & The Stamps

Gospel Music Promotions of Roseau has arranged for a concert Saturday, July 10, in the Roseau high school auditorium by the gospel group J.D. Sumner and The Stamps. The program will start at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets at $7 for adults and $4 for children ages six to 12 are available in advance by writing to Gospel Music Promotions, P.O. Box 313, Roseau, MN 56751 or calling 463-1762 or 463-2528. At the door adult tickets will be $1 higher.

J. D. Sumner is listed in the Guinness Book of World Records as the world's lowest bass singer. Other members of his group are Ed Hill, baritone; Ed Enoch, lead singer; Steve Warren, tenor; and C. J. Almgren, keyboard artist.

The Stamps Quartet was formed originally in 1924, giving it the longest history of any male quartet. It performed regularly with Elvis Presley on gospel music during the height of Presley's career, appearing in the motion picture "Elvis on Tour" and providing backup vocals for Presley on all recordings and at all concerts until his death in 1977.

Now 68 years old, Sumner said he is lucky he can still sing correctly. "Tenors can last until their 40s," he said. "Basses can go on forever. I had throat surgery one time and the doctor said my vocal cords were longer than any recorded in medical history. I've had requests to use them for a hammock after I'm gone."

Sumner is critical of some evangelists who used their ministries to live in personal wealth. "If you know anybody who wants to give it away, I'll take it," he said, "but I won't use God to get it. We will let God use us. We will not use God."

Auxiliary sponsors blood drive in TRF

Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary will sponsor a blood drive June 30 and July 1. The blood drive will be held at the CNC chapel at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls from noon to 6 p.m. on June 30 and from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. on July 1.

United Blood Services of Fargo, which will conduct the blood drive say that the supply of blood is low in the summer. There are many reasons for this — vacations, fishing, camping barbecues — all things people like to do in the summer. Another reason for the summer shortage is the reluctance of businesses to sponsor blood drives during the time when they might be short-staffed due to employee vacations.

"We understand their point of view, Ellefson said. "Unfortunately, patients continue to need blood right through the summer, regardless of vacations or school holidays."

To make a reservation to participate in the upcoming blood drive in Thief River Falls contact the following: Sharon Odegaard during days at 681-6637; and Rhonda Joppru during evenings at 681-4423.

Peterson urges Clinton to extend EEP to Mexico

The Clinton Administration should immediately extend the Export Enhancement Program to sales to Mexico to "salvage" the wheat market for American agriculture and "send a strong signal" to Canada that it wants changes in its trading practices, according to Representative Collin Peterson.

Peterson was one of 14 members of Congress who recently sent a letter to President Clinton urging the Administration to extend an EEP to Mexico and other traditional U.S. markets to "ward off an economic catastrophe brewing" in the U.S. wheat and grain industries.

The letter explains that members of Congress recently wrote to Secretary Espy asking that the EEP be used to counter unfair trade practices of Canada. Specifically, the group believes Mexico should be offered an EEP wheat initiative. By undercutting U.S. prices and using its freight subsidies to offset the U.S.'s proximity to Mexico, Canada has stolen this vital wheat market away from U.S. producers. The Administration should immediately extend an EEP to Mexico not only to salvage this wheat market for U.S. producers, but to send a strong signal to Canada that it wants changes in its trading practices.

According to the letter to the President, this trade dispute began when Canada quickly captured 20 per cent of the U.S. durum wheat market, economically decimating producers in the Northern Plains. Now all wheat farmers are suffering as a result of Canada quickly replacing the U.S. as the major wheat supplier to Mexico, providing 66 per cent of Mexican imports last year. In short, the U.S. has gone from providing 75 per cent of Mexico's wheat imports to only 14 per cent in 1992.

While Canada's damage to U.S. producers has been extensive, it is not irreparable if the Administration acts now by extending an EEP. In fact, the Administration has more reason than ever to take action. According to reliable reports, freight subsidies will accompany new crop Canadian wheat sales to Mexico.

The giant loophole in the Canadian Free Trade Agreement (CFTA) allowing Canada to attach freight subsidies on grain flowing through east coast ports is catastrophic to U.S. producers. Secondly, most of the subsidized grain simply comes across the border on trucks into North Dakota, Minnesota, and Montana, bypassing east and west coast ports. In fact, Congress has heard from producers in the border states that Canadian wheat, because of the freight susidy accompanying it, is being sold to local elevators at 40 to 50 cents below the U.S. price. As a result of this dumping, local elevators are now declining to buy wheat from local producers.

Another major problem, noted by the group, is that Canada's use of end-use certificates, which are required to accompany imported U.S. grain. The extensive paperwork these certificates engineer effectively keep U.S. wheat out while Canadian wheat flows unencumbered into this country.

The Canadian Wheat Board (CWB), as the sole seller of wheat, routinely undercuts U.S. and world wheat prices to make inroads into traditional U.S. markets. The Canadian Free Trade Agreement ignored the CWB's secretive pricing practices, and neither the Urugray Round of GATT nor the North American Free Trade Agreement have addressed problems wheat boards pose to countries with more open marketing systems.

The implementing of language of the CFTA committed the U.S. to pursue consultations to correct these problems with the pricing methods and freight subsidies of the Canadian government and Wheat Board. However, these negotiations were never pursued actively and, as a result, Canada now has a 50 cent per bushel price advantage over U.S. producers in their own market.

The group strongly encouraged the current Administration to correct the problems and send a strong message to Canada.

NHL player Tim Bergland returns to TRFAHA program

by Sports Editor Mike Lundgren

Tim Bergland returned to his roots when the National Hockey League player stepped into the Old Arena to serve as one of the coaches for the first Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association Summer Camp.

A 1983 Lincoln High School graduate, a four-year regular at the University of Minnesota and a six-year veteran of pro hockey, Bergland was an attention-grabber when he reported for the June 20-26 portion of the two-week TRFAHA-sponsored program.

"This is fun," said Bergland, who has worked summer camps previously in Detroit Lakes. "I really enjoy it." A product of the Thief River Falls youth hockey program, the 28-year-old Bergland spent his first five years of his professional career with the Washington Capitals organization – much of it at the minor league level in Binghamton, NY and Baltimore, MD.

He was selected by the Tampa Bay Lightning in the 1992 expansion draft and, although he divided the year between the National Hockey League Lightning and the International Hockey League Atlanta Knights, he enjoyed being part of the hockey scene in the south.

"I really enjoyed playing in Tampa," said Bergland during a Wednesday interview in the Old Arena locker room area. "I played more than I ever did in Washington. In Washington, I was third or fourth line, a digger, a mucker. In Tampa I had a regular shift and played on the special teams."

But it didn't insure a full year at the NHL level - a goal Bergland set for himself when he headed to training camp in September.

"It was almost like starting all over again – going to camp not knowing anyone, new surroundings, new management," noted Bergland. "Personally I thought I had a good camp, but right after the season opened I got sent down to Atlanta. It was disappointing. You get mad, but you can't let it carry over on the ice."

To make matters worse, Bergland took a puck in the eye during an IHL game and missed almost a month of action. "It was kind of scary," acknowledged Bergland. "I had never been hurt like that before."

Once the injury healed, it took a while to get back into the grove, said Bergland. By then it was December and his 1992-93 season had not yet gotten off the ground.

But he was recalled by Tampa Bay in January and things went well. He had another brief return to the Knights before finishing the year with the Lightning.

Numbers dictated revolving door-type movement with the Tampa Bay personnel, and with Atlanta in the midst of a playoff race, the Knights were anxious to stock up with NHL-caliber players. Tampa Bay President and General Manager Phil Esposito was almost apologetic whenever Bergland was informed of an impending trip to the minors, and promised they would bring him back shortly.

National Hockey League skater Tim Bergland of Thief River Falls was one of the coaches involved in the June 20-26 portion of the TRFAHA Summer Camp in the Old Arena. The former Lincoln High School and University of Minnesota hockey player was keeping an eye on one of the players involved in the Squirts portion of the camp when he was photographed Wednesday.

"They kept their word," mentioned Bergland. "It was nice to know they weren't lying to me. Atlanta wanted me in their line-up," noted Bergland. "I got lots of ice time, and I did well there. It wasn't a bad place to play – they have a good program and great facilities (games were played in the Omni – home of the NBA Atlanta Hawks). There are some good players in the International League, but everyone has that kind of talent in the NHL.

And that is where Bergland wanted to be.

"There are days when you wonder if it's worth it, but everyone goes through that, no matter what you're doing," noted Bergland, "but hockey is still fun. A lot of people in the pros say it's a job, but I really don't look at it like that. I still look at it as a game, and I enjoy playing the game."

A strong finish in the final stint with the Lightning ended the year on a positive note for Bergland. When the NHL regular season ended, Bergland was promptly inserted into the Atlanta line-up for the Knights' IHL playoff run.

"The last month went really well," said Bergland.

Despite the solid finish, Bergland was left on the unprotected list when the NHL rosters were readied for Thursday's expansion draft to stock the Anaheim Mighty Ducks and Florida Panthers. Existing teams could protect one goalie, five defensemen and nine forwards while the two newest NHL additions each drafted three goalies, eight defensemen and 13 forwards.

Friday morning Bergland was still with the Lightning after being passed over by the Mighty Ducks and the Panthers.

"Last year I pretty much figured I would go in the expansion draft," said Bergland. "This year I didn't know. I'd be happy to go back to Tampa Bay. I think I fit in. I think I made an impact last year. I guess moving wouldn't be that big of a deal, but I enjoyed Florida, and if you move, you're back in that starting over situation again."

Bergland's off-season home is located southeast of Detroit Lakes. He keeps in shape during the summer with running and weight-lifting programs, and tries to utilize the ice in Detroit Lakes that is in place for summer hockey programs. A week or so before the start of training camp Bergland joins several other professional players for intensified ice time in the Twin Cities area.

Entering the option year of his contract in 1993-94, Bergland and his agent will be negotiating a new contract shortly. His current two-way contract calls for a higher figure for time spent at the NHL level, and a lower income while in the minors.

When his playing career ends, Bergland figures to get into business, his area of study at the University of Minnesota. But he also hinted that coaching might keep him involved in the game.

However, there is no thought of leaving the ice just yet. "I would like to keep playing as long as possible," said Bergland. "If I could play another five years, it would be great."

Mediation Center may be an option for disputes

you have an abusive situation. That party may well be intimidated and end up giving away more than necessary, so something is needed to protect that person's rights. Secondly, the mediatar doesn't necessarily, thoroughly, know all the laws and cases that may be involved in a dissolution," Murphy said.

Murphy said lawyers participating in the course were enthusiastic about mediation, a response which surprised him. "Mediation is probably the opposite of the adversarial system that's set up and I know that lawyers expressed some concerns about whether their client would end up being adequately represented, but I think that at least those that took it (mediation course) have found that that isn't true, that they are adequately represented and they enter into some good agreements," Murphy said.

Murphy said initially some lawyers were concerned about income. "Some lawyers felt they were going to lose income or that it was going to interfere, yet when they discussed that — most lawyers, unless you have very wealthy clients, don't make much money on dissolutions. They put in hours of time and don't get paid for it and they never collect it."

Thief Rives Falis attorney John Novacek said he was "just getting cranked up to start mediating." Novacek attended the 40-hour Thief River Falis seminar and a 30-hour general seminar which gors into more detail on mediation other than divorce settlements.

"It's very enlightening to see the (mediation) process. (I don't know why) it took until 1993 to start this."

Mediation sessions at the Grand Rapids mediation center are $65 per hour. A sliding fee scale is available for persons with low income.

The Grand Rapids center is funded by a private grant. Grond Rapids Cooperative Solutions director Cynthia Meiin said that the majority of mediotion cases which go through the center are resolved.

Cooperative Solutions is a non-profit organization, headquartered in Minneapolis. Exerutive Director McKnight said the original organization mediated the United States' first farm mediation case in McIntosh.

Cooperative Solutions is also connected with privote mediation centers lorated in the Twin Cities. Cooperative Solutions is planning to open more non-profit mediation centers in outstate Minnesoto, McKnight said.

The Northwest Minnesota mediators haven't decided whether or not to become part of the Cooperative Solutions network, McKnight said. Murphy said he was planning to meet with the trained mediotors in the area this month and act up the initial mediation program on a limited basis.

before you run out of money," the Minority Leader said. "The one per cent unallocation authorization for the governor would permit that to happen if necessary."

Saying that he would spend the remainder of the day "knocking on doors" with IR iegislative candidate Tim Finseth, Rep. Sviggum said the IR success at controlling spending is one example of the reason electing an IR candidate is important.

Another is that the concentration of legislative power in the urban area is primarily in the OFL camp, he said, and a DFL iegislator from this area would have his representation swallowed up in that urban power base.

The meeting was attended by both Finseth and his DFL opponent in the District 1B special election, Joel Swanson.

Following his brief remarks, Rep. Sviggum answered questions from the audience.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.

Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew... saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Warroad plans open house for new arena

by Mark Olsoo
Staff Writer

Warroad has almost finished construction of its Olympic-sized arena, a massive complex which lives up to the town's self-adopted title of "Horkeytown, USA."

The arena, named "The Oardens" will provide permanent seating for 1,454. (All but 225 of Warroad's population could sit In the arena, but with future plans, the arena will be abie to seat the entire town, plus 30.) Room is also available for hundreds of temporary seating.

Eight lorker rooms rest beneath the stands in the catacombs of tho horkey coliseum. Four rooms are designated for visiting teams and four rooms are reserved for Warroad's Bantams, high school varsity tesm, high school junior varsity team and the Lakers.

Currently the iorker rooms are bare, lacking lorkers and benches. Workers busily place final touches on the electricai system and upstairs, in the stands, a worker caulks the cracks between concrete slabs.

The rink surface has one coat of sealant and awaits a second. If everything goes as planned, the rink will be covered with ice by July 22, a day before the open house. The open house is Friday, July 23 at 7:30 p.m. and includes a program and tours.

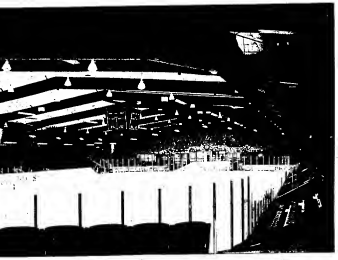
Hockey greats including six Hall of Famers and eight to ten Olympians will attend the open house. Some players that will speak at the event include retired NHL great Oordie Howe, NHL player Oave Christian (a Warroad product), 1994 Olympic hockey coach Tim Taylor.

The new arena will pay homage to Its home town horkey greats in the arena display area. The display area is already jammed with horkey trophies spanning the decades.

When completed, the display area will feature sports memorabilia ranging from pictures to a 4-seat spectator bench from Squaw Valley, CA, site of the 1960 winter Olympics, where Warroadian hockey players Bill and Roger Christian competed.

The arena cost approximately $3.5 million to construct. The entire project was completed by using private funds and donations.

The new Oardens will replace the old Gardens, a complex built in 1949 and used through last year. "There was a iot of tradition (in the old arena), but as far as a forility, its time has come," said Brian Schaible, facilities engineer at Marvin Windows and the primary liaison between the Gardens Steering Committee and the arena architects and contractors.



The refrigeration equipment in the old arena has been sold and the arena will be torn down.

The old arena had an ice surface of 85 by 185 feet. The new surface is 100 by 200 feet.

"I can't help but believe it will boost the hockey program immensely," said Bill Christian, vice president of Christian Bros. Inc., and 1960 horkey Olympian. Christian said the greater ice expanse would open up the game, increasing and improving the Warroad players' passing game.

"With the larger ice surface, kids that can skate will be able to thrive," said Mike Marvin, Gardens Steering Committee member and Pee Wee horkey coach.

Warroad's new $3.5 million hockey arena "The Gardens" eclipses other arenas in the area with an Olympic size hockey rink and seating for 1,454. The arena contains eight team locker rooms, officials' locker room, first aid room, skate sharpening room, weight room, a 44-foot concession stand counter, a "satellite" concession stand, display area, meeting room, manager's office and press box. More than six miles of polyethylene pipe curve underneath the rink, forming the refrigeration system.

Summer Salads are great on a hot day—Especially the ones that are sweet and tasty on the tongue.

VANILLA FRUIT SALAD

1 large box vanilla pudding (not instant)
1 small can mandarin oranges, drained
1 small can crushed pineapple
1 small container whipped topping, thawed
1/2 cup coconut (optional)
Bananas (optional)

Cook pudding according to directions. Cover and cool.

Add drained fruit, whipped topping and coconut, blending well. Refrigerate.

Add bananas just before serving.

(Salad keeps well and is best if made a day ahead.)

FRUIT SALAD

1 (7 ounce) box macaroni rings
1 can crushed pineapple
1/2 cup sugar
1 (3 ounce) package orange gelatin
2 eggs
1 can fruit cocktail
1 can drained mandarin oranges
1 tablespoon flour
1 pint whipping cream or large container whipped topping

Drain fruits and reserve juices.

Cook macaroni rings and cool. Add to fruit.

Heat fruit juices and add sugar, flour and eggs. Cook until thick and remove from heat. Stir in dry gelatin and cool.

Add rest of ingredients, mixing well, and place in refrigerator overnight. Before serving, add 1 container of whipped topping.

WILD RICE FRUIT SALAD

3 cups cooked wild rice, cooled
1 (11 ounce) can mandarin oranges, drained
1 (16 ounce) can pineapple chunks, drained
1 (3 ounce) jar maraschino cherries, drained and halved
1 cup chopped nuts
1 (3 ounce) package orange-pineapple gelatin (dry)
1 (13 ounce) container whipped topping
1 cup miniature marshmallows
Shredded coconut to sprinkle on top, if desired.

In large bowl, combine all ingredients except coconut.

Recipe serves 8 to 10 and will keep for a week in refrigerator.

Soupçon By Sherry LaCoursiere

As long as we're being different we might as well try this one:

BUTTERMILK SALAD

1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 cup buttermilk
8 ounces fruit cocktail
1 can crushed pineapple
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 (8 ounce) container whipped topping
16 fudge stripe cookies

Stir pudding and buttermilk.

Drain fruit cocktail and pineapple and add to pudding mixture.

Add marshmallows and whipped topping.

Just before serving, break up cookies and fold into mixture.

The following recipe from the April 3 Watch was wrong, so I am reprinting the whole recipe for you. A smart recipe reader called my attention to the mistake. For those of you who used 3/4 tablespoon brown sugar in your frosting, sorry. It should have been 3/4 cup:

MANDARIN ORANGE CAKE

2 eggs
2 cups sugar
2 (11 1/2 ounce) cans mandarin oranges, drained
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat eggs until light colored. Blend in sugar and oranges with mixer.

Sift flour, salt and soda together. Add to above mixture and beat on low speed for 4 minutes. Pour into greased and floured 9x13 inch cake pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes, until center tests done.

Four topping over hot cake.

TOPPING

3/4 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Dring to a boil and pour over hot cake. Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

COCONUT CHERRY DROPS

1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup flake coconut
1/2 cup softened butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup drained, chopped re cherries

Combine all ingredients except coconut, pecans and cherries in large mixing bowl. Blend well with mixer.

Stir in coconut, pecans and cherries and mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-12 minutes.

Patrikk Myhrer was technical director of Warroad Summer Theatre's production "Of Mice and Men," which opened June 24. He designed the sets used in the play. Myhrer is also director of the Middle River Community Theatre children's production of "Beauty and the Beast" in August.

Myhrer plans area play set

Warroad Summer Theatre's production of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" opened June 24 at Warroad High School Theatre with help from an area student.

Patrikk Myhrer, a St. Hilaire resident and a theater major at Northland Community College, planned the set for the early twentieth century play. The set ranges from the interior of a bunkhouse and barn to the side of a riverbank.

Julie Elick painted several of the flats for the play.

Troy Brewester directs the play, assisted by Anni Daedlow. Performers include Jon Grover, Lee Holter, Kurt Klicker, Jim Provance, Joe Olson, Amy Dieter, Scott Downs, Paul Elliot and Milt Arneson.

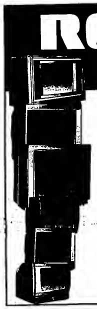
Sanitation haulers required to collect new fee as of July 1

Minnesota Department of Revenue notified sanitation waste haulers like Les's Sanitation Inc. in Thief River Falls that they are required to collect a solid waste fee from residential and nonresidential customers effective July 1.

"Proceeds from the fee will finance investigation of more than 100 leaking landfills," George Hoyum, director of Special Taxes said. "The fee will also fund Pollution Control Agency solid waste programs designed to protect public health, the environment surrounding landfills, and groundwater."

Residential customers will pay an annual fee of $2 per household. A residence is defined as a building with not more than four dwelling units; however, a home-operated business is considered a nonresidential customer.

Nonresidential customers include all other buildings and businesses, such as apartment complexes, churches, nursing homes, non-profit associations, industrial buildings and schools. The fee is charged each time the waste container is emptied and varies based on whether the trash is compacted or non-compacted. The federal government is exempt from the fee.



The new fee is not considered a tax and doesn't replace the sales tax waste haulers charge customers for collection services, Hoyum said. However, the Legislature asked the Revenue Department to collect the fee by including it on the waste-haulers' sales tax form. This way, only one document is sent, the hauler issues just one check, and the state printing and postage costs are reduced.

In an advertisement placed in The Times and Northern Watch, Les's Sanitation Inc. asks customers to be patient as they scramble to comply; and, "If you feel, as we do, that this assessment is unfair, please contact your local senator and representative."

Veterans Organizations Are Good Citizens

Veterans organizations sometimes take a bad rap because they usually operate clubs that serve liquor and as such have many of the problems similiar to other liquor-serving establishments. To the outsider who sees nothing more of the organizations such as the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion than who is going in and out of the club rooms, the impression may not be too positive.

Over the years we have worked in the newspaper business, however, we have come to know a lot of very dedicated, concerned, hard working and committed people who make up the leadership of veterans organizations and their auxiliaries. They have done and are doing a tremendous amount of service as good community citizens.

A most recent example was the naming of VFW Post 2793 Commander John Ellison and Quartermaster Ken Dunrud to the VFW's all-state team for 1992-93 for the second year in a row. The honor is earned by providing service, and that is what the local post and its members have done.

From the financial standpoint alone, Post 2793 in 1992-93 expended $42,406 to assist community involvement, cooperation with other organizations, aid to others, school and church assistance, safety, Americanism and youth activities. Commander Ellison listed these items individually in a report to the membership.

"What the report doesn't state," Ellison said, "is that the 186 projects reported involved 183 post and auxiliary members and required 1,681 volunteer service hours. It also does not include membership involvement in hospital visits, the color guard's attendance at veterans' funerals, the time and effort put into special events such as membership, dinner dances and such events."

"If you reflect upon the many post accomplishments, you should feel as proud as I am to be a member," Ellison said.

Examples of some of the post's activities include donations such as $500 to the Oakland Park apiary project, $1,000 to help purchase dry suits for the Pennington/Red Lake Dive and Rescue Unit, $200 to the Christmas dinner for the community, $2,000 to the Kidney Foundation, $2,000 to the Falls DAC for bus purchase, $300 to the United Way, $1,250 for co-pay of veterans' medical prescriptions, $2,775 for transportation to and from the VA medical center in Fargo, $2,488 for financial assistance to veterans in distress, $1,150 for senior citizen dances and $500 for Northland Community Hospice.

There was $200 for the German club's travel to Germany, $250 for various area prom and graduation parties, $750 for the Lincoln marching band's trip to Calgary and money for scholarship funds.

Support of youth baseball and hockey teams totaled nearly $7,000, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts received nearly $1,000, prizes of $210 were given in the Voice of Democracy contest, drivers education program received $500, gymnastics and skating clubs received $150 each and the list goes on.

The point is that there are caring and concerned people in these veterans organizations and that they are more than willing to put their time and money on the line as responsible community citizens.

We congratulate John and Ken for their recognition by the department and we thank them on behalf of the community for their leadership in a worthwhile cause.

No Community Fourth Of July Celebration Here Has Been By Design

From time to time over the years we receive a comment or complaint about the lack of a community Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls. "The little towns all around us have celebrations," we hear on occasion. "Thief River Falls certainly ought to be able to have one."

Well, yes, Thief River Falls would be fully capable of having a Fourth of July celebration, but there are a number of reasons why it does not. Several of those reasons are the small towns around us that are referred to by our critics. The success of their celebrations could well be diminished by a competing celebration in the "big town" in the area.

Moreover, Thief River Falls has been host to the Pennington County Fair in July for decades and the site of a major celebration at the end of July or early in August for many years as well. Once built around the river and water sports as the annual Aquacade, the late July or early August event later evolved into the Summerfest. Too many activities too close together would do justice to none of them.

And this year you can toss in the Cat Festival in mid-July and a rodeo with world class professional competition in early September as other promotional events that will require community and area support.

Parks in Thief River Falls remain open for public use during the Fourth of July weekend and families are invited to use them all they want. But there is a general unwritten agreement that the Fourth of July celebrations are left to our friends in the area communities and many from our town will go to one or more of these events. And we hope that many of the folks from our neighboring towns will come to see what we have to show them at the county fair, Cat Fest, Summerfest and TRF Stampede.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

The other day another interesting article came to our office concerning Francis Scott Key, the writer of "The Star Spangled Banner," our National Anthem. In light of Independence Day being this weekend, perhaps some of your readers would be interested in the comments concerning Mr. Key.

The article stressed how he was a man of prayer and active in his church. He even seriously considered giving up his legal career to become a minister of the Gospel.

In a letter to Mr. Key's cousin, the famous attorney wrote, "Nothing but Christianity will give you the victory. Until a man believes in his hear that Jesus Christ is his Lord and Master.....his course through life will be neither safe nor pleasant. My only regret is that I was so long blinded by my pleasures, my vices, pursuits and the examples of others that I was kept from seeing, admiring and adoring the marvelous light of the Gospel."

Perhaps some of our "lost independence" would be returned if more professionals thought, acted and wrote as the late Francis Scott Key did! The best thing that could happen to our present legal and justice system would be a speedy return to the Biblical principles upon which it was founded. Amen?

Sincerely,
Rev. M. Forsberg

Crop tours, pest clinic

Tours of the small grain varietal plots and a crop and pest management clinic will begin at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, July 15, at the Northwest Experiment Station's agronomy farm one mile north of the junction of highways 2 and 75 at Crookston.

Wheat and barley varieties, disease control and insect management tour will be from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. Crop and pest management clinic will be from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and sugarbeet root maggot control tour will be from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The crop and pest management clinic is a new event for 1993. It will be a walk-through tour featuring:

(1) Crop growth and development of six crops at various planting dates and population;

(2) Weed management, looking at production efficacy, injury symptoms and mode of action;

(3) Sunflower and dry bean herbicide drift symptoms and diseases; and

(4) Sugarbeet planting catastrophes.

Ten extension specialists and researchers from the University of Minnesota and North Dakota State University will conduct the tours and be on hand throughout the morning to answer questions.

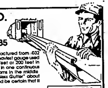
THANK YOU



I would like to thank everyone who sent cards and flowers to me while I was hospitalized in Northwest Medical Center in T.R.F. and Dakota Hospital in Fargo. To the doctors and staff of each hospital, my special thanks for the professional care extended to me. The personal visitations and prayer chains obviously helped in my recovery. My recovery continues at home and I'm feeling better every day. Thank you all for caring.

Ag meetings give wheat growers info on disease, aphids

Field meetings recently held in western Minnesota provided wheat growers information on wheat leaf disease and aphids.

The new research findings were presented by Roger Jones, Dave Noetzel and Curtis Nyegaard of the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

Jones' work focused on a foliar fungicide decision aid developed to help growers determine if field treatment would be beneficial.

Most of the fields visited looked healthy, according to the decision aid, but Jones said twelve to twenty-hour periods of wet weather increases the chance for leaf disease and prolonged cool weather favors powdery mildew.

Noetzel and Nyegaard addressed aphid management problems. Results of a four-year study indicates that early aphid treatment can increase yields an average of 12 to 13 bushels an acre. Noetzel and Nyegaard determined treatment is most beneficial when the crop is in tillering to flag leaf stages.

"Fields planted early are at low risk for aphid damage, but fields planted later are still at relatively high risk," Noetzel said. The lack of direct southerly winds, cool temperatures and significant precipitation helped minimize the aphid risk this year, according to the extension service. "It's still important to check fields regularly because aphid population can rapidly increase," Nyegaard said.

Field update meetings are sponsored by the Minnesota Wheat Council, Minnesota Extension Service and Agricultural Utilization Research Institute. For more information contact the local extension agent or the Minnesota Wheat Council office at 1-800-242-618 or (218) 253-4311.

Area crops in good shape, southern MN in bad shape

Surplus moisture in the county is not causing the same problems occurring in southern Minnesota.

There has been plenty of moisture, said Pennington County Extension Agent Howard Person, but it isn't a serious problem yet.

Person said farmers haven't been able to cultivate the row crops, but there aren't many row crops in the county. Dairymen are a little concerned because the first hay crop is behind and the second hay crop is a week away.

Small grains are shaping up real nice, Person said. There was some uneveness early on but it seems to have caught up. Pot hole areas are stunted but most farmers expect that to happen, especially if they didn't get their ditching done. There's also some new wetland legislation that affects pot hole areas.

The one problem small grains are experiencing this year is a result of what happened last year. Last year, there was a lot of lodging, which would result in a lot of volunteer plants. Many farmers were not able to have their normal rotation and as a result there has been a lot of spraying.

Overall, small grain crops are doing well. Person said that if the sun comes out soon, he expects to see a darn good crop this year.

Summer started out with some perfect days but by midweek heavy rains caused extensive damage across the southern half of the state. Many areas received 5 to 7 inches and some areas reported as much as 10 inches for the week, according to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics Services.

In the southern half of the state, saturated soils from heavy rains the week before just couldn't hold anymore water. Rain caused a lot of damage to county roads, eroded fields, and drowned crops from water ponding. Farmers in the southwest part of the state haven't given up and are still hoping to get more soybeans planted this week or to replanted drowned-out areas.

Minnesota's spring wheat jointing was 96 per cent complete, ahead of last year's 86 per cent and the 92 per cent average. Heading stood at 31 per cent, behind 1992's 54 per cent and the 64 per cent average. Jointing of oats is now at 84 per cent, behind last year and the average of 97 per cent. Heading is behind at 26 per cent; last year it was 84 per cent headed and the average is 77 per cent. Barley is ahead of normal at the jointing stage, reaching 98 per cent versus 83 per cent in 1992 and 86 per cent on average. Heading is 39 per cent complete while half was heading last year, both behind the 65 per cent average. Most of Minnesota's small grains are rated in good to excellent condition.

The first cultivation of corn is 20 per cent complete, far behind both last year and the average of 81 per cent. Average height of corn is now 11 inches against last year's 23 and the average of 24 inches. Under trying circumstances, over 80 per cent of this year's corn crop is rated in very poor fair condition. Soybean planted advanced to 85 per cent complete when it's normally just about wrapped up at this date. Emergence stands at 80 per cent against last year's pace of 99 per cent and the 96 per cent average. Height averages five inches while last year and on average, beans were eight inches tall by now. Producers have completed first cultivation of soybeans on 9 per cent of their acreage; this compared with 1992 progress of 66 per cent and the average of 62 per cent. Over 85 per cent of the soybeans are now rated in very poor to fair condition but as noted above, some replanting is expected. Sweet corn planting advanced to 82 per cent when planting has usually been completed at this time. The first cutting of alfalfa hay remains behind at only 67 per cent complete when normally over 80 per cent has been cut by now.

State farmers and extension agents say over 80 per cent of Minnesota topsoil moisture is surplus. Farmers were able to get out into fields for only an average of one and one-half days this past week.

Fire destroys building and contents Tuesday

Strong east winds fanned the flames of a fire that destroyed a metal pole building at a rural Thief River Falls residence Tuesday evening.

At about 5:30 p.m. the Thief River Falls fire department received a report of a fire at the Oreg Nelson residence in Norden township. When fire crews arrived at the scene a metal polo building used for storage was completely engulfed in flames. Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman said the cause of the fire has yet to be determined and the state fire marshall is working on the incident investigation.

Destroyed in the building were about four snowmobiles, two go-carts, a three-wheeler, a motorcycle, a mini bike, lawn mowers, a 1942 Chevrolet pickup, a 1970 Torino convertible plus other miscellaneous items. Chief Bjorkman said Nelson and others were at the residence at the time of the fire but did not notice the fire. A neighbor finally reported the fire. Bjorkman said the family probably did not notice the fire because the pole building was located about 100-yards from the residence and the wind, which was from the east wasn't blowing towards the house.

Post 117 ball club beats Detroit Lakes 17-2, 4-1...

TRF Legion sweeps Lakers

The numbers looked good Tuesday as Thief River Falls beat Detroit Lakes 17-2 and 4-1 in an American Legion baseball doubleheader at cold, wind-swept Irv Wilson Field.

Not only did Post 117 out-score the Lakers 21-3, but out-hit them 18-7, played error-free ball, and watched pitchers Marc Haugen and Jeremy Olson turn in complete-game efforts that included 14 strike-outs and just two walks in 12 innings of work.

All that added up to a 13-1 record for the winners. Detroit Lakes fell to 3-3.

A 12-run fourth inning turned the first game into a rout as Thief River Falls rolled to a 17-2 five-inning decision.

The winners sent 16 batters to the plate that inning to turn a 5-2 game into a blow-out. The outburst featured seven hits and three stolen bases, along with considerable help from Detroit Lakes: two errors, six walks, three wild pitches, and a passed ball.

Nathan Knutson, who had a two-run first inning home run, and Rick Ostby were both 3-for-3 to lead the 11-hit Post 117 attack. Carter Rogalla was 2-for-4 with three RBI.

Marc Haugen struck out seven and did not walk a batter, while three Detroit Lakes pitchers had opposite results with nine walks and no strike-outs.

Only hits and only runs the Lakers picked up off Haugen came in the fourth when Jaremy Kotta beat out a one-out infield single and Matt Horner hit a two-out, two-run home run over the left field scoreboard.

First three Thief River Falls runs were scored without the benefit of a base hit and Post 117 went on to complete the twinbill sweep with a 4-1 Game 2 win.

Scoring started when Marc Haugen drew a lead-off walk to open the bottom of the first inning, stole second, moved to third on a ground-out and scored on an error.

It became 2-0 in the second when Jeremy Olson reached base on an error, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on another error.

In the third, David Blazek was issued a lead-off walk, stole second, went to third on a single by Carter Rogalla and scored on a wild pitch. A single past third by Andy Peterson made it 4-0.

Olson pitched four innings of one-hit shutout baseball until giving up three consecutive one-out base hits in the fifth. But the Lakers got just one run out of it, and Olson finished with a five-hit effort that included seven strike-outs and two walks.

Haugen and Olson were both 2-for-3 to head the seven-hit offense for the winners.

VFW, Fergus Falls split

A pair of ten-run efforts wasn't enough to produce a sweep Monday as Thief River Falls settled for a VFW baseball doubleheader split at Fergus Falls in a late-reported Monday match-up of 16-year-olds.

Fergus Falls won the opener 11-10, with Thief River Falls taking the nightcap 10-4 to put the Rick Looker-coached team at 4-6 for the year.

Thief River Falls mustered only four hits in Game 1, two of them by Cayler Olson. Ryan Bendickson drove in three runs. Rob Stock was the starting pitcher; the loss went to Jason Hruby, who worked two innings in relief.

Adam Henney was 2-for-3 with four RBI in Game 2, with Hruby picking up two hits in four at-bats. Chris Vanyo went the distance for the win, striking out five and walking no one.

Bemidji tops TRF VFW

Bemidji swept visiting Thief River Falls 2-1, 6-2 Thursday in a VFW baseball doubleheader for 16-year-olds.

Thief River Falls came up with just one hit in the opener – a third inning single by Chanc Keefe. Losing pitcher Tim Barry did not give up an earned run in a three-hit effort that included three walks and three strike-outs.

Jason Hruby was 2-for-3 as Thief River Falls out-hit Bemidji 4-2 in the nightcap, but it wasn't enough to prevent the sweep. John Elizondo worked the first four innings on the mound before giving way to Hruby.

The two losses dropped Thief River Falls to 4-8 for the year.
